RED CROSS TO HOLD TWO SCHOOLS HERE

National Aquatic Sessions In June and August Will Bring Hundreds To Brevard

Two National Aquatic Schools will be held at Camp Carolina, Brevard, this season, according to announcement received here from the office of Ramone S. Eaton, director for the American Red Cross.

First of the schools will be held June 11-21, and will be the second aquatic school scheduled in the eastern area. Second school will be held at Carolina

August 23-Sept. 2, immediately folowing close of the regular boys camp. Two schools were held last year in order to accommodate the large number of students who had made applications for the Brevard sessions. With better than 250 registered, the directors de-cided in 1938 that two schools would be held here so that more individual attention could be given the students.

Unique in the field of education, these schools offer Red Cross courses in recreational and stunt swimming, plain and fancy diving, water games, handling of canoes, boats and paddle boards, life saving, general water safety and first aid. The primary aim is to train young men and women in the art of teaching these subjects. For that reason faculties have been carefully chosen from the ranks of leading instructors, teachers and coaches recognized for the skill they possess in teaching others how to teach as well as for their enthusiasm for water sports. Learning by doing is the motto under which the National Aquatic Schools are operated. Under this plan, work, play and study are so interwoven that the able experience.
