

Rosman Hi News

STAFF

Editor-in Chief ----- Jean Hall
Associate Editors: Madrie Galloway, Herbert Hall, Lucy Tinsley, and Robert Gillespie.
Reporters: Mae Rigdon, Wayne Harmon, Hortense Burton, Paul Sisk, Norma King and Joe Owen.

MR. LAWRENCE ATTENDS MEETING

By Robert Gillespie
 Mr. Lawrence represented R. H. S. at a meeting of the Transylvania and Henderson county vocational agriculture teachers last Friday afternoon in Hendersonville. Co-operative Production of Vegetables was the main topic discussed.

BOND RALLY PROCEEDS

By Jean Hall
 The proceeds at the bond rally held in the high school auditorium last Monday night were exceptionally good. One hundred and two people bought bonds making a total of $5,925. The sale of defense stamps amounted to $41.20, bringing it up to nearly $6,000 sold at the rally.

A. B. Galloway was the speaker and the music was furnished by the Ecusta string band and Ecusta trio under the supervision of John Eversman. The program was thoroughly enjoyed.

This rally was the second of a series to be held throughout the county.

SCHOOL LOCALS

By Norma King
 Victoria Gillespie, Pairlee Conner, Betty Jean Galloway, Mildred Greene and Alvin Galloway, of the freshman class, were absent last week due to illness.

Betty Smith was absent from school one day last week.

Madrie Galloway was absent Monday of last week.

Mrs. Hamed was absent last week due to illness.

Faye Greene of the junior class, has withdrawn from school.

MR. TILSON SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

By Mildred Crunkleton
 For the regular chapel program Tuesday Mr. Tilson conducted the devotionals and made a very interesting talk on "The Value of a Purpose." He brought out several valuable points on this subject that each student or adult could very beneficially apply in everyday life. He also said that in having a purpose to accomplish something that each person should have imagination, courage and ability to think.

The forestry essay contest was announced and the students were urged to participate in it.

The remainder of the time was spent in singing "Solomon Levi," "Spanish Cavalier," "Dixie" and "Home on the Range."

Next week Miss Nesbitt's home economics girls will present a fashion show.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

By Madrie Galloway
 Calm down, everyone, while I give you my long-drawn-out introduction. Here goes!

Jotting things down (such as whirl-wind parties, romances, etc.) is an occupational disease of mine, so everyone grab 'em a paper and a "comfy" chair and follow me while I give you a few of these random Rosman Hi jottings at various times.

Gather closer, girls, and I'll tell you something else. There's a war between Harold B. and Betty R. just because Bob decided to show his charming personality at a certain party one night. Ha! and the joke is Bob got in "dutch" up to his ears too. Wow! Now that you've heard the complete story—air! fire! and for goodness sakes don't miss! P. S. There's another story about a certain Leoda from the "Big City." So watch the press next week and you'll be given complete information.

Information, please! Has Festus W. decided to throw out the life-line again and rescue a brown-eyed brunette from s-i-n-k-i-n-g, eh? (Now, what is the word that would fit there? Heck I give up. What good is a lot of bosh—words, anyway?) Changed your taste a little(?) After all, June is a very attractive girl.

I just can't see how they manage it, besides it "ain't" fair. Oh, pardon me, I guess I'd better give you a hint about what I'm rattling off about. It's these freshman romances, such as Edith B. and Arnold C. There's also the flashy, dashing romance of Victoria G. and Junior K. Maybe the "paper dollie" talk isn't a bad idea after all. At least, you could call him your own, eh, senior girls?

Our latest clue to Mae R's new romance is: initials—E.K., position in 6th period S. H.—directly opposite her. A-n-d, result of his attention, a great big forced smile.

I see Jean H. has been up to some more dirty work (such as marking through some juicy gossip of mine) so I'll just give her a "double dose." Maybe you'd like to hear that she can sympathize with "Rut" since she's had a dose of that walking business, or even better, that story about a certain girl walking off with her sunshine and starlight the other night might make good reading. Readers,

Principal Ruffy Is Speaker At Chapel

By N. L. PONDER

In his talk at chapel exercise last Friday, Principal J. E. Ruffy ably presented some lessons on February to the school students. "You think of Ground Hog Day in February and the ground weather," he stated, "but I don't think the Lord would leave His work in nature under the control of a ground hog."

Mr. Ruffy presented lessons to learn from the lives of Washington and Lincoln, whose birthdays come in February. "Washington's life was great," Mr. Ruffy said, "mainly because he held strictly please state which you prefer in your next letter. Enclose 10c. Ha!

There are several things in a fighting man's life that are important to him, but news from home is the biggest thrill. Let's all put away that mending job that you just thought was so important or let the cleaning go until later and write that son, brother, husband or friend that's depending on your mail. He'll appreciate it.

FUNERAL HELD FOR MRS. W. A. BROWN

Service For Well Known Brevard Woman Held Last Friday

Funeral services were held Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Jess C. Scruggs for Mrs. William A. Brown, 77, well-known resident of Brevard, who died Thursday morning after having been in declining health for some time.

The services were conducted by the Rev. B. W. Thomason, pastor of the Brevard Baptist church, and to a set of 110 rules, for practice in such traits as courtesy, cleanliness, politeness, truthfulness, etc. School children should learn and use these rules."

Lincoln made no rules but had a code of ethics: honesty, hard work and diligent study. Washington and Lincoln both worked hard, put forth efforts. A student must put forth the best effort to accomplish anything in school.

the Rev. W. H. Whitlock, pastor of the Gladly Branch Baptist church. Interment followed at the Gillespie cemetery.

