

Drinking Fountains
In connection with the public drinking fountain question that is now being debated in Brevard, some one made an interesting suggestion that if the town fathers acquiesce to the proposal, as contained in petitions, that they also construct at least one drinking fountain for horses and mules.

It was pointed out that many years ago—probably two decades—what was then known as the Brevard Betterment association, composed of leading women in town, raised the money for and had erected such a fountain. After a number of years, during which the need for it decreased, the fountain was demolished and it was never replaced. Now that gasoline restrictions may force farm people and others who frequent Brevard to rely somewhat on "Old Dobbin" for their motive power, perhaps a drinking fountain for animals will be needed!

Regardless of this, however, this column is in favor of the town constructing at least two more fountains for the convenience of the public. Four more, we think, would be too many.

An Unusual Advertisement

With reference to public services and public restrictions, in a recent issue of The Morganton News-Herald was a unique advertisement, captioned "Expectorating on Sidewalks Forbidden by Law." The body copy cited the law and explained that the "police department for the town of Morganton has been instructed to make arrests and the penalty will be imposed for violations of the law." That's a darn good town law. It prohibits expectorating or throwing litter on sidewalks. The local town board has not authorized the insertion of such notice here, but this column thinks it would be a good idea.

Wooden Soles, Maybe

For the hundreds of persons in Brevard and Transylvania who make leather, it is perhaps difficult to realize that before this war ends shoe manufacturers may have to "go Holland" and make soles out of wood. Believe-it-or-not, soles are already being made partly out of wood, with a little veneering of leather.

Poor Eyes—But Must Have Times

"I want to renew my paper," said J. V. Gillespie of Brevard, Route 2, when he stepped into the office Saturday. "I can't get along without The Times and I want it continued to me. Just notify me when it expires. My eyes are poor and I can't read any too well, but my wife reads to me and we both enjoy every issue of the paper."

Thank you for these kind words, Mr. Gillespie. We strive every week to put out a paper of a quality that Transylvania county people will feel they cannot get along without it, and we believe we are achieving a degree of success for weekly scores of people come in to renew and new names are being added to the mailing list constantly.

Little Things Count Up

Don't scorn the little things; enough of them make a great bulk. For instance, the Saturday Evening Post announces that by using two staples instead of three to bind that popular magazine 15 tons of wire are saved in one year. And that's nothing to sneeze at in war times!

Helped Negro Steal His Coal

Living over in Shelby is an exceedingly kind hearted man. One cold morning recently he cranked up his car and started to town. He had gone but a short distance when he spied a negro trudging along with a bag of coal. He offered the colored man a ride, which was accepted with alacrity. The man asked the negro if there was a coal sales place in the vicinity and was informed there was. A few minutes later he let the negro out and proceeded to his place of business. About an hour after he arrived, his wife called to say that he would have to hurry over some coal, that their 100-pound residue had been

Selica Couple Have Returned From Fla.

(Mrs. Ward Breedlove)
Mr. and Mrs. Crate McCall and son, who moved from Cashiers to one of Tom McKinney's cottages, and made a 10-day trip to Florida, have returned to their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Gillespie have moved to the Connetsee section.

Rev. L. B. Vaughn, of Slater, S. C., was a visitor in this community on Sunday.

J. P. Sitton and George Fowler were among the boys leaving for army duty last week. Mrs. Fowler will make here home with George's parents, and Mrs. Sitton will live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilly Fisher, at Quebec.

Mrs. George Orr, who has been very ill for some time, was taken to the Winston-Salem hospital recently.

WILL HOLD HEARINGS TODAY FOR TWO MEN

Frank Parker and David Price, both of Brevard, are slated to appear before U. S. Commissioner Alex Kizer this afternoon on charges of violating the federal alcohol tax law. They were apprehended Monday night by Patrolman Morrow and Policeman Gill Thomas, who stated that they found 5 gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey in a Pickup truck belonging to Parker. The men are now under bonds of $200 each.

stolen. The negro to whom the man had given a lift was the party who filched the coal!

