Mrs. Roy McCall, president, conducted routine business, and the program was in charge of Mrs. Clyde McCrary, assisted by Mrs. Karl Bosse.

Games and refreshments were enjoyed during the social period.

Charlie Hines Will Speak At Woodmen Meeting Next Thurs.

Charlie Hines, of Greensboro, and a national director of the Woodmen of the World, will speak at a joint meeting of the local WOW and the Woodmen Circle in the lodge hall here next Thursday night at 8 o'clock, Paul Pipkin announced today.

This meeting will be held in honor of the Balsam Camp's 34 members who are now in military service. Parents of these men, as well as all Woodmen and their wives and circle members are invited to attend.

Mr. Hines is an outstanding Woodman and is regarded as an exceptionally good speaker.

COUNTY BUDGET

we should increase the tax rate if it can possibly be avoided because of the tremendous amount of money that is required by the war effort," Mr. Allison said.

A check up reveals that the county has stayed within the budget proposals of last year and that its financial condition today is the best in years. The county has met all debt service requirements, has paid all back accounts and only owes more or less current obligations. During the past year it has purchased and retired a number of bonds.

The bonded debt today is around $1,500,000 and it is hoped that other bonds can be retired in 1943.

Tax collections in 1942-43 have been unusually good. Around $80,000, or about 80 per cent of the 1942 levy have been collected and about $15,000 in back taxes, making the total collection over $95,000.

Hilarious Minstrel Show Presented At Ecusta Before Large Audience

Most Outstanding Entertainment Given Under Direction Of Eversman

Quite possibly the largest and certainly one of the most appreciative crowds to attend any of the series of entertainments prepared for Ecusta employees by John Eversman, director of recreation, was present last Thursday evening to enjoy a minstrel. The show, which lasted for about an hour, was followed by a dance, for which Rhett Talley's all-Ecusta string band furnished the music.

Roland Wilber acted as interlocutor and executed his part in a gracious manner. The parts of the blackface men were taken by John Wilber, Otto Whiteside, Leon English and Dewey (Ginny) Wood, whose jokes excited gales of laughter and whose singing was excellent.

A material contribution to the splendid program rendered was the singing of the Ecusta quartet, consisting of Wilber, Pete Eberle, Odell Scott and Howard Wilkie, who sang "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer." Others who sang were Miss Emmi Neuberger, the Davis sisters, Odell Scott and Howard Wilkie. Each of them was called back for an encore, and the singing of the whole cast showed careful selection for harmony and thorough training on the part of Mr. Eversman. The score for the minstrel was played by Mr. Eversman on the violin, Mrs. Mary Glass at the piano and Clyde Spencer, of Asheville, on the cello.

An entire stage had been constructed for the minstrel and it was prettily decorated with varicolored flowers and mountain greenery.

After the minstrel was over Mr. Eversman was warmly commended

James Crisp Made Outstanding Record

James Crisp, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crisp, of Brevard, was graduated cum laude with an A. B. degree from Wake Forest college on May 24. To graduate cum laude, students are required to maintain an average of 90 or over for the entire four years.

While at Wake Forest, Mr. Crisp was outstanding in leadership and religious activities as well as in scholarship. He is reported to have held more offices than any other student on the campus. He was also a member of a number of student groups, including two fraternities of national scope.

Mr. Crisp was also noted on the Wake Forest campus for his affable bearing and Christian demeanor. It was said of him that he probably knew more students, and was known by more of them, than any other person in college.

by several people for the well-proportioned excellence of the show. There was at no time any suggestion of confusion or fumbling, and the impression given by the various actors was that they had not only learned but had assimilated their parts, thus enabling them collectively to give a highly creditable and pleasing performance.

HONOR A GREAT AMERICAN

Your Dad...
JUNE 20TH

Father's Day

SAVE YOUR COFFEE TWO-CUP Coffee Maker $1.50

This year more than ever before dads are deserving of recognition and remembrance. In normal times their burdens are varied and heavy, but they never shirk or complain and devote their thoughts and efforts largely to providing for the welfare and comfort of their dependents. In wartime their responsibilities are more numerous, so we say to all, remember the dads in an impressive way this year. We have a galaxy of gifts that will serve as a symbol of your devotion.
