Student Council At College Is Active

One of the outstanding organizations at Brevard College is the Student-Faculty government council.

The purpose of this council is to establish an efficient form of democratic government and to promote a spirit of cooperation between the students and faculty.

The council sponsors and supervises all student organizations and refuses recognition of non-active and unnecessary organizations. It considers any matter of common interest to all students. The council meets semi-monthly.

Madge Finger is president of the student council this year and Marjorie Ezzelle is secretary and treasurer.

the faculty, and will teach in the business department and assist in the business office. He is also treasurer of the college. He attended the following schools; Southern Normal University, Valparaiso University, Jackson School of Business and University of Virginia. For 10 years he was business manager at Mitchell college, Statesville.

BREVARD COLLEGE HAS MANY LARGE, MODERN BUILDINGS

Situated In A Setting Of Beautiful Trees And Spacious Lawn.

There are four large brick buildings in the Brevard college unit, situated in a setting of beautiful shade trees and spacious, well-kept lawns.

Spencer Hall, the administration building, contains the offices, classrooms, laboratories, auditorium and library. The building has capacity to accommodate four hundred students.

The three dormitories are known as West Hall, Taylor Hall, and Frances Ross Hall. West Hall and Taylor Hall are occupied by women. All these buildings have steam heat, hot and cold water in lavatories and showers, and other modern conveniences. All dormitory rooms are furnished with single beds and each room has a dresser, table, and chairs. Special attention has been given to the lighting in the dormitory rooms. The dining room and kitchen are located in West Hall.

The college leases Virginia Lodge, a commodious resort hotel just off the campus, as a home for young women.

In addition to these buildings there is a large gymnasium and an excellent athletic field on the campus.
