All regular work, including courses in both Chemistry and physics, leading to the engineering profession, are being offered in the summer session which will close on September 16.

Dr. Coltrane announced that the civilian pilot training work will be continued this summer under Grady W. Campbell, head of the industrial division of the college. Mr. Campbell will have a quota of twenty students in his civilian pilot class. This is between 20 to 25 per cent of average rainfall for the year, based on comparison with past years, as approximately 65 inches is usually recorded for the year. June started out Monday to be a drier month, however, as the sun ran the thermometer to a high level for Brevard, and Tuesday a high of 87 was recorded against a 42 low.

In addition to the sewing for hospitals, there are also 143 ladies now engaged in knitting woolen sweaters and other pieces of wearing apparel for use by the boys during the coming winter. Some of the ladies have already knitted more than half dozen garments each, and are continuing in the work.

$27,677 BOUGHT IN TRANSYLVANIA FOR PAST MONTH

June Quota Set At $17,200 For County; All Pledges Not Yet Reported

Sale of war bonds and stamps in Transylvania county for May more than doubled this county's quota, reported Chairman E. H. McMahan of the local war savings staff yesterday, as sales totaled $27,677, which surpasses by over $16,000 the $11,000 quota assigned Transylvania. The quota for June was also given yesterday as $17,200 for the county.

Report of the pledge-signing campaign through yesterday, although incomplete, showed Transylvania citizens pledging to purchase $7,890.50 in war bonds or stamps each month of this year, Chairman McMahan declared. He estimates this campaign to be 80 per cent complete, with some pledge books still unreported from workers.

"Our June quota of $17,200 is $6,500 more than May, but $10,000 short of our actual sales," Mr. McMahan emphasized, "and we must meet this quota. Future quotas will be increased."

State Administrator C. H. Robertson, in announcing Transylvania's new quota, said that all indications are the state quota for the month of May will be considerably exceeded.

The Pisgah mills helped swell sales here for the past month by purchasing $10,000 in bonds, but sales from all other sources totaled $17,675 in the county. Mr. McMahan pointed out that sales far exceeded pledges, but it is believed many did not pledge who are buying regularly. He urged all who

MANY WANT SUGAR FOR HOME CANNING

Applicants Received At Ration Office In Elementary School

Hundreds of applicants for home canning sugar are applying at the local rationing board office here in the Brevard elementary school building, and many are having to be turned away because all cannot be accommodated each day, the clerk of the board, Mrs. Ernestine Davis, said yesterday afternoon.

The ration office is open from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 1 p. m. until 3:30 p. m., except Saturday.

Each holder of war ration book one may obtain a certificate to purchase five additional pounds of sugar for canning purposes, Mrs. Davis pointed out. Applicants must have the first ration book issued with them, and only place of registration is at the local rationing office, which was only recently moved from the courthouse to the elementary school. Entrance to the office is the door facing the high school building.

Persons applying for tire permits should appear at the board meetings on Monday or Thursday nights at 7 o'clock, the clerk said, but applications can be received at the office.

Some gasoline ration cards have recently been turned in, according to Mrs. Davis, as vehicle operators exchanged for cards of lower limits. The office is handling gasoline, tire and sugar rationing.

Leaves For West But Takes Tires

T. K. Chamberlain is leaving here tomorrow by train for Arizona, instead of in his 1934 model pick-up truck as planned, but he will not leave behind the rare tires on the vehicle.

Officials of the department of the interior informed Chamberlain, who is with the fish and wildlife service, that a truck similar to his could be found at a hatchery near Las Vegas, Nev., and for him to take the tires from his truck here and put them on the one at Las Vegas.

While packing, Chamberlain included the tires.

Rattler Killed But 'Walks Off'

Strayed or stolen—One rattlesnake with 14 rattlers and a button.

This four-foot rattler is wanted by B. F. Dixon, 23 E. Main street, who said he killed the snake Sunday afternoon, left the reptile at his front door, and it was gone early Monday morning. Dixon said he was with a party that caught five trout and killed four snakes, including the huge rattler.

"I really would like to have the snake," Dixon declared, "but he's gone."
