Four Concerts To Climax 1947 Music Festival

FAMOUS ARTISTS WILL BE HEARD WITH SYMPHONY

First Part Of 1947 Event Was Highly Successful. Many Critics Here

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Four concerts this week end, featuring three famed solo artists and the 60-piece symphony orchestra, will climax the second annual Brevard Music festival.

Playing before capacity audiences last week end, the festival symphony was favorably compared with outstanding national symphonic groups. The artists, Eugene Istomin, Brevard's own Adelaide Van Wey and Nan Merriman were highly applauded at the three concerts given.

Music critics from leading newspapers and magazines attended the concerts last week end, and many more are expected to arrive for the final programs which will be concluded with Sunday's concert.

On Friday's Concert

Patricia Travers, 19-year-old American violinist, will appear in the opening concert Friday night, at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Travers has only recently returned from her concert tour of Europe, where she appeared in Paris, London and Holland. Seven concerts in two years with the Philadelphia orchestra, Carnegie Hall performances, and her appearances with other outstanding groups such as the Chicago Symphony, Cincinnati, Washington and other orchestras in her transcontinental tours have established her among the first instrumentalists of the day. The young violinist will be heard as soloist in Brahms' Concerto in D Major, Op. 77.

The program for Saturday will include a free children's concert

Brevard Water Supply Is Low, Mayor Varner Issues Appeal For All Citizens To Conserve

Heads Aquatic School

HARRY KENNING, above, is directing the 24th annual Red Cross Aquatic school at Camp Carolina this week with some 150 persons attending. While waterfront safety is stressed, students are trained in farm, home and industrial safety measures.

AQUATIC SCHOOL OPENED AT CAMP CAROLINA MON.

Approximately 150 Students Registered. All Safety Measures Taught

The 24th annual Red Cross Aquatic school at Camp Carolina opened last Monday for the second 10-day session this summer, the first of which was held in June.

"We have nearly 150 students, which are as many as we are equipped to take care of," Director Harry Kenning stated yesterday. "This promises to be one of the most successful schools held here since the war," he said.

The school, one of the 30 sponsored by the National Red Cross, endeavors to train persons in all phases of waterfront safety, as well as safety measures in the home, industry, or on the farm. All persons who are registered at the camp must agree to teach Red Cross courses if ever called upon to do so. The readiness to help in all disasters, as shown by Red Cross personnel and individuals who had been trained in these courses at Texas City was pointed out by Director Kenning. "Emphasis is placed on learning by

Asheville Mayor Speaks To Local Rotary Club, Program Is Outlined

Clarence Morgan, mayor of Asheville and a past-president of the Asheville Rotary club, was the guest speaker at the recently organized Brevard Rotary club in Gaithers cafeteria last Wednesday night.

In answering the question, "What Is Rotary?" Mr. Morgan said that Rotary is a world fellowship of business and professional executives who accept the "Ideal of Service" as the basis for success and happiness in business and community life. In Rotary, he said, thoughtfulness of others is regarded as the basis of service, and helpfulness to others as its expression. Together they constitute the

Reservoir Level Two Feet Below Normal. Still Falling As Drought Holds

As the extreme dry weather continues here, Mayor S. E. Varner yesterday issued a warning to all citizens in and around Brevard to conserve water.

"Our water supply is dangerously low," the mayor declared. He urged all citizens to refrain from watering lawns, gardens and to repair leaky faucets and other plumbing fixtures.

A serious fire here would practically deplete the water supply, which is two feet below normal level in the reservoir, it is reported. Previously, during dry spells, the water level has gone down during the daytime and risen again at night. However, the present drought is so severe that the level has been steadily declining. As the dry weather continues, it is expected to drop more since the inflow is becoming less and less.

In an effort to conserve the dwindling supply of water, the municipal swimming pool was closed Wednesday.

It is pointed out that light showers will not materially increase the amount of water in the reservoir. Only a heavy rain of some duration will end the present stringency.

As a safeguard against waste, a city employee is being sent to check the water systems of all patrons. It is explained that the water from both creeks is going into the reservoir, where there is never an overflow at night-time. Tuesday night, the mayor said, the level in the reservoir dropped 28 inches.

