Street scene: Bryan Shiflet complimenting the writer of the front page editorial in The Times last week demanding that congress do something forthwith to reopen the coal mines. Bryan, like practically everybody else in Brevard, is deeply incensed at the President for trucking to such thugs as John L. Lewis.

SELLING SCHEME FAILED
Local Lions are whispering it on the streets that Lion President Ed McMahan at the last club meeting tried to turn the dearth of gasoline in this area to an advantage. He made the disclosure that on a certain tract of land in Transylvania (in which he happens to have an interest) petroleum trees grow in profusion and that portions of this land could be had at a reasonable figure from another party, also an equity holder, who was present. No interest whatever men to take advantage of my weak mind."

He was assured that his caller was in no sense a salesman, but a mere order taker whose "wares" were so meritorious that his prospects, being sweet people with discerning minds bought freely and willingly of their own volition.
Whereupon Uncle Joe chuckled and bought—just what he was expected to buy.

AN ORDER
The officer of the day stopped a mess orderly carrying a soup kettle out of the kitchen.
"Here you!" he snapped. "Give me a taste of that!"
Obediently, the orderly handed him a ladle and the officer tasted.
"Good Lord! Do you call that soup?" he roared.
"No, sir," replied the orderly meekly. "That's dishwasher."

A CHAPLAIN'S VIEW
Often it is said that we are fighting this war to preserve the American way of life. An army chaplain disputes this and says, "Wars are fought now to save the well-being and happiness of the whole human family." We quote: "There is a human side, even to war. Let us not forget that. While the destruction of the enemy is an immediate aim, yet back of that is an ideal, a hope, a plan. A plan and a hope that once the enemy is out of the way, then life may proceed happily and harmoniously. A life that will include all human beings. A life not for Americans, Englishmen, Russians and Chinese alone; but a life for the Japanese, the Germans and the Italians as well. It is this life of human compatibility between all races, creeds and colors for which we are fighting. This is a life and death fight between the forces of human brotherhood and the forces of hate, tyranny and greed."
Inasmuch as soldiers whose cause is just, fight to make possible a better life for those who come after them, this army chaplain compares their deeds to that of the old man described in the following poem:

"An old man traveling on a lone highway
Came at the evening cold and gray
To a chasm vast, deep and wide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim
For the sullen stream had no fear to him;
But he turned when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.
"Old man," said a fellow traveler near,
"You're wasting your time in building here.
You've crossed the chasm deep and wide,
Why build you this bridge at eventide?"
The builder lifted his old, gray head,
"Good friend, there follows after me today," he said,
"A fair-haired youth whose feet must pass this way.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim.
Good friend, I'm building this bridge for him."

All Included Under Employment Order Now
RALEIGH, June 9 — North Carolina employers of fewer than eight persons now are covered by the employment stabilization plan that went into effect in this state May 15th. Dr. J. S. Dorton, North Carolina War Manpower commission head, announced today.
Originally the program did not apply to firms employing less than eight persons, but that provision now has been eliminated. As a result, all employers, regardless of the number employed, must conform to the plan in their hiring practices. The sole exceptions are the state government and sub-divisions thereof, employers of domestic servants, and employers of casual labor (15 days or less.)

POINT VALUE OF CHOICE CUTS OF BEEF INCREASED

Lamb, Veal And Other Meats, Are Lowered, However. New Schedule

(Special To The Times)
RALEIGH, June 9 — Preferred cuts of beef—such as steaks and roasts—will now cost the housewife substantially more red stamps, although fewer points will be required for numerous items of lamb, veal and variety meats, it is learned from studying the third official table of consumer point values for meat, fats, fish and cheese.

The new table became effective, Sunday June 6. The increases in the point values for beef, ranging from one to three points per pound reflect continued large consumer demand for these items in the face of lower production, the Office of Price Administration points out.
Consumers who purchase more of the lamb, pork, and veal, and variety meats, some of which have been reduced in point value, will be able to maintain their weekly meat consumption at present levels. However, those who continue to use most of their red stamps for beef will find that they are eating less meat, the OPA points out.
The point value on this table is effective from June 6 through July 3 and, barring unforeseen emergencies, no additional changes will be made during this period.

Those Agreeing To Raise Food And Feed For Freedom Will Get Awards

Official Certificate of War Service soon will begin moving to North Carolina farm families who have enlisted in the 1943 wartime food production program, according to H. A. Patten, State A A A Executive Assistant.

The certificates are being awarded in recognition of the part farm families are playing in the nation's war effort. More than 200,000 certificates already have been sent to County USDA War Boards for distribution to individual families, and more will be distributed as soon as they are received. Patten estimated approximately 237,000 North Carolina farm families are eligible to receive the certificates.

Printed in red, white and blue, the 11 by 14 inch certificates carry out a patriotic theme through use of a red border and a large blue "V" on the face of each. They are signed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard and the chairman of the Local County USDA War Board. Each certificate bears the seal of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the official Food for Freedom emblem, both printed in red, white and blue.

"These certificates are being presented to farm families in appreciation of the work they are doing to add to the growing strength of the United Nations," Patten said. "This nation and our allies today are looking to America's farm families for the majority of the food which is needed to win the war."

Basis for awarding the certificates will be 1943 Farm plans for Maximum War Production signed by individual farmers in a statewide sign-up campaign conducted by county and community committees of the Agricultural Adjustment agency.

About 8 billion points on the red ration stamps, and approximately 6 billion points on the blue stamps are put into circulation monthly by consumers of ration foods.

The rest-pause that refreshes
Welcome in peace... more welcome in war work

WAR plant managers will tell you that anything that contributes to contented workers makes better workers. In plant after plant it has been found that a rest-pause breaks monotony, lessens tiredness and tension.
When you add refreshment to a rest-pause, you not only have a pause that rests, but refreshes, too. A moment for ice-cold Coca-Cola makes a rest-pause take on more meaning... promoting contentment that leads to more work and better work. Yes, contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.
Close work brings the need to pause. Ice-cold Coca-Cola brings tingling refreshment to make any pause the pause that refreshes.
The best is always the better buy!
