Plans To Defeat Axis Nations Formed At Historic Conference In Africa

PRESIDENT AND CHURCHILL MEET AND MAP PLANS

"Unconditional Surrender" Sought. French Political Problem Solved

In what is said to be the closest guarded military secret in the history of any nation was the 10-day conference held at Casablanca, French Morocco, North Africa, with the main participants being leaders of the world's two greatest nations, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Defying every tradition and in the most unprecedented and momentous meeting, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, reached "complete agreement" on war plans for 1943, as the world was officially notified by an international broadcast on Tuesday night. The war plans, as adopted, were to force "unconditional surrender" of the Axis powers, it was announced.

Practically the entire war staffs of both nations participated in the allied conference, which came to an end on Sunday, together with a press conference before a group of war correspondents flown secretly from allied headquarters halfway across North Africa.

The president of the United States flew across 5,000 miles of the Atlantic ocean for the 10-day conference with Churchill, which resulted in bringing together for the first time the two French leaders, General DeGaulle and General Giraud for the purpose of negotiating for a united French movement designed to put French armies and a navy and air force again into action against the Axis. Maximum material aid to Russia.

LEGISLATIVE HIGHLIGHTS

By M. W. GALLOWAY Transylvania Representative (Special To The Times)

RALEIGH, Jan. 25.—As is usual, the majority of the members of both branches of the legislature went home over the week-end and we meet tonight, (Monday), at eight o'clock for the session which should have been held today. When the vote is taken on Saturday to adjourn over until 8:00 Monday night, several of us who live so far away we can't go home, vote NO in a loud and boisterous manner. They seem to pay us no attention.

The bill to pay State employees what has been termed a "war bonus" seems more in the spotlight just now than any other bill. Next in order might well be the nine months school bill. Both will probably have to wait until the Appropriations committee has finished hearings on the many demands for increased appropriations before definite action may be had on them.

One other matter, small compared with either of the above, is a very urgent request by the Highway Commission that the

Rosman Boys Walk Miles To Attend A Movie Here Sunday

The ban on pleasure driving and the lack of adequate inter-urban transportation facilities in Transylvania county did not prevent five Rosman boys from attending a movie in Brevard last Sunday night.

The boys decided they wanted to see the show and so they walked—yes, walked 9 miles and it took them 2 hours and 25 minutes to make the trip.

"It was lots of fun and we got good practice for army training," one of them said.

The five boys were A. M. Paxton, Jr., Claud Stroup, Austin Hogsd, L. C. Hall and Scott Galloway.

Chairmen Of Infantile Paralysis Drive

Miss Roberta Bryant, left, and Ernest McFaul, right, expressed assurance today that the Transylvania county paralysis quota of $360.00 would be reached by Saturday night. These two well known Brevard persons have made an outstanding record during the past three years as directors of the President's Birthday celebration in the county.

County's Infantile Paralysis Quota Of $360 Be Reached By Sat., Chairmen Believe

President's Ball To Be Held Friday Night And March Of Dimes Saturday

With the President's Ball Friday night and the March of Dimes parade here Saturday evening, the two weeks infantile paralysis campaign through the celebration of the President's birthday, Chairmen Ernest McFaul and Miss Roberta Bryant today expressed assurance that Transylvania would raise its quota of $360 by Saturday night, when the drive closes.

Despite the ban on pleasure driving, attendance at the dance here at the Pierce-Moore hotel, via walking, is expected to be good. All tables have been reserved for the occasion.

Saturday the girl scouts and the high school girls will conduct an intensive March of Dimes campaign on the streets and in the stores here.

All coin boxes will be collected Sunday and the money counted. A series of bridge parties are being held in town for the benefit of the fund. Parties have been held already by Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Mrs. Walter Straus and Mrs. Stella Reed.

At the colored dance held here in the Burrell Motor company garage last Friday night, a total of $101 were cleared, Mr. McFaul said. To date the clubs have contributed around $50.

Victory Book Campaign Closes On Saturday Afternoon, More Needed

With only three more days left for the public to contribute good books to men in service through the 1943 Victory Book campaign, Mrs. John W. Smith and other members of the Transylvania committee today urged every person in Brevard and the county to give a book.

"In all of its war program drives in the past, our county has made outstanding records and in this important Victory Book campaign we want to more than do our part," Mrs. Smith said.

