ADVANTAGES OF NINE MONTHS SCHOOL

By Bruce Glazener
During the last session of our state legislature, a bill was passed extending the school year of all public schools in North Carolina to nine months. The more advanced schools of the state are already running on a nine-month basis before this bill was passed, but many schools of the state including those of Transylvania county only had an eight-month school year. This is the first year since the depression days that the public schools of Transylvania county have run on a nine-month basis.

The value of the nine-month school to the youth of this county will mean more than dollars and cents. To those entering college it will mean a better background and foundation upon which to build for the future. To those that will not enter college, the nine-month school will give a much better chance in life and more opportunities for advancement.

Since the books in our public schools are published to be taught for nine months, an extra month of schooling will make the completion of the textbooks much easier for the students and teachers. The teachers will be benefited by an extra month in a financial way. They will receive wages for an extra month in the school year rather than eight months, as has been previously experienced.

Nine months school will be much more beneficial to those just beginning their education than to any others. By the time they will have finished high school they will have a year and a half more schooling, gaining the extra month each year, more than those who have already finished school. Certainly no one will object to this educational blessing of our county.

All of these members are new except Carolyn Kimzey, Patsy Austin, Mary Ann Ramsey and Gene Franklin. These were re-elected. The student council is sponsored by Mrs. Trantham.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Only the senior members of the newspaper staff have been chosen. The others will be announced next week.

The first assembly program will be presented on Wednesday by the senior girls under the direction of Mrs. Reschke. The first edition of the "Broadcaster" will come out about Sept. 25. Articles for this will be accepted from all students as well as articles for this column. Please have articles in by Sept. 15 for the "Broadcaster" and on Friday for this column.

The library opened for the first time on Monday. All books may now be checked out.

HERE AND THERE

We have a bit of advice for Verena Lewis. She had better keep her eye on Mr. Norton if she expects to keep him. As he seems to really enjoy himself when he's with that little blonde from Tenn.

Miss Erwin is still puzzled as to the identity of Alonzo Siniard. Maybe "Bullet" Brannon could throw some light on the subject.

Frances W.'s heartthrob in Virginia recently wrote her of his being in an auto crash. My, what these Brevard girls won't drive men to do!

Take a look at the senior class and you'll find that the Marines aren't the only ones who can get the "situation well in hand."

Ah, such a life! Allan Eberle has undertaken to cultivate a moustache.

Jason O. has that new goodnight technique, "Stand by for action."

Miss Powell's pet phrase is "plain as cornbread." But she couldn't be referring to the names on the history roll because they are ever so queer. She still wants to meet Happy Hollow and Luther Toxaway.

Attention, sophomore girls! Keep your eyes on "Else" P. He's the forthcoming Rudolph Valentino.

Don't imagine it'll take long for those DeMolay boys to start sporting their block letters around B. H. S. They say colorful things catch the eye.

Dick Fenwicke surely likes the ratios large. The other night it was three to one, but "Ricardo" says he doesn't mind a little thing like that.

Comment from a senior who comes to school three days late.

It's amousin', but confosin'. Bob Kappers says he only talked to the girl five minutes and he's already received three letters. What a man!!!!

Two senior boys keep talking like they've gone down for the third time. Their favorite song contains these words, "You went away and my heart went with you."

If it happens before next week I want you to know that I prefer roses. If not, well, you'll hear from me again.

Yours truly,
FLASH.

OVERSEAS MAILING DATES EMPHASIZED

Christmas Gifts Must Be Mailed Between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15

Mailing of Christmas gifts for army and navy personnel overseas must begin by September 15, if many of the men and women in the armed service are not to be disappointed. Postmaster T. C. Galloway reminds the public.

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post only between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15. After that date such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ask for a Christmas gift, so gifts should be mailed on time.

Rules for mailing gifts: The parcel must not exceed five pounds and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked, "Christmas parcel," so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25. Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer. Parcels must be wrapped well and the cover should be such that it can be opened readily for censorship. The contents should be packed tightly.

Greater care in skinning slaughtered cattle and in handling the hides will make more quality leather available for pressing military needs, livestock specialists at N. C. State College report.
