ARE YOU A CAMERA

I'm an amateur photographer of sorts, though not a very good one, I admit. I had never snapped a picture before last summer and my first efforts were awkward and clumsy. I couldn't get my subjects wholly in focus. I took shots in bright sunlight without shading my camera. I became excited and jerked the view finder out of range before I had clicked the shutter. My fingers turned thumbs in loading and unloading the film, so that many exposures were light-struck and ruined. But I had a good camera and when I did get a good shot the developer invariably returned a good print. During those intermittent periods when I have been turning out this embryo column I have compared the human mind to many things. I do not know if you will agree with me or not; but, along with other objects for comparison, I like to think of the mind as a camera. Every thought you have, every conversation you carry on, everything you read, every sight your eyes look upon is taking a picture in the back of your head. Sometimes you pause and conjure up in your imagination scenes of events in other days. Perhaps it was only yesterday; perhaps it was years ago; but you kept thinking about it at the time until it registered in your mind. As the hours or years passed it sank into the sub-conscious, but it was still there and any similar occurrence would instantly bring it back to you. You can do two things with any mental picture you take, just as a flesh-and-blood photographer can do two things with the snapshot he takes in his kodak. You can mull it over in your mind (develop it) and keep it in the album for future reference; or, you can let the light to the film before it is developed and destroy it forever. That young so-and-so walking just ahead of you down the street—he made insulting remarks about the girl you keep company with. You bring to mind all sorts of knock-down-and-drag-out scenes in which you are the avenging sutor, meting out to him the two-fisted punishment he deserves. Careful, friend! Let the light get to that film quickly, so that the picture may be destroyed before it can be developed. You are taking a picture called Hate, which will be a source of unhappiness to you for the rest of your life. If you are building up in your mind a picture of love and kindness toward someone or everyone, take that exposure into your "darkroom" and develop it. You will need encouragement and succor in the years to come, and looking at that photograph you will receive strength to walk in the old paths—the paths of righteousness and truth. Everybody likes good pictures. Nobody likes bad ones. More important than the apparently harmless act of taking such pictures, is what the taking of those pictures does to you. Good mental pictures will develop you into the kind, friendly person you ought to be. Pictures of hate and revenge will make you bitter and sour at life. Eventually they will destroy you, body and soul. Don't waste your films on bad pictures!

RULES OF THE ROAD

STOP AT THRU HIGHWAYS

Section 120, Motor Vehicle Laws of North Carolina:—(a) The State Highway Commission with reference to state highways and local authorities with reference to highways under their jurisdictions are hereby authorized to designate main traveled or through highways by erecting at the entrance thereto from intersecting highways signs notifying drivers of vehicles to come to a full stop before entering or crossing such designated highway, and wherever any such signs have been so erected it shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to fail to stop in obedience thereto. That no failure to stop, however, shall be considered contributory negligence per se in any action at law for injury to person or property; but the facts relating to such failure to stop may be considered with the other facts in the case in determining whether the plaintiff in such action was guilty of contributory negligence.
(b) No person operating any motor vehicle upon any path, private or public road shall cross or attempt to cross, enter upon or attempt to enter upon any hard surface or improved highway intersection the said path or road without first coming to a full stop: Provided, that this shall not apply to any road entering upon or crossing such hard-surfaced or improved highway unless the road governing authority (whether state or county) controlling such highway shall erect on such road at a point one hundred or more feet from the point of entrance into said highway, a sign-board not less than four feet from ground on the right side of the road, twenty-four inches by twenty-four inches outside measurements, which shall be painted on yellow background with word "STOP" in black letters eight inches high, to insure warning of the proximity of the crossing and notice to stop said motor vehicle.

In plain language, the state law requires that you bring your car to a full stop at any highway junction or intersection marked by a black-and-yellow STOP sign.
