

PEOPLE LIVING NEAR TOWN DUMP MAKE COMPLAINTS

Board Takes Action To Have Paper Burn or Destroyed. Met Monday Night

Following up recommendations made by the state health department, the Brevard board of aldermen Monday night instructed Clerk Alex Kizer to have the town's garbage collector, A. J. Williams, to keep the disposal center in better condition.

People living near the town dump complained that winds have frequently scattered waste paper all over their property and urged the board to take action.

The state inspector said the dump is kept in a sanitary condition, but that paper should be burned and other improvements made in the disposal system.

At their meeting Monday night, the board revoked the beer licenses of Mattie Peerce who has been convicted of liquor charges.

An audit of the town's books was authorized and a committee, composed of O. H. Orr, Jerry Jerome and A. A. Trantham, was named to appraise the property that has been foreclosed by the town.

A resolution was passed for the town to sell certain small lots which were secured through foreclosure.

Russians Impressed With Transylvania's Agricultural Program

County Agent Julian Glazener has received from A. S. Fry, head hydraulic engineer of the TVA, Knoxville, Tenn., who was in the group that accompanied the Russian engineers to Brevard last week, a letter in which the writer highly commends Mr. Glazener for his presentation of the county's agricultural program which he made to the group at that time. The text of the letter follows:

"I would like to thank you for the excellent presentation of the agricultural program which you made in your office last Wednesday afternoon to Major Lvovich and his party. He was keenly interested in your explanation, particularly the part relating to neighborhood and community cooperation. Your foresight in having this ready to present and your presentation in a short time gave him a splendid picture of the fine work you are doing. He expressed himself as being much impressed with this while we were traveling back to Asheville in our car."

DAR HAS RAISED $3,500 FOR ITS WAR BLOOD FUND

Mrs. Silversteen Reports that Fayetteville Chapter Leads State

The Colonel Robert Rowan chapter of the D. A. R. at Fayetteville has made the largest contribution of any chapter in the state to the D. A. R. blood plasma fund, Mrs. Joseph S. Silversteen, state regent, announced today.

The Fayetteville chapter, which has a membership of 50, gave $650 to this fund. Mrs. J. W. Pendleton is regent of the chapter.

Raising money for blood plasma program has been the number one war project of the D. A. R. in the state during the past two years, Mrs. Silversteen said. Over $3,500 have already been raised for this fund, which is an average of more than $1 per member, she said.

"Blood plasma is one of the vital needs of the war effort and we are proud of the fine records made by the D. A. R. members of the state," Mrs. Silversteen stated.

"It is a shame that our great state does not have a place in which blood given by individuals can be processed into blood plasma and made ready for overseas shipment," she declared. "I hope officials of our state will do something about it immediately."

CANCER CONTROL MOVIE WILL BE SHOWN AT P-TA

Public Invited. Meeting To Be Held At Brevard Elementary School Tues.

A cancer educational movie film will be shown at the Brevard grammar school auditorium next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to which the public, and all civic and literary club members in particular, are invited to attend free of charge. The film is entitled, "Choose to Live."

The showing of the film here will be in connection with the regular April meeting of the P-T. A., and will be substituted for the usual program. It is sponsored by the local Fortnightly club, which is representative here for the annual cancer control movement campaign.

Mrs. George E. Marshall, state commander of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, will come to Brevard with the picture and will make a few remarks. Mrs. B. D. Franklin is chairman of the cancer campaign of the Fortnightly club.

WAR BOARD READY TO ISSUE PERMITS FOR SLAUGHTERERS

Permits Can Be Obtained From County War Board. Details Given

Farmers of Transylvania county and all other livestock slaughterers who slaughter meat animals for sale must obtain permits from the County USDA War Board in order to continue their operations, according to T. J. Wilson, chairman of the board.

Livestock dealers who buy animals for resale also must obtain permits by that date, Mr. Wilson said. The dealer permit regulation, however, does not apply to most farmers as a livestock dealer is defined as a person who buys animals and sells them in less than 30 days.

The permit orders are a part of a national meat control program recently announced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard designed to stamp out black market activities and bring all meat into legitimate trade channels.

Chairman Wilson said the County USDA War Board now has permits ready to be issued to farmers, local slaughterers, butchers and livestock dealers who intend to operate.

"I would like to emphasize that farmers who slaughter animals for home use do not need permits to do so," he said. "A permit is required, however, if they deliver any meat for use by others. All slaughterers, including farmers, are required to keep accurate and complete records of all animals killed. Farmers also are expected to keep records of all animals bought and sold."

