Becoming Blouses

Feminine and becoming.

By VERA WINSTON

BLOUSES will be softer this season and even the severe tailor-made shirt has some feminine touches. Although the first model has a casual turn-back collar it is frilly with ruffles. Of white crepe, it has red eyelet embroidery to add interest to the ruffling. The other model is an utterly simple white pique and is softened by the perky fish-net bow which is edged in pique. It has a high round neck and narrow band down the front with white pearl buttoned closing.

As To Romance
An interesting survey was made recently by certain bewildered males in an attempt to find out which is the more romantic of the species—the male or the female—and if it is the female who eventually brings the action around to the romantic angle.

According to a statement once made by George Bernard Shaw, "Women do all the courting and every married man is the victim of some astute husband-hunter." But going back to the survey and its results, here are some of the answers received in questionnaires mailed out to several hundred romanticists: "The extent of a girl's love is never adequately known—you have to take her word and even then you face many chances." "When I ask her point blank if she loves me, she says that she does, but it never occurs to her to volunteer that information." "I have to do all the courting, and although she is receptive, she gives the impression of being quite indifferent." "Love cannot exist and endure unless it is sponsored and nurtured and I cannot remain as I am unless I am convinced in my own mind that my pleadings do not fall on deaf ears." "How can I be sure that she loves me when she fails to make any manifestation of it?" "About the only practical test that I can suggest for gauging how much one cares for you is how much he or she seems to enjoy your company, and how anxious he or she is to put your pleasure and happiness before his or her own."

SHOWER-TEA HONORS RECENT BRIDE
A miscellaneous shower and tea was given by Miss Roberta Bryant last Monday afternoon from four-thirty to five-thirty at the Walnut Inn, honoring Mrs. Ralph S. Monaghan, recent bride, of Greenville, S. C., formerly Miss Bert Wilkerson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilkerson, of Brevard.

The guest list included a few Brevard friends and college mates of the honoree of Furman University and other Greenville friends.

HOMEDEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS HELPFUL DISCUSSION
"Clean To Save" was the demonstration given at the April meeting of the Home Demonstration club on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. A. Bullock.

Miss Annabel Teague, home demonstration agent, gave the demonstration and presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Julian Glazener. Mrs. Ralph Fisher, a new member, assisted Mrs. Bullock in serving refreshments.

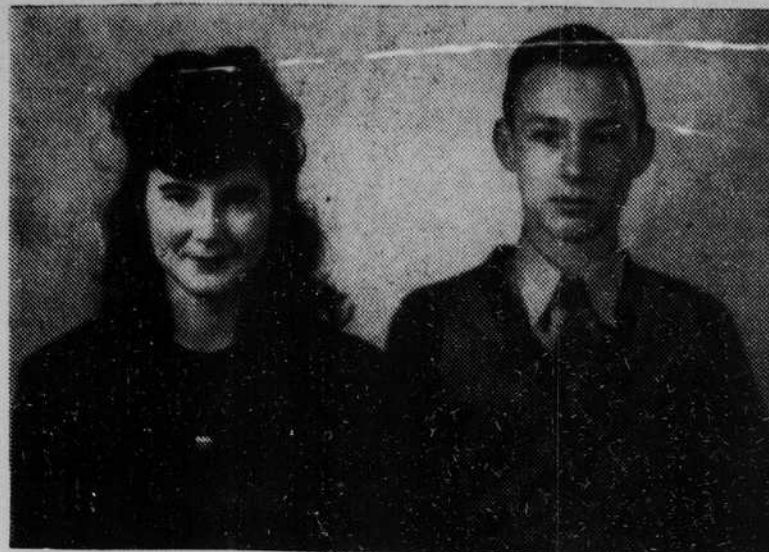

HIGH SCHOOL YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE ENJOYABLE PARTY
Mrs. F. C. Hunter entertained at her home last Tuesday night with a party, honoring her son, John Hunter, on the occasion of his birthday.

Various games and refreshments featured the enjoyable event.

