

SAYS WAR BONDS QUOTA IN COUNTY WILL BE REACHED

Closing Date For Pledge Campaign Is Extended For Period

SOME REPORTS IN

With a third of the reports in from the town of Brevard and the rural districts of Transylvania, E. H. McMahan, county war savings staff chairman, reported Wednesday that a total amount of $3,838.90 monthly had been pledged in the current war bonds pledge campaign here. The town of Rosman had not made any report as yet.

Mr. McMahan said that, based on the average pledges turned in so far, the county will over-subscribe its monthly quota, which was set at $11,100 for the month of May. However, he said, the monthly quota will be increased in the months to follow.

The pledge-signing campaign in the rural districts is being carried out by a special community committee set-up, while in Brevard the Kiwanis club, the Lions club, and the Woman's Civic club is in charge of the drive. In Rosman, the W. O. W. camp there is directing the drive.

The drive was to have been completed last Saturday, but Mr. McMahan reported Wednesday that he had been instructed by state headquarters to postpone closing the campaign until every wage earner had had an opportunity to pledge his or her support to the war effort by buying war bonds and stamps systematically. Probably, the campaign will be concluded by the last of this week.

Mr. McMahan publicly thanked all of the citizens of the county who have responded wholeheartedly to the pledge-signing campaign. He also expressed appreciation for the work done by the various organizations and the individual members of the war savings staff in conducting the campaign. In a final appeal to urge everyone who is able to buy war bonds and stamps, he said: "Let me urge that all of our citizens who have not pledged, do so at once, and you who have pledged, please see that your pledge is carried out completely."

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Lack of shipping, at present the greatest handicap to the national war effort, is something that can be solved only by time and hard work.

"People naturally complain about the delay in building ships," said the Senator. "I know how they feel. In the case of eggs, a hen can lay an egg every day, while the Maritime Commission can lay the keels of two new ships every day. However, it takes three weeks to hatch eggs, after all, while it takes at least four months to hatch out a 4,000-ton ship.
