Miss Lillie Brown, College Teacher To Be Married In Fall

Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Brown, of High Point, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillie Alene Brown, head of the music department of Brevard College, to Dr. H. B. Perry, Jr., Lieutenant in the U. S. naval reserve, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Perry, of Boone.

The announcement was made at a tea given by Mrs. Brown at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. D. Dougherty, in Boone, last Friday afternoon. Around fifty guests called between the hours of four and five-thirty. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Miss Brown was graduated with a Bachelor of Music degree from Greensboro College, and attended graduate school at the University of North Carolina. For two years she was teacher of music at Flat Rock School, Mt. Airy, and last year was head of the department of music at Brevard College. This summer she is a member of the faculty of Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone.

Dr. Perry was graduated from Wake Forest College, after which he attended medical school there for two years. This spring he was graduated from the University of Maryland School of Medicine, and at present is serving his internship at Baltimore City hospital. He is a member of the Phi Chi Medical fraternity.

Chinese Charm

Smart shantung suit. By VERA WINSTON.

THE CHINESE influence has cleverly insinuated itself into our occidental fashions and adds a touch of crisp yet picturesque charm that is yet to the good. Apparent in late Summer fashions, it will be more obvious when early Fall things make their bow. This slim silhouette suit is in brilliant Chinese-blue pure silk shantung and is made with a collarless neckline that closes in true Chinese fashion. The skirt is straight. Can be worn successfully with or without a blouse.

Civic Club Meeting Postponed To July 12

The July meeting of the Women's Civic club has been postponed from next Monday to the second Monday, July 12th, at 3:30, announcement has been made by the president, Mrs. Oliver H. Orr. How Does Your Garden Grow? Don't Let It Down Now, Please!

Here are three groups of vegetables you can still plant, which will give you a yield for the late summer, fall and winter:

SOME LONG STEM SORTS

Tomatoes, trained to stakes or a fence, can be set 24 inches apart. (These will take the balance of the season to mature.)

Onion plants should be set 3 inches apart in rows 12 inches apart.

Sweet potatoes are especially good for warm, sandy soil. Set 15 inches apart in rows 3 feet apart.

Plant pole beans, snap beans and limas.

OTHERS THAT GROW QUICKLY

Bush beans — Rows 18 inches apart, thin to 3 inches.

Beets and carrots — Rows 12 inches apart, thin to 3 inches.

Lettuce — Rows 12 inches apart, thin to 6 inches.

FOR LATE USE AND STORING

To have these in best condition just before frost, plant them late — the figures indicate the number of days to plant before the usual frost in your vicinity:

Beets—80.
Carrots—90.
Turnips—75.
Spinach—60.

HINTS FROM THE OLD HAND

Thin out your rows—overcrowding does more harm than bugs. So thin out early and give your plants plenty of room to develop.

Fight pests and diseases—Keep your garden plot clean—burn diseased plants.

For cutworms use a mash you can buy from your seedman; sprinkle it around little plants as they come up.

In dry weather cultivate with hoe or rake to make a dust mulch; water thoroughly part of the garden each day.

Thin out your rows—Overcrowding does more harm than bugs. So thin out early and give your plants plenty of room to develop.

To save backache, remove weeds as soon as they appear—keep your hoe sharp. File edge with a flat file.

Don't tramp your garden down. Don't walk in it when the soil is wet. Loosen up hard surfaces with a hoe.

Feed your plants. Work Victory fertilizer—2 to 3 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.—into the soil, along rows of half-grown plants.

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Really funny how some little every-day things can affect the course of history. For instance, did you know that one of the main reasons for the Pilgrims landing on Plymouth Rock was because the Mayflower was running out of beer?

Yes, you can read it in an original manuscript of 1622, an account of the settling of Plymouth—where it says: "... we could not now take time for further search or consideration; our victuals being much spent; ... especially our beer..."

Just goes to show how good beer has been a part of American life right from the beginning. Yes, and it's had a big part in making us a tolerant, moderate people, happy to live and let live. Because beer is a drink of moderation and good fellowship.

Just a date on the calendar in many parts of the world, but to Americans it is our most significant secular date. This year it is more meaningful than ever because we are engaged in a struggle to maintain those liberties asserted in the Declaration. We will observe the day by closing July 5 and urge our customers to make appointments this week end.

FIDELIS CLASS HAS REGULAR MEETING AT TINDALL HOME

An enjoyable meeting of the Fidelis class of the First Baptist church was held last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. W. P. Tindall, for the regular June business and social meeting.

Following devotionals led by Mrs. C. P. Link, routine business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lester D. Martin. Eleven members were present and one guest Mrs. R. L. Aiken, of Greenville, a former member.

Mrs. R. M. Neely was in charge of the contests, in which Mrs. T. E. Reid was prize winner. The prize, a $4.00 war stamp book, was applied on the war bond which the class is buying for the church building fund.

A social period and refreshments concluded the meeting.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HAS MEETING OF MUCH INTEREST

An enthusiastic and well attended business and social meeting of the Sunday school class of Mrs. Gliver Orr of the Methodist church was held on Tuesday night, at which time election of officers was the main feature of business. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. F. Tilson.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Mordecia Neely, president; Mrs. E. H. McMahan, vice president; Mrs. D. T. Abercrombie, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Nat Townsend, flower committee; Mrs. Jack Trantham, room arrangement; Mrs. E. F. Tilson, visiting committee.

Mrs. Orr, teacher, presided over the meeting. Attention was called to the fact that associate members, those who are unable to attend the class on Sunday mornings, will be welcomed at the regular monthly meetings in the homes. Plans for the coming year were discussed and other matters of business were transacted.

Following a social feature and refreshments, the class adjourned to meet in July at the home of Mrs. Abercrombie.

Timely Hints For Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Current
You spend one-third of your life in bed, so it is logical that the choice and care of a mattress should be important in the house-keeping plan.

You can guarantee long life for your mattresses by observing a few simple rules. First and foremost, mattresses should be turned frequently to help keep their shape and resiliency. Many mattresses have loops on the sides to ease this operation. Brush weekly with a whisk broom so dust won't settle.

"Dust Proof" mattress cover made of heavy muslin will protect it from dust and wear. You can make these covers with an envelope type closing so they can easily be washed.

Uncle Sam tells us to waste nothing, to buy only what we need, to make what we have last, and that means everything.

Our grandmothers used leftover "scraps," cloth—silk, cotton, and woolsens. Mothers, why not plan a quilting party for your neighbor friends? Or interest your teen-age girl who is enrolled in 4-H Room Improvement in making a quilt for her bed.

"The President's Wreath," "Rare Old Tulip," "A Star that Traveled," "Star and Crescent" are all beautiful in design and easy to make. We want to see this art revived. There is no better time than now when we must spend more time at home. Let's not squander time.

Who wants a pattern? Write me at N. C. State College, Raleigh.

The WFA has removed sweet potatoes and carrots from the list of dehydrated vegetables reserved for war needs because prospective supplies appear sufficient to meet all requirements.
