

Dr. Tom Summey Is Visiting Here

Dr. Tom J. Summey, who formerly practiced medicine in Brevard for several years, is vacationing at High Hampton and visiting his mother and other relatives and friends here.

Dr. Summey is the son of the late T. B. Summey. His mother lives here on Jordan street.

Dr. Summey is a prominent surgeon at Moorestown, N. J., and also does a good deal of work in Philadelphia. He was succeeded here by Dr. Charles Newland. During the first world war he served as a major in the medical corps.

physical examination with pelvic measurements and urine analysis. Best authorities advise regular monthly check up as early in pregnancy as possible. During the last two months, more frequent examinations are advisable.

The reported examination of all babies is important in keeping them well, checking their development and watching for early signs of disease, the assistant health officer said.

"When we remind ourselves that in North Carolina nearly three-fourths of all deaths under 15 years of age occur under one year of age and that of nearly 7,000 cases of whooping cough under one year of age in the period of 1929-1927, a total of 1,226 died, we realize how important is the early protection of our infants against infectious diseases," Dr. Michal explained.

"Our state law requires the inoculation of all infants six months of age and over against diphtheria.

"At this time when each individual has such a large part in the economy of the nation and its defenses, the health of our mothers and infants is of paramount importance. It is our particular concern that the mothers of infants and growing children have every possible chance to keep physically fit and that every mother knows how best to keep her family well and happy."

The More Bonds & Sweat The Less Blood & Tears

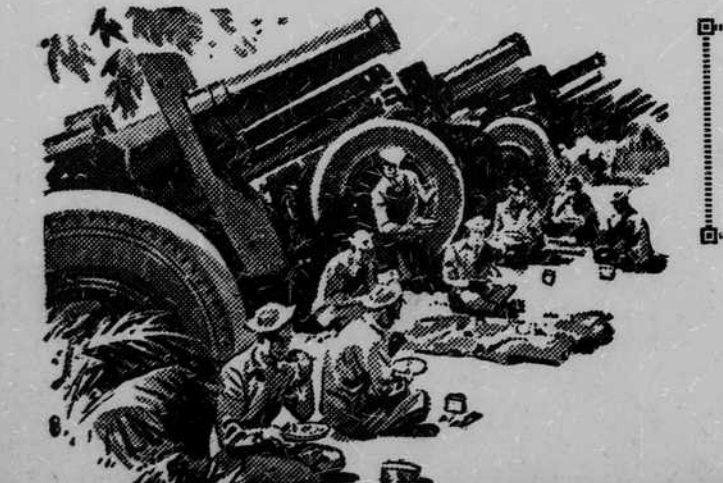

It's EASY to Buy BONDS

Loaning money to win the war is easy. You pay $18.75 for a bond you can cash in for $25 in ten years. A $50 bond is $37.50, a $100 bond is $75. The bigger the bond the less it costs the government and you in bookkeeping. If you need your money in less than 10 years, you can get it any time—with earned interest. Buy a big bond today!

The War is Not WON

Our armed forces have a continuous fighting job. And so it is with buying bonds. Buying bonds is a continuing responsibility for everyone who can scrape the price of a bond together at any time. You should buy bonds every month, or every week, if you can. Money you lend for bonds goes into the war at once, keeps out of consumer markets, and therefore helps fight inflation. Bond money is double duty money—fighting the war on foreign fronts and inflation on the home front. Keep buying bonds.
