

Plans Made For Drafting Of All Fathers In Non-Essential Work

Reclassification To Be Made Within The Next Three Weeks Time

Washington—Selective service headquarters is expected to order abolition of dependency as a deferment ground within three weeks, with local draft boards directed to reclassify nearly all 3-A, 3-B and 3-C registrants and give them either occupational deferment or make them eligible for induction.

On April 5, the 48 state selective service directors conferred with selective service director Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey and discussed the mechanics of carrying out the biggest reclassification job yet faced.

One Exception
Only possible exception to the extensive order may be men with children born before Pearl Harbor.

An important preliminary step is necessary before the reshuffling can be ordered. Under present regulations, all fathers except those with children born after Pearl Harbor and those in so-called non-deferrable jobs cannot be inducted. But Hershey is expected to lift this ban soon.

Here is how dependency-deferred registrants would be reclassified:

1. Married men not entitled to occupational deferment (now 3-A)—1-A.
2. Married men essential in present civilian jobs (now 3-A or 3-B)—2-A.
3. Married men essential to war production (now 3-B)—2-B.
4. Married men essential in agriculture (now 3-C)—2-C.

With Single Men
The reclassification thus would lump married men in the same draft classes as single men and would result in establishment of two fundamental draft categories—eligible for induction and deferred or occupational reasons. Men in 2-B and 2-C will have what is virtually duration deferment unless they can be replaced.

Manpower and selective service authorities have warned that dependency was on the way out as a deferment ground.

Prospects are that draft of fathers will begin in most states by July 1 and in some instances earlier. Selective service officials have said that the pool of available single men is nearly exhausted and they are now drawing heavily on dwindling numbers of childless married men.

When the new classification is completed, the augmented supply of 1-A's would be used to fill draft of quotas averaging about 400,000 men a month. If this group fails to meet the demand, 2-A's would be subject to call next and then 2-B's.

Grows Beef Cattle On Practical Basis

Many North Carolina growers of beef cattle are doing a thoroughly practical job in livestock production, says L. I. Case, extension animal husbandman of N. C. State College. C. W. Mayo of Tarboro is a good example.

Mayo has always kept his production of feed ahead of his number of cattle, Case said. The Edgecombe farmer has one old permanent pasture and two new ones, all of which have received limestone and phosphate. In addition to his permanent pastures, he uses lespedeza as a supplementary grazing crop, when needed. Otherwise, the lespedeza is cut for hay or allowed to produce seed.

He also has a silo, and a part of the silage is reserved for the spring, after his grazing crops are eaten down and before the permanent pastures are ready. This fills a gap in the feeding program, which many livestock growers fear.

Mayo started in the beef cattle business through the use of a registered Hereford bull on cows of dairy breeding. He still has some of these grade dairy cows and last year steer calves from them, born from January to April, sold in October for an average of $64 per head.

At present, he has nine registered Hereford cows and heifers of serviceable age and three yearling heifers, in addition to the calves at foot. He has sixty head of grade cattle of other kinds, all in all in good flesh.

LABOR DRAFTING IS SIDETRACKED FOR THE PRESENT

Hershey Says Induction of Fathers to Start In Three Months

Washington — Legislation to draft men and women civilians into war production jobs was shunted to a congressional sidetrack—apparently to await a green light from President Roosevelt—amid official indications that induction of fathers into the military service will start in about three months.

While hearings continued on the controversial Austin-Wadsworth national service bill members of the senate military committee said a decision on the measure likely would be delayed for at least another month.

Seek More Information
By that time, authoritative sources said, the White House is expected to have some definite information on the workings of the 48-hour work-week placed in effect in critical labor areas yesterday, and for the recent directive designed to push non-essential workers into war jobs or military service.

Thousands of draft-deferred fathers saw in a statement of Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey a likelihood that many of them will be in military service before fall.