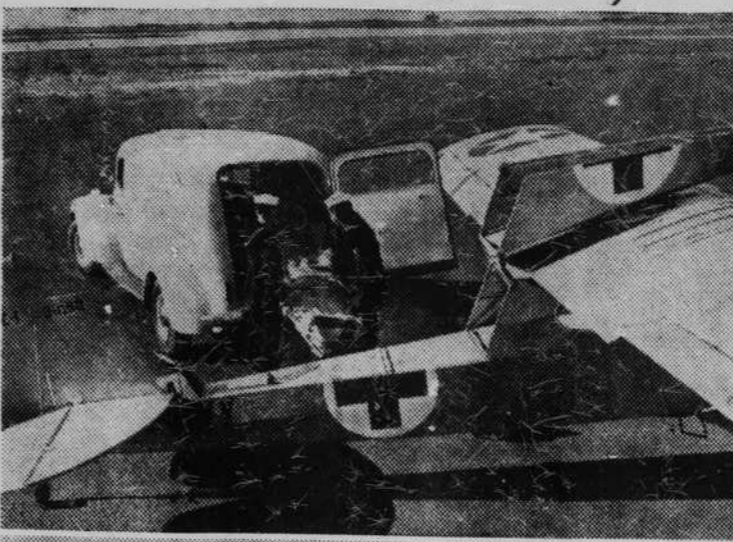

Words For A Song

If you can do without your coffee and not complain;
If you can do without your sugar and not go sour;
If you can walk to a movie or to the bowling alley
And not fuss, fume, curse, lament, criticize and swear;
Then you're a good American on the home front, old dear!

If you invest ten percent of your earnings in war bonds;
If you collect scrap, contribute books, and give funds;
If you do not try to tell the army how to run the war
Or the Congress and the President they're out of gear,
Then you're a good American on the homefront, old dear!

Navy's New 'Flying Ambulance'

An "injured" flier is given speedy treatment by one of the flying doctors of the Corpus Christi, Tex., Naval Air Station, before being taken to the base hospital in one of the Navy's "Flying Ambulances." The speedy, small, specially equipped planes are able to land and take off in limited spaces. The "injured flier" is placed in an ambulance at the field (top) after being removed from the plane. The doctor treats the flier (bottom) as he is placed in the plane. This is an official U. S. Navy photo. (Central Press)

Turkey Creek Family Moves To New House

(Miss Emma B. Orr)

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Orr have moved into their new home they recently purchased here. They formerly lived in one of Mr. Clarence Orr's houses. Their house was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Cox, who have gone to Baltimore, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Newton had as their week-end guests the latter's sister, Mrs. Mary Roberson and son, Fayette, of Balfour.

Mr. Virg Galloway, who has been seriously ill the past week, is reported to be improving at present.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Blythe, of Pleasant Grove, were Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Parris and family.

Mr. Clarence Orr had the misfortune of losing a fine milk cow recently.

Punyan and Tildon Holden visited Mr. Jake Parris and family at Pisgah Forest last Sunday.

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps is out to increase its strength to 150,000 uniformed women soldiers of Uncle Sam. Which means that American womanhood will write one of the brightest pages of history during this second World War.

PENROSE NEWS

By N. L. Ponder

W. L. Talley was ill Sunday and so his good record of Sunday school attendance was broken.

Misses Wilma Pickelsimer and Sylvia Lyday, students of W. C. T. C. at Cullowhee, visited their parents here last week-end and returned to school work Sunday afternoon.

W. J. (Billy) Middleton, who has been in army training service at Fort McClellan, Ala., visited his parents here last week-end and returned Sunday. He also visited his brother, Wilson Middleton, high school principal at Inman, near Spartanburg, S. C.

The Enon-Penrose male quartet sang Sunday afternoon at the funeral services of Miss Lou Simpson, aged lady who was buried at Boylston church. The pastor of Boylston, Rev. J. W. McGuire who conducted the funeral, and relatives of the deceased lady requested the special singing.

Mrs. Sula Cox, as reported, was ill last week-end. Here is another regular Sunday school teacher we hope will not be absent again soon by sickness.

The beautiful weather last week caused people here to begin plowing. C. W. Talley's man, Weaver Brown, surely made use of the pretty days last week. Not enough early plowing has been done. Arthur Griffin on Mr. Reeves' place plowed under his lespeeza stubbles over 2 months ago.

Mr. Gray, who found the purse and money and got same to owner last week, reminds the writer of another good-hearted friend who found a bill-fold in Brevard or somewhere, belonging to N. L. Ponder, Jr., and gave same to his Ecusta pal, Buddy Neil, who gave same with valuable belongings to the owner. The Rev. Bowman last year found a valuable letter with money order in Brevard and was kind enough to get same to owner, N. L. Ponder, through Brevard College.

The satisfaction which will come from personal participation in this country's great struggle is drawing gallant women to recruiting stations all over the nation as they realize how efficiently they may serve Uncle Sam by joining the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Every woman who enrolls in the Corps is taking a personal punch at Hitler.
