

Town And Farm In Wartime

OCR To Supply Farmers Needs

The War Production Board's newly-created Office of Civilian Requirements has worked out an emergency farmers supply program which will quickly make available to farmers in the State some 50 items essential in the production of food. The procedure will enable a farmer to buy reasonable amounts of needed items directly from his dealer without complicated forms. Materials to be made available under the program include adjustable wrenches, agricultural forks, auger bits, barbed wire, clevises, dehorning saws, fence pliers garden hoes, batteries, motors, grain scoops, grease guns, harness hardware, horse collars, nails, neck yokes, poultry netting, cold chisels, hog rings, knives, and many other products.

Farmers First For Gas

Any person in the State using gasoline for non-highway farm purposes will be given preference by a recent order of the Petroleum Administrator. The requirements of any person who presents valid E, R, or bulk coupons for motor fuel for non-highway farm uses will receive first consideration by all suppliers. A 10-day inventory restriction on fuel oil has also been removed, to permit stocks to be built up in preparation for next winter.

Used Inner Tubes Are Ration-Free

Used inner tubes for passenger car or truck tires can now be purchased without a ration certificate. All rationing regulations have been removed on used tubes to help conserve the supply of new ones.

Stoves To Be Rationed

Rationing of six types of stoves (including laundry stoves, but excluding water heaters) will begin late in June. They include coal or wood, oil, and gas cooking stoves. After the plan becomes effective, you must have a purchase certificate from your ration board to buy a stove. Certificates will be issued on the basis of need.

Meat Processed Without Points

Tar Heel farmers and consumers are permitted to have meats and fats smoked, cured, rendered, frozen, packaged or otherwise processed, by a recent OPA amendment to rationing regulations. No points need to be transferred, but the processor must keep adequate records.

Stop Egg Shortage

No more shell eggs can be kept in storage after June 15, the War Food Administration says, except to fill Government contracts, or for a small "working inventory." Putting eggs in storage has been prohibited since May 20, when all eggs in storage were reserved for Government purchases.

To Renew Gas Rations By Mail

The State's car owners and motorcycle owners may renew their present basic gasoline rations ("A" and "D" coupon books) by mail. The OPA has not yet completed plans for the distribution, but they will be announced soon.

More Radio Batteries

To bring relief to farmers in non-electrified areas of the nation, production of radio batteries has been boosted to 425,000 a month, the Consumers Durable Goods Division of WPB has announced. If the present rate of production is continued over a twelve-month period, normal requirements for the 3,200,000 radios estimated to be on farms will be met.

Get 50 Gals. Of Gas Any Time

North Carolina farmers will benefit from a change made in Petroleum Administrative Order No. 4 which allows bulk deliveries of gasoline in quantities of 50 gallons or more, to be made at any time. This will be particularly helpful to farmers who drive to town after work and buy gasoline in steel drums of 50-gallons or more capacity.

May Adjust Machinery Prices

In exceptional cases where production of farm equipment is threatened, manufacturers may get an adjustment in their ceiling prices, OPA said in issuing Amendment No. 5 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 (manufacturers and wholesale prices for farm equipment), which became effective May 20, 1943. However, any adjustment of manufacturers prices will result in a price increase to the individual farmer.

BEEF CATTLE WIN FIGHT AGAINST BOLL WEEVILS

At Enterprise, Alabama, cotton growers erected a monument to the boll weevil but here in North Carolina, E. L. Ward of Edenton has built a fine herd of commercial beef cattle on a practical basis which any grower can follow, says L. I. Case, Extension Animal Husbandry Specialist at N. C. State College.

About ten years ago, according to the beef cattle specialist, the boll weevil caused Ward such losses that he decided to alter his farming practices and put in some beef cattle. Ward bought a few scrub cows, costing from $15 to $25 per head, and mated them to a purebred Hereford bull. Soon his pasture was full of "White-faced" calves and each year he kept the best heifers for breeding.

Today Ward has 40 Hereford cows and 35 head of yearlings. He practices systematized breeding and his entire calf crop is dropped during the months of March and April. He grows a large acreage of temporary grazing crops for both the winter and the summer, and this practice helps to keep his feed costs at a low level.

The Placards Say

Placards seen in various places "Don't buy liquor; buy Bonds. But if you must buy liquor, buy it here, so WE can buy Bonds." "Easy on the SUGAR. Stir like HELL! We don't mind the noise." "What with gas, sugar, tire, coffee, can and meat rationing, civilians are finding it tough. Help their morale by writing them more often."

GLANCING BACK AT BREVARD

Taken from the files of The Sylvan Valley News, beginning 1895.

(From the file of April, 1906)

We learn that Brevard is to have another bank. This is one enterprise that isn't needed half as badly as we need a brick plant, and will not pay nearly so large dividends. We have as much need for another electric light plant or another water system as we have for another bank. The banking business here appears to be well attended to by the Brevard Banking company — at least we have heard no complaints.

Tim Barton, of the Cathey's Creek section, met with a very serious accident last week while cutting chestnut wood for the acid plant. A limb struck him above the eye, almost knocking him senseless. He has been suffering intensely since the accident and it is now reported that he will lose the sight of one eye, if not both. There was no one with him he found his way back home by himself and has a confused idea of how it happened.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Allison and children are visiting Mrs. Allison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hamlet, in Asheville.

Mrs. Jane King is reported quite seriously ill with pneumonia at her home a mile east of town. Her many friends are hoping for her recovery.

The trial of Josh Crow and William Crane created a good deal of amusement in the court this week.

Miss Emma Mordecai, aged more than 90 years, died at the home of Mrs. Morrell last Sunday. She spent the last four years of her life in Brevard. The remains were embalmed and sent to Richmond, Va. for interment.

You remember what a fight was made against the stock law boundary, and how the tax to build the fence hurt some people. The law has been so beneficial to all that those who opposed are now trying to have it extended over the entire county. Many who opposed that law are now opposing taxation for a free graded school—and the result will be the same. When they have learned its benefits, they will be working to extend its provisions over the whole county.

It seems just a little bit strange that the same element which opposed the railroad is now opposing free schools. They have lived to see the error of their stand on the railroad question, and will most assuredly live to bless the voters who imposed a special tax for a graded school in Brevard. The News has stood for every move that has been made in this county for better conditions, and if its editor were convinced that the special tax for a graded school would fail in this district he would sell the plant or move it to some less benighted locality. But it cannot fail—there are too many children here who need the elevating influence of a graded school.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the early springtime took place at the home of T. R. Duncan on the 8th inst. The contracting parties were Miss Ethel Duncan and J. Everett Thomas. Rev. J. Calvin Hamilton officiated. Miss Ethel is well known in the community and highly respected by all who know her. Mr. Thomas is a young man of gentlemanly bearing, embracing most of the sterling qualities so much lacking in the average young man of his age.

Mandy—"What foh yo' been goin' to de post-office so reg'lar?"

Rastus—"Nope; but since ah been a-readin in de papers 'bout dese 'conscience funds' ah kind of thought ah might possible git a lettah from dat ministah what married us."

LUBRICATION IS VITAL

Good oil is inexpensive and yet it is more essential than high grade gasoline. It is poor economy to let diluted oil that contains parts of foreign matter remain in your crankcase, for such oil cannot do a good lubricating job such as all motors require to perform their best.

Let us drain your thinned-out oil and fill your crankcase with a grade that will lubricate your motor properly. We are also equipped to do a bang-up grease job for you. Drive by or give us a ring.