"This is an emergency and I

CLARK RETURNS FROM OHIO RACE

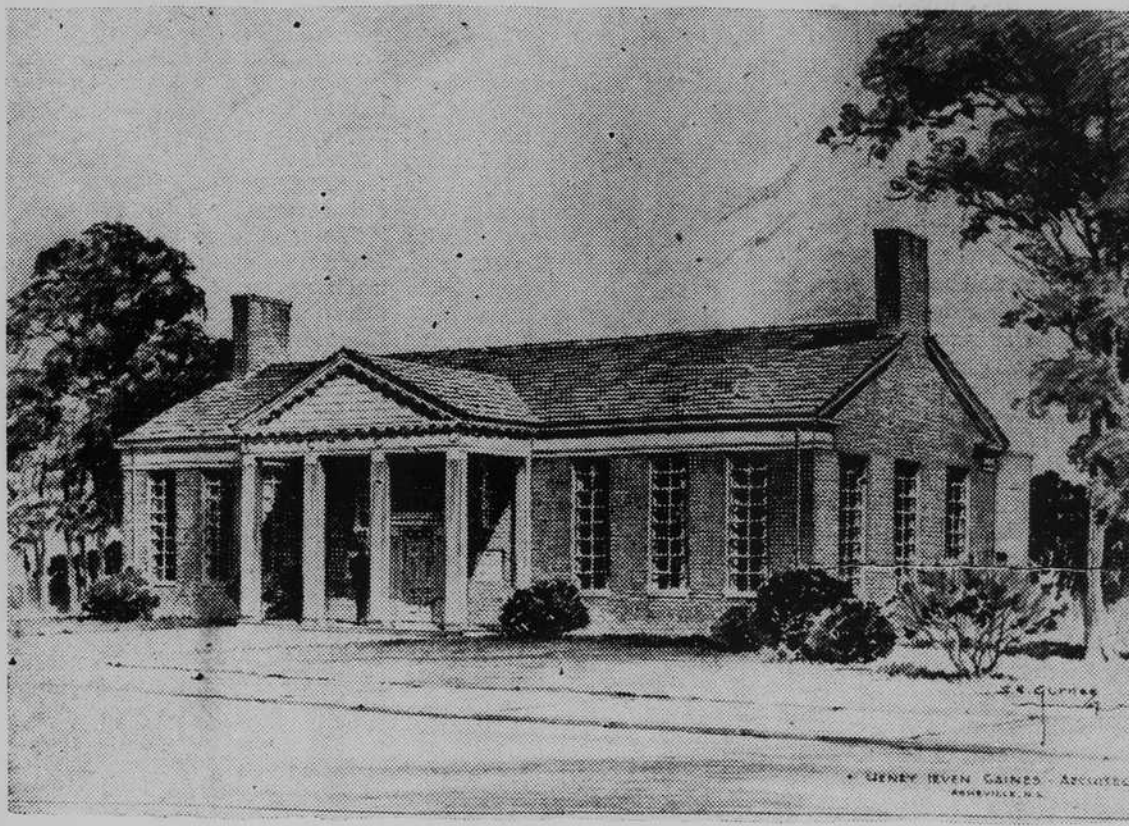

Youth Awarded Many Prizes For Participating In Soap Box Derby

Raymond Clark, of Brevard, who won Asheville's Soap Box Derby recently, returned here Tuesday night from Akron, Ohio, where he competed with 135 boys from all over the nation in the All-American Soap Box Derby. Young Clark ran second in the 35th heat, and says he had a "swell" time along with learning some valuable tips on how to build fast racers.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Clark, accompanied him on the trip, and Mrs. Clark said she was justly proud of her son. And she had a right to be, for he received a gold key to the city of

Proposed James Addison Jones Library At College Here

Above is the architect's drawing of the James Addison Jones library to be built in the center of the campus here at Brevard college. Construction will begin on Sept. 1, by the J. A. Jones Construction company, of Charlotte. The modern fireproof building is to be the most important unit in the permanent building program, according to President E. J. Coltrane, and will house some 40,000 volumes. Funds were provided by J. A. Jones, of Charlotte.

"MISS BREVARD" 2ND RUNNER-UP IN STATE CONTEST

Miss Kimzey Brings Home Trophy. Adjudged At Wrightsville Beach

Miss Carolyn Kimzey, chosen "Miss Brevard" at the Jaycee-sponsored beauty contest, will return home Saturday from Wrightsville Beach, after having been selected second runner-up in the statewide contest to select "Miss North Carolina."

