NYA Will Conduct Classical Music Fest For Good-Will Tour

The National Youth Administration for North Carolina plans to conduct a State-wide classical musical contest to aid in the selection of Leopold Stokowski's all-American youth Orchestra, to be organized in the United States this winter for a good-will tour of South and Central America. It was learned today.

This information came from John A. Lang, State Youth Administration to F. H. Holden, local NYA supervisor, who was asked to help locate accomplished musicians interested in trying out for this Orchestra.

The National Youth Administration will recruit from throughout the country the 109 young musicians who are to make up the orchestra which the famous conductor, Stokowski, plans to take on tour. Only applicants under the age of 25 years will be eligible; but both NYA workers and non-NYA young people may apply.

In order to help the National organization recruit the best talent, the North Carolina NYA is now making plans to conduct a contest of skilled young musicians in Raleigh during the early part of February to select those who will be recommended for regional try-outs under the direction of Mr. Stokowski.

Mr. Lang said young people should send all applications directly to him, care of the National Youth Administration in Raleigh. The try-outs will be open to all young people, irrespective of sex, color or race. In making applications, the young person should state the instrument he plays, his training and experience, and personal endorsement of his ability, as well as personal information concerning his age, address and present occupation.

The applications received will be considered by a board of judges, according to present plans, and applicants will be notified of eligibility for try-outs at a later date. All applications must be submitted before February 1, 1940, according to Mr. Lang.

Of this endeavor, Aubrey Williams, National Youth Administrator, said, "This is a worthy and patriotic enterprise. I am hopeful that selecting these youths through our State NYA offices will extend this wonderful opportunity equally to all of our talented young musicians, and develop a musical group that will represent the very best of its kind that can be assembled."
