YES, WE ARE PROUD!
All staff members who contribute to this human interest column are naturally proud of the high honor that has been bestowed upon our paper by the judges of the newspaper contests sponsored by the National Editorial Association.

The United States covers a lot of territory. Last January we were elated when The Times received first prize in the state contest and this week we were surprised and delighted over the big news that we had won second place in the national general excellence contest among the larger non-dailies of the nation. In the United States there are 48 states and over 10,000 non-daily newspapers.

BOND ADS NOT NEW
A bill, introduced by Senator Bankhead and providing that the government shall spend between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 annually, advertising the sale of war bonds in newspapers, is now pending in Congress. The newspapers are not sponsoring the bill, but naturally most of them believe that its passage would stimulate the sale of bonds. The same plan is used in Canada and England now, but it is not at all new.

We didn't know until today when we were perusing a confidential bulletin of the Alabama Press association that bond advertising— at government expense—was employed during the War Between his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Middleton.

Charley Case made a visit Sunday to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Case, and other relatives and friends here. Charley has been in parachute training for some months.

People have nearly caught up with their corn work since the rainy weather stopped, and are cutting wheat and rye this week.

Thanks to The Times for the use of an ad that located an electric iron for sale. The said iron was sent to the boy in the Navy at Brooklyn, N. Y.

business of any kind. Paul has some ambitious plans for expanding his business which he expects to proceed with just as quickly as the Allies exterminate the vermin.

BIG SPUD CROP
Card from W. H. Sutton, at Lake Toxaway, says this year his Victory crop of Sequoia seed potatoes is five times as large as ever before and "perhaps as fine as you will see in the state." He expects a representative of the N. C. Crop Improvement association to make an inspection soon. Unable to accept his invitation to see them, we have asked him to supply some data for an article in The Times. Incidentally, the food and feed crop in Transylvania county at this time is exceedingly bright, thanks to the astute leadership and inspiration of County Agent Glazener and his staff and the efforts of our people.

S. C. REBELS AGAIN
According to a news dispatch from Spartanburg—the home of the "assistant president," Jimmy Byrnes—the S. C. Democratic executive committee has unanimously refused a request of the national executive committee for financial support in the 1944 Democratic campaign.

The significance of this dispatch isn't the amount of money that will be denied the national Democratic organization, for South Carolina Democrats have never been liberal contributors. It is meaningful because party officials in a state hitherto democratic without reservation or equivocation thus signify their hostility to the national leadership.

It is certain, according to Dr. Stanley High and other political pundits, that FDR wants to succeed himself. Is that why the S. C. Democrats refuse to donate to the 1944 campaign, which is likely to be the most critical since the 60s? It could be that, or a number of other things. Time will tell, but, regardless of the reason, or reasons, the defection of S. C. Democrats is deeply significant.

U. S. SOLDIERS WELL PAID
It is a pretty safe guess that the majority of men who are now serving in the army are earning more than they did in civil life. The Office of War Information estimates that the lowest paid army private receives the equivalent of $1,700 a year.

Here is the breakdown of the income of the lowest paid soldier in the army:
Soldier's cash income at $50 a month, $600; food, figured at $1.50 a day, $574.50; barrack shelter ($10 monthly), $120; equipment and replacement, $170; medical, dental and hospital care, $100; saved on life insurance, $63.40; saved on cigarettes, $10.15; saved on laundry, $32.50; saved on postage and barber bills, $28.65.

NICE ORDER
Brevard etching: Paul Smathers' attractive blonde daughter showing Paul the mail, just in, until Paul indicated one envelope whose contents he wanted to see. It happened to be an order for four pieces of machinery, sold by phone, to a man in Connecticut, who enclosed a check big enough to buy a nice car B. P. H. (before Pearl Harbor.) There was nothing unusual about that, Paul said, except the size of the check with this order. He sells machinery all over the U. S.—that is, when he has it to sell—and said he had enough stuff to rebuild on hand now to keep a force of six men busy from now until fall if he got no more