Those present were: Ruth Osborne, Frances Walker, Connie Pipkins, Jane Walker, Harold Meyer, Ray Simpson, Stella Gaither, Dot Wilson, Jean Hardin, Faye Dean Martindale, Llalet Simpson, Jack Wiley and Bradley Wyatt.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO RESUME SUNDAY EVENING SERVICES
The regular Sunday evening young people's vesper services of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches will be resumed this Sunday evening at the Hut at 7 o'clock, it has been announced by the leader, Mrs. Ashby Johnson. The meeting was not held last Sunday due to the conflict with the high school commencement exercises.

Her Solution

There was a young woman Who lived in a stew. She had so many lovers She didn't know what to do. So she lined them all up in a row And counted them off, Eeny, meeny, miney, mo.

Household Hints

Ice cubes in an electric refrigerator freeze more rapidly if the bottoms of the trays are damp. If garments are stained with pencil marks, rub the marks with an eraser, then wash with soap and water. If the material is washable; if it is not, sponge with a good dry cleaner. Wipe the burners of your electric stove frequently with paper or a cloth. If food boils over, it may be necessary to wash the burners with soap or baking soda and water. Save the outer leaves of cabbage and lettuce and use them to season soups, stews or casseroles. These outer leaves may also be cooked with canned peas for fresh-pea flavor. Heavy staining will cover up the natural beauty of grain and color of wood. In refinishing furniture, then, do not stain wood unless a richer color is wanted, or unless the surface is unattractive.

About Peanuts

Did you know that peanuts are high in food value and are cheap, and thus make a good substitute for meat, which is expensive in both money and ration points? Since peanuts are cheap and plentiful and nutritious we should use them often, both the nuts and in peanut butter. They are excellent foods, containing protein and vitamins, and so fit them into your menu lists. Keep peanut butter on hand and use it as a spread for bread, as shortening for cookies and breads, and in various other ways. Will give you a good recipe for peanut butter cookies next time.

Rare Entertainment Featured At Ecusta's "Fun Festival" Last Fri.

Other Parties For Employees Are Planned. John Eversman Is In Charge

The recreation department of the Ecusta Paper corporation has planned a series of entertainments for employees, wives and sweethearts and the first one of these events was staged last Friday night in the Cafeteria.

The entertainment was called a "Fun Festival and Square Dance" and over 300 persons attended. Every one had an enjoyable time and the event was described as being an outstanding success.

During the Fun Festival, side-splitting entertainment, under the direction of John Eversman and featuring the Ecusta band and local employee-talent, was presented.

As master of ceremonies, Mr. Eversman displayed unusual ability. In a unique novelty act, Tom Allen and Slim Bullock, as mother and baby, were highly applauded, but the real highlight was a ballet performance, featuring the exotic and glamorously dressed Tony Rhodes, Hank Newbury, D. J. Luther, Gimmie Wood, A. P. Lance and Oliver Vailancourt. Wood won the coveted award for being the most enchanting member of the ballet.

Two star members of the band, Goode Loftis and Mrs. Lita Steppe, rendered two special musical selections. These two stars were charmingly clad in rather ancient, aristocratic, sophisticated costumes.

The band, with the men dressed in overalls and the women in gingham dresses, played a number of popular selections under the direction of Mr. Eversman. Before and after the "fun festival" performance, square dancing was enjoyed. It was announced that a

A FINAL MEETING OF CUB PARENTS TO BE HELD WED.

All Parents Interested In Having Their Boys Join Troops Should Attend

A fourth and final meeting of all parents who are interested in having their sons become members of cub troops, a division of the Boy Scout movement for young boys between the ages of 9 and 12, will be held next Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock at the city hall here.

The third meeting of the series was held last night and representatives from Asheville attended. They also plan to be here next Wednesday night.

Frank Kerber, chairman of the district cubbing committee, urges all parents who want their boys to have this fine training, to attend the last meeting. In order for boys to be eligible to join, parents must attend, it is pointed out. A good attendance was reported last night and the two previous weeks.