Active pallbearers were: B. W. Trantham, S. T. Crisp, Bob Wright, Keith Wright, Riley Merrill and George Shuford. Granddaughters of Mrs. Brown had charge of the flowers.

Honorary pallbearers were: Jason Orr, Robert Tharpe, Fred Shuford, Oliver Orr, William Wallis, Jake Gillespie, Plato Scruggs and Arthur Orr.

Mrs. Brown was the widow of the late W. A. Brown who died in 1931. Before marriage she was Drucilla Meece, of this county. She was a life long member of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving are eleven children: William T. Brown, of Brevard; Mrs. Charlie Scruggs, Brevard; John H. Brown, Brevard; Mrs. J. Y. Currie Hamlet; Mrs. Jesse C. Scruggs, Brevard; Milo Brown, Anderson, S. C.; Herman H. Brown, Brevard; Leonard L. Brown, Brevard; Austin A. Brown, Brevard; Mrs. T. E. Meece, Brevard; and Mrs. David Orr, Brevard.

Also surviving are 43 grand-

BLANTYRE NEWS

BY MRS. ADA REED

Claude Davis, who has finished his boot training at the naval station, Great Lakes, Ill., is spending his leave here with Mrs. Davis and the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hawkins, of Gastonia, came up to their farm at Blantyre last week. They are having many improvements made on the place here.

Mr. E. H. Jones, who formerly lived at Rivermont Farm here but now resides in Kentucky, visited old neighbors here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Setzer and son, Junior, Miss Belle Reed and Mrs. Earl Gray and daughter, Louise, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Reed here Sunday.

Mr. George Woodfin expects to move soon to near Brevard where he will reside with his son, Allen Woodfin, and family.

children and 13 great grandchildren.

Moore-Trantham funeral home had charge of the arrangements for the burial.

You Can't Help But Like
Homeland Tailoring

Now showing new Spring line of quality fabrics. Perfect fit assured.

$26.75 Up

M. E. HEAD

At Ward's Barber Shop

Hear The

BAND CONCERT

By The

MOORE GENERAL HOSPITAL BAND

On The Court House Lawn In Brevard

SATURDAY - FEBRUARY 12th

2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

★ Patriotic Airs ★ Spirited Marches
 and Other Appropriate Numbers

BACK THE ATTACK!

Buy War Bonds

AND RIDE IN THE JEEP!

Each purchaser of a War Bond on Saturday will be entitled to a ride in the Jeep which will be in Brevard all that day.

Sponsored By

Brevard Jaycees

In Support Of The Fourth War Loan Drive

This Space Contributed Jointly By

Pisgah Mills, Inc.

W. M. MELTON, V-Pres. & Gen. Mgr.

Whiteway Dry Cleaners

Phone 58—Brevard, N. C.

The Transylvania Times

JOB PRINTING—OFFICE FORMS

Jesus on the Mountain

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 13 is Mark 9:2-29, the Golden Text being Mark 9:24. "I believe; help Thou my unbelief.")

THE EVENTS contained in today's lesson took place in the autumn of A. D. 29. Jesus and His disciples were in the north of Palestine, near Mt. Hermon, a towering peak 10,000 feet high, and visible from every part of Palestine.

Jesus took the three apostles dearest to or most intimate with Him, Peter, James and John, and went up into the mountain, where "He was transfigured before them." His "raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them."

With Jesus appeared Moses, the great leader of the Jewish people, and Elijah, the prophet, linking the old with the new leadership. The disciples were frightened with this vision, and Peter, who was the speaker of the group, but not always wise in his speech, babbled, "Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for Thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

Voice Comes From Cloud

A cloud then overshadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, "This is My beloved Son; hear Him."

Suddenly they found Moses and Elijah had vanished and they were alone with the Master. As they came down from the mountain Jesus told them not to tell anyone of what they had seen "till the Son of Man were risen from the dead." This saying puzzled the disciples and they talked with one another, wondering what the Lord meant. They also asked Jesus what was meant by the saying that Elijah would come first, and He explained that Elijah had come—meaning that John the Baptist had prepared for His—the Lord's—coming.

As they came to level ground on the south of the mountain, they saw a great multitude of people, and scribes were questioning them. The people ran toward

Jesus and saluted Him, and one among them brought his son, a boy who from childhood had been afflicted with an evil spirit—one who was deaf and dumb, but which tore and wrenched at the poor child, throwing him on the ground where he wallowed foaming.

Sometimes this evil spirit had made the boy throw himself into fire and sometimes into water to destroy him. The father asked Jesus to do something for them if He could.

"If thou believe, all things are possible to him that believeth," Jesus said, and the poor father answered, with tears, "Lord, I believe; help Thou mine unbelief."

Boy Appears Dead

Jesus ordered the spirit to come out of the boy, which it did, but the boy lay on the ground as if dead, and the crowd really thought he was dead. Jesus, however, in His tender, compassionate way, took the boy's hand and lifted him up; "and he arose." He was completely healed.

The disciples had tried to cast out the evil spirit from the boy, but couldn't, and they wondered why that was. They talked about it among themselves and finally asked Jesus why it was that they couldn't exorcise this evil spirit, as they had done such things before. Jesus answered, "This kind come forth by nothing but by prayer and fasting," implying that they had not the time or requisite faith to perform this miracle of healing.

When the boy's father had said that he had asked the disciples to cast out the demon and they had failed, Jesus had exclaimed, "Oh faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you?" His time was growing short, as He implied in referring to His coming death and resurrection, when talking to the disciples when they came down from the mountain. It was necessary, then, that they should be prepared to carry on His work, and it grieved Him that even then they had not the necessary faith to carry on. Each one needed to pray as had the father of the afflicted boy, "I believe; help Thou my unbelief."