Large Florida Firm To Raise Beans On Transylvania County Farm

COMMISSIONERS AGREE TO RENT FOR THIS SEASON

Expect To Get More Revenue Than By Operating Farm Themselves

BEAN CROP PLANNED

Yesterday the Transylvania county home farm and buildings were rented to J. W. Johnston and Company, of Florida, for the spring and summer season, Carl Allison, chairman of the county board of commissioners, announced.

A fixed cash rental fee was agreed upon and while the amount was not disclosed Mr. Allison stated that "the county will be getting more in cash than we have ever had before by operating the farm."

The Johnston firm plans to raise beans on the 56 acres of open land on the farm. This firm has also rented a good deal of other land in both Transylvania and Henderson counties. In fact, it is understood that the Florida company plans to have at least 1,000 acres of land in the two counties in beans.

After the passage of the social act several years ago, the home was closed for aged and infirmed inmates, but the county has continued to operate the farm. Joe Bryson has been running it for the last four years and as a result of the rental to the Johnston firm, he will move the first of April.

It is understood that the Florida firm wants to lease the farm for a period of two years with an option to buy.

FISH BE PUT IN PISGAH STREAMS

Wild Species Becoming Important As Food Supply, Bock States

Twenty five thousand fish of legal size will be placed in the streams of Pisgah National Forest beginning about April 1, Gerald G. Bock, who is in charge of the fisheries station in the forest, said yesterday.

Calling attention to the sixth annual observance of National Wildlife Restoration week from March 21 to 27, Mr. Bock said that the commercial fisheries of the United States and Alaska contribute nearly five billion pounds of fishery and fishery products, the bulk of which is used as food. This important source of protein food, he stated, ranks second in volume, following pork and beef, among the various sources of animal protein. "In fact," Mr. Bock said, "fishery contributions of food and essential by-products are so great that without them the ability of the nation to wage war would be materially lessened."

Domestic Meats Short
With the present severe shortage of domestic meats due to the necessity for shipping such large quantities to our armed forces and to our allies, wild species provide a food resource that is becoming increasingly important.

"A deer or an elk or a pheasant," Mr. Bock said, "is a source of food and essential by-products that are so great that without them the ability of the nation to wage war would be materially lessened."

Miss Gladys Evans To Conduct Institute. Plans Are Announced

Readiness for disasters resulting from natural causes, expanding war industry or enemy action will keynote a Disaster Preparedness and Civilian War Aid Institute, sponsored by the Transylvania Chapter, American Red Cross, to be held here Friday night at 8 o'clock at the courthouse.

Final plans for the institute were completed today according to Jerry Jerome, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, who announced that Miss Gladys Evans, disaster field representative for the eastern area, American Red Cross, will come here to conduct the institute.

Mr. Jerome stressed the vital importance of preparedness so that prompt and adequate relief may be administered in the event of disaster. "If you are well organized and prepared in advance for any emergency, you have the jump on human misery and suffering. Once the catastrophe occurs, it's too late," he said.

The institute will provide an intensive review of the Red Cross plan of disaster preparedness for members of the local committee. Consideration will be given not only to the operation of the standard Red Cross disaster set-up developed through 61 years of experience, but also to the details of Chapter cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense and the Office of Defense, Health, and Welfare, Alex Kizer, chairman of the chapter disaster preparedness and defense committee, said.

Since Clara Barton's first relief effort in 1881, the American Red Cross has given aid to sufferers in more than 3,050 disasters and has expended more than $155,000,000 in emergency relief and rehabilitation. More than $100,000,000 of this total has been spent in the past 25 years.

Floods, fires, and wind storms account for more than 80 per cent of all natural disasters, Mr. Kizer said.
