MAKING SURVEY OF FARM LABOR NEED IN COUNTY

More Workers Needed To Thin Corn, Put Up Hay And Harvest Crops

The Transylvania county farm labor committee is now making a complete survey to determine how much additional labor will be needed to cultivate and harvest the crops in the county, Julian Glazener announces.

The survey will show conditions in every neighborhood in the county.

According to present observations, extra labor will be needed for thinning corn, putting up hay, picking beans and harvesting potatoes.

Plans provide for the use of high school students to do some of this work.

To harvest beans and potatoes, however, the county may need some outside of the county labor.

Tentative plans provide for the establishment of two labor camps in Henderson county and it is expected that this county will draw from the proposed camp at Mills River.

The abandoned state prison camp in this county may also be used to house some of the labor.

A district meeting to determine the labor needs was held at Waynesville yesterday.

An amateur program will be given at the W. O. W. hall here Thursday night, May 13, at 8 o'clock.

Prizes will be given to the best performers and all amateurs who have any special program are invited to participate in the contest, Paul Pipkin announces.

This will be an open meeting for Woodmen and their families, members of the Woodmen circle and friends of those taking part on the program.
