

Seven Brevard Men Buy 3000 Acres Land Near Rosman

SEVEN PROMINENT BREVARD MEN BUY LAND FROM GUYER

Future Plans Are Not Definite. New Owners Have Varying Ideas

Seven prominent Brevard business and professional men have purchased 3,000 acres of land in the Eastatoe township on the Rosman-Pickens highway, from H. E. Guyer, it was learned today.

The purchase price of this beautifully located and valuable property was not disclosed, but it is understood to be around $15,000.

The seven men are John Ford, E. H. McMahan, W. M. Melton, Bryan Shifflet, Rev. B. W. Thomason, Alex Patterson and Joe H. Tinsley.

These men, who seem to be forming a new real estate syndicate, have not made any definite plans for development. "In fact, some of them haven't seen the property yet," one of the purchasers declared.

Some of them may have a "get-rich" idea, but apparently the majority of the unincorporated firm's members are more interested in some of the property's attractions.

"It's the most beautiful spot in the world," one of them asserted. "There are several breath-taking waterfalls on the property, seven and a half miles of good trout fishing streams, fine apple orchards, rolling grasslands, a large home and a number of other buildings." After catching his breath, the one-seventh owner renewed his verbal praise of the property. "Those are the finest trout streams you ever saw and we are going to put 100,000 fish in them right away," he proudly said.

Representing the less aesthetic and more monetary side of the 7-man ownership, another firm member pointed out that there are a million feet of good timber on the property and a vast area of virgin forest. "And another thing," he declared, "this fine land is located only three miles from Rosman and it borders the Pickens highway for a distance of over three and a half miles, and includes many ideal building sites."

"The Middle Fork of the French Broad rises on our property and you should see those beautiful waterfalls, but what appeals to me most is that it will make a fine sheep and livestock farm," another owner said enthusiastically.

"No, I am not a bit delighted over the purchase," one of the wives asserted. "My husband has been telling and showing me what a fine place it would make for a summer home, but I can't see it."

Before any definite development plans can be made, it appears that the seven firm members will have to hold a meeting and talk the situation over. It might be well for them to have their wives present. Will they promote a new development or will they make it a recreation center? That seems to Night Services At Mt. Moriah Calvert Church Start Sun.

A series of night services at the Mount Moriah Calvert Baptist church will start this Sunday night at 8 o'clock, Rev. W. S. Price, pastor, announces.

"In order to make a success of these services, it will require the co-operation of every member," Mr. Price said.

"The greatest need of the hour is that all Christians stand by their churches and support the services with their prayers and their presence.

"In this world crisis more depends on divine help than from any other source," he said. "We must make first things first in order to merit divine help in this time of need.

"The church is the appointed place where God meets His people and where His people get a blessing."

be the question.

"I think it's fine to have a Baptist preacher, two merchants, real estate dealer, mill and theatre operators as partners, but it's too bad we have one Kiwanian in the firm when all of the others are Lions," Mr. McMahan, who is president of the local Lions club, said.

"That would make an ideal place for a week-end cabin party," a friend suggested to one of the owners. "Yes, it certainly would, but you know Mr. Thomason is one of the owners and we have to take that into consideration," he said in reply.

Stopping The Times reporter who was hurrying down the street, an owner urged, "Jump in the car and we'll drive up there right now and see this property; I'll take you by the office and we'll make a lot of pictures."

H. E. Guyer, who came down here from Pittsburgh, Pa., a number of years ago, bought the land and operated a sheep ranch on it for some time. He and his wife have been living on it since then and they have retained a small section on which they plan to continue to live. They paid, it is stated, $30,000 for property.

Real estate dealer Tinsley is credited with promoting the big deal.

Paper Highly Lauded By Quebec Resident

By T. C. Henderson

While visiting in one section of Quebec community to secure some items of local news, I was very much interested in a statement one person made in regard to our county paper. He said, "The present management sure is giving us an excellent county paper with every issue containing almost enough interesting material to pay one for a full year's subscription." We knew him to be a man of excellent judgment.

After the closing of the schools, Miss Helen Henderson went to South Carolina and spent some time with her aunt, Mrs. Nora Hester, who was seriously ill. Recently Miss Hester died and Miss Henderson returned to her home here. She is expecting to return to South Carolina in a few days to spend a part of the summer with relatives there.