The drive closes Saturday afternoon and the books will be collected the first of the week by Asheville Citizen-Times trucks, carried to Asheville and assorted and sent to army and navy centers in the Carolinas.

Mrs. Smith announces that to date around 200 books have been contributed.

WPA WILL STOP HAULING SCRAP, OTHERS NEEDED

Special Arrangement For Individual Haulers To Get Gas Can Be Made

Effective next Monday the WPA will discontinue operation in this county and all over the state its scrap hauling project and all junk dealers and peddlers with trucks are urged to collect and haul the scrap in the future, James B. Vogler, state salvage director, announces. This action is being taken because the WPA has been ordered out of existence. For this purpose, arrangements have been made with the ODT to supply the scrap haulers who use their trucks exclusively for the collection of scrap material with gasoline and tire rationing privileges.

Special blanks have been sent to County Chairman Howard Wyatt and all persons who are interested in hauling are urged to get in touch with him and he will make necessary arrangements.

Last week the WPA trucks hauled a total of 47,540 pounds of scrap out of this county. This

18 GET DIPLOMAS AT EXERCISES AT COLLEGE TUESDAY

Ralph Ramsey Delivered Commencement Address. Honor Students Listed

"Success is not in having, but it lies in being and doing," Ralph Ramsey, prominent Brevard attorney and a member of the state school commission, told the 18 members of the mid-winter graduating class of Brevard College at exercises Tuesday morning.

"We can't fix our lives on possessions and things and remain happy because possessions, even human, die and things change," he said.

Emphasizing the fact that the whole world is aflame today and that young men and women are graduating now at a time when mankind's soul is being tried, Mr. Ramsey said he could not predict what the future would hold.

World To Be Different

"But I do know we are going to win and that the future world will be an entirely different one from the present world in which we are living," he stated.

Farm Credit Ass'n. Will Hold Meetings

Meetings will be held at four places in the county during February to inform the people with reference to the nature and activities of the Farm Production Credit Association, County Agent J. A. Glazener said yesterday. Two of these meetings will be held in Brevard and one in Little River, Penrose and Rosman.

At a meeting of the Asheville unit of the association held on January 9, advisory and educational committees were set up in the 16 counties served by the Asheville office. On the local committee Mr. Glazener, Charles Davis and Frank King were placed. This group held a meeting Monday night at Mr. Davis' home. W. H. Overall, secretary-treasurer of the Asheville unit, and J. C. Jackson educational director from the Columbia, S. C. office were present. Methods of informing the people about the operations of the credit organization were discussed and the community meetings were decided upon. At these meetings there will be talks by persons well informed on the subject and moving pictures of farm operations financed through the farm credit organization.

Woodmen To Conduct Rosman Garden Survey

County Agent J. A. Glazener Tuesday night addressed the W.O.W. camp at Rosman on the Victory Gardens undertaking and other phases of the coordinated food program. The camp agreed to make a survey of the town of Rosman and a committee is being set up in the industries there to gather data and formulate a plan to participate in the county-wide movement.

Transylvania Man In Navy Air Corps

Julian F. Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gillespie, of Brevard, who has been in the Navy for the past 14 years, is now an aviation chief machinist mate and is a member of a patrol squadron on one of the U. S. Carriers somewhere in the Atlantic. He has been stationed in nearly all of the Navy's air corps units in the United States and several foreign countries. Some time ago a ship that he was on helped evacuate the Americans and many prominent people out of Lisbon, Portugal at the beginning of the war.

The Times Wins A Trophy In General Excellence Contest Sponsored By State Press

SECOND SEMESTER WORK AT BREVARD COLLEGE STARTED

Enrollment Is Over 200. More C.P.T. Students Expected. New Courses

Second semester registration was held at Brevard College Monday and Tuesday morning and classes are now underway, Dr. Burt Loomis, dean of the college announces.

Over 175 students, 10 new ones, registered the first of the week and at least 50 more are expected to return and register by Saturday morning.

Within the next two weeks, 20 new C. P. T. students will arrive, Dr. Loomis said.

Several new war-time courses for men and women are being offered. New laboratory technic and dietetics courses are being offered to women and courses in electricity and aviation to men.

