Before the ceremony Miss Austin sang, "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte, and "Love Divine," by Stainer. The choir sang as the processional hymn, "The Voice That Breathes O'er Eden," and "Oh Perfect Love." The traditional wedding marches were played as the processional and the recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a satin bodice with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves tapering to a point at the hand, bouffant skirt of illusion. Her lace veil, belonging to Mrs. W. D. Schneider, a friend of her mother, was worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. She carried a white prayer book on which was a white book shower.