Under the anti-black market program, all persons who slaughter animals for sale after March 31 will have a permit number which must be stamped on each wholesale cut of meat. Slaughterers who now operate under federal, state, county or city inspection will use the same numbers they now have. Other slaughterers will be given numbers when they obtain their permits, and will be required to use these in stamping wholesale cuts.

CASE OF WILSON VS SOUTHERN RR IS NON-SUITED

Appeal Is Noted. Mull Awarded Judgment Against Jaffee and Others

A non-suit was ordered in the case of Cleo Wilson, of Penrose, against the Southern Railway company, in the Transylvania county superior court here last week. The defendant, however, filed a notice of appeal to state supreme court.

Wilson was suing the Southern for $2,500. The suit was the outgrowth of a wreck that occurred over a year ago when a tractor on which Wilson was riding was struck by a train. He sustained serious personal injuries and the tractor was badly damaged.

W. W. Mull was awarded a judgment of $242.26 against Marjorie Segar, E. B. Jaffee and Mrs. E. B. Jaffee for plumbing services rendered.

In the suit of Vess Galloway, petitioner against Mamie Galloway, respondent, the court ordered that Mrs. Galloway was to keep their two minor children.

Kennie Craft was awarded a verdict of $225.00 against the Paul Revere Life Insurance company.

In last week's paper it was inadvertently stated that "Tom Phillips, charged with drunk driving, was fined $25 and cost." It is true that he was charged with drunk driving and that he was fined $25, but he was not convicted of drunk driving. The jury verdict was that he was guilty of reckless driving and for this he was fined $25.00 and cost.

Court adjourned last Friday.

SHOP GETS NEW OPERATOR

Mrs. Geneva Smith, who took her training at Raleigh and who has had seven years experience in beauty parlor work, is now connected with Ruth's Beauty shop here as an operator, Mrs. Mary Wallin, owner, announces. The shoppe's other operators are Mrs. Marie K. Davis, Mrs. Helen Galloway Huggins and Ada Lynch Reynolds.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that it will support the prices of U. S. No. 1 grade sweet potatoes in 1943 at $1.15 to $1.45 per bushel, depending on seasonal differences.

Of the oilseed crops, the goal for soybeans is 12 million acres, and for peanuts 5 1/2 million acres. Most growers will plant the acreage of cotton permitted, producing about 1 1/4 billion pounds of cottonseed oil.

THERE'S ROMANCE

even if she could get out now she wouldn't do it.

"The life is hard; it's full of discipline, regulations and study; of drilling and all that, but it's fascinating," she confessed and with a devout, far-off look in her sharp eyes, she said impressively, "something deep down inside of you makes you feel good when you stand reveille. You have a greater love for this great country of ours and for the things for which it stands."

Miss Garvey took and passed her examination at Fort Bragg last October. In November she joined and was sent to Fort Des Moines, Iowa, where the thermometer really gets down low in the winter time.

Life Isn't Easy

Along with approximately 10,000 other women, she took basic training for four weeks. "The basic wasn't easy, either she asserted. At 5 o'clock in the morning, everybody had to get up, clean the barracks and scrub the floors. At 5:30 they reported for reveille and had breakfast at 6 o'clock. From 6 until 8 was drill time and from 8 to 12 they attended classes. Following lunch there were more classes and more drilling until 5 in the afternoon. "At 5:30 we stood retreat and then we were free for the rest of the evening, but about the only place I wanted to go to was to bed," she said.

Every Saturday morning the WAACS hold formal inspection and full parades Saturday at noon.

"You bet, we really learned to drill and I believe our company could beat most male companies on the drill field," she said proudly.

The next four weeks were devoted to attending administrative school, studying all kinds of things that they might be required to do in army camps.

Assigned To A Camp

At the conclusion of the eight weeks of basic training, the women are sent to various army camps to work. Miss Garvey was sent to Fort Custer, Mich., where she has been stationed for the past three months. She is now on a furlough, visiting her mother in Asheville and twin sister, Miss Joan Garvey, here.

"At Fort Custer we have our own barracks, mess hall and do drilling and studying, as well as work," she said. "In the near future we are looking forward to getting training on the firing field."

Miss Garvey said a good many of the soldiers resent the presence of members of the WAACS. Part of this resentment, she thinks, is due to the fact that some of the boys have been replaced, while others prefer to retain complete masculine occupation.

"As a whole, most of the girls can take it. Very few of them fall out and for the most part, they are happy, but the life of a WAAC has its ups and downs, too."

Miss Garvey said she planned to enter officers training school soon and perhaps to do overseas duty some time.

Charges for marketing farm food products decreased 1 percent for November-December and retail food prices rose 1 percent. Payments to farmers for equivalent products advanced 3 percent.