"We plan to add other new courses to our special war-time program as the need for them arises," he said.

Dr. Loomis said he was pleased with the registration, even though it is lower than in former years because of the draft.

Paper Wins First Place In Contest Among Larger Non-Dailies Of State

The Transylvania Times won first place in the 1942 General Excellence contest among the larger non-daily newspapers of the state and will receive a handsome trophy, W. K. Hoyt, general manager of The Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel and president of the North Carolina Press association, has announced.

The press awards program is sponsored annually by the state press association and of the non-daily competition, the General Excellence is the most coveted award.

In determining the winner of this contest, the following score card was used: mechanical excellence, 25 points; general and department news, 25 points; editorial page, 15 points; advertising enterprise, 15 points; promotion of community interest, 10 points and reporting excellence, 10 points.

The Newsworld at North Wilkesboro won second place in this contest. In the General Excellence contest among the smaller weekly papers, another paper published by Ed M. Anderson, The Allegheny News at Sparta, won the trophy. Second award went to The Cherokee Scout at Murphy. The Elkin Tribune won the community service award and The Williamston Enterprise the special edition trophy.

52 Selectees Sent To Camp Croft Tuesday For Exams And Induction

Fifty-two Transylvania county selectees were sent to Camp Croft Tuesday morning for examination and induction into military service.

Of this number, 8 of them had gotten married since Pearl Harbor and 5 were 18-year-olds who registered last June.

To fill the February call, it is indicated that several men without children who were married prior to Pearl Harbor will be called. A group of colored men will also leave in February.

Of the 18-year-olds who registered in December, none of them are expected to be called until the end of this school term. Questionnaires have already been sent to them, however.

Those reporting for examination Tuesday were:

SMOKIES TO HAVE AN INTER-URBAN UNIT IN COUNTY

Full Schedule To Be Announced Next Week. Committee Makes Plans

Inter-urban bus service in Transylvania county will be started next Friday, February 5, by the Smoky Mountain Stages which already operate a large number of through buses in this section, it was announced late yesterday afternoon following conference by leaders of the community and officials of the bus company.

The company plans to operate at least one large bus on a full-time basis in the county and this will provide greatly improved bus service throughout the day and into the night from Brevard to Rosman, Brevard to Pisgah Forest and to Little Mountain. Six round trips daily, in addition to the present bus schedule, are being planned.

An effort is also being made to secure extra bus runs from Brevard to the Rockbrook or Conestee section and it is expected that this arrangement will be completed in the near future, either with the Greyhound or McCall-Dillingham lines.

The movement for improved bus service in the county was started here two weeks ago by The Times, which pointed out that due to present gasoline restrictions, extra bus service was needed, especially from Rosman to Brevard and to other sections of the county.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, headed by C. M. Douglas, and officials of the two local units hauling employees of the Ecusta Paper corporation, worked out a tentative schedule and presented it to the Smoky Mountain Stages, with the view of using the Ecusta buses for the improved schedules.

However, the Smoky Mountain

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. DELONG

Well Known Brevard Woman Buried Tuesday. Ill Some Time

Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Brevard First Baptist church for Mrs. Kate DeLong, 68, who died early Monday morning at her home here, following an illness of several weeks. Funeral service was conducted by Rev. S. F. McAuley, pastor of the Second Baptist church here. Interment was in Gillespie cemetery.

Surviving are two sons, Roy and Knox DeLong, and one grandson, all of Brevard.

Mrs. DeLong, widow of the late H. L. DeLong, was a native of Transylvania county and had lived here practically all of her life. She was a member of the First Baptist church in Brevard, and was well known.

Burialbearers were Melvin Gillespie, Anthony Trantham, Vernon Fullbright, Charles Moore, Dean Whitlock and L. A. Farrior.

Moore-Trantham funeral directors had charge of arrangements.

To Hold Hearings Monday On Pleasure Driving Violations

Four Transylvania county motorists have been ordered to appear before the rationing board's gasoline committee next Monday afternoon to answer charges of violation of the OPA pleasure driving restrictions, Charles Davis, chairman, announced today.

A hearing will also be held at that time for another motorist charged with illegal use of gasoline.

The hearings are open to the public. These are the first hearings on pleasure driving violations to be held in this county. It is understood that there are several OPA inspectors in the area making checks.