Competing against 26 beauties from North Carolina, Miss Kimzey was awarded a trophy inscribed, "2nd Runner-up, Miss North Carolina Contest, 1947, N. C. J. C. C." last Saturday night at Wrightsville Beach.

The winner of the contest was judged on the basis of personality displayed in the talent show held in the afternoon, and on appearance Saturday evening when the girls wore alternately evening dresses and bathing suits. In the talent show, Miss Kimzey made a big hit when she sang the mountain ballad, "A Roving Gambler." She was highly applauded Saturday.

Scout Committee To Meet Friday

The Transylvania district committee of the Daniel Boone council of Boy Scouts of America will meet Friday night at 8:00 o'clock over the city hall, it is announced today.

F. S. Best, the district chairman, states that the meeting will be an important one and that the following items will be discussed: Summer Activities, Plans for the Fall and Troops and Packs Reports. All members are urged to be present.

Square Dance Friday Night At Club House

The B. and P. W. club will give a square dance at the country club Friday night, starting at 8:30 o'clock. During the evening a lovely hand-crocheted bed spread valued at $50.00 will be given away. "Speedy" Jones will call the dance and the proceeds will be used to finance various club activities. Tickets are 75c per person and $1.25 per couple.

Members of the club are urging the people to attend the festival first and then come to the dance.

Representatives From Southeastern States To Gather At Illahee

Nearly 100 representatives and counselors of the Teen-age clubs of the Young Women's Christian association in the Southeastern states are scheduled to arrive at Camp Illahee Friday for week's conference, it was learned here today.

Miss Elizabeth Conwell, of Richmond, Va., will be director of the Y. W. C. A. group, which meets at the camp for the purpose of discussing recreational activities of the various Teen-age groups.

Dr. Mildred Morgan, of Asheville, who has been on the Camp Illahee staff all summer, will serve as a member of the Y. W. C. A. staff at Camp Illahee during the event, Mrs. Karthyn Curtis, the camp owner, states.

Mrs. Tommy Hampton and children, of Baltimore, Md., are visiting Mrs. Hampton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Osborne, here.

Large Crowd Attends First Performance. Sponsored By The VFW

The music, singing, and dancing, typical of the mountains of Western North Carolina, entertained a packed house at the Transylvania Folk jubilee opened last night in the Brevard high school auditorium. Sponsored by the Lewis Earle Jackson post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the event will be climaxed tonight when cash prizes will be awarded the best individuals and groups performing.

Square dance exhibitions were given last night by the Connettee, Sylvan Valley, Sylva and Ecusta square dance teams. If three of these teams dance in competition tonight, the group judged best will be awarded a silver trophy, Adjutant Jack Huggins announced.

String bands appearing on last night's program included the Crab creek band, Rosman Ramblers, Charlie Fisher and his Carolina Hillbillies, Enon Playboys, Ecusta String band, Bracken Family band, Wallace Galloway and his string band, and Uncle Doug and his radio gang, from Hendersonville. These bands and others who wish to enter the competitive contests will be heard tonight. The bands

Rev. J. B. McLarty To Deliver Address At Final Exercises Of College Sunday

Rev. James B. McLarty, pastor of the First Methodist church of Marion, will deliver the commencement address at the final graduating exercises of Brevard college Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Brevard Methodist church here. The commencement and baccalaureate services have been combined into one program, and following the Rev. McLarty's address, Dr. E. J. Coltrane, president of the local institution, will present diplomas to 37 graduates, which includes 17 students from the college division and 20 from the pre-college division.

A naval chaplain during World War II, the Rev. McLarty is a member of the board of trustees of Brevard college and is doing a great work in the cause of education and religion, Dr. Coltrane states.

Special music will be furnished by the Brevard college choir under the direction of Mrs. Elma Randall, Charles K. Findlay, cellist, who is a member of the Transylvania Music camp faculty and the Brevard Music festival symphony, and Mrs. Louise P. Miller, organist.

Announcement of honors Sunday night will be made by Dean J. J. Stevenson.

SEASON TO OPEN ON NOV. 10, TO STOP TRAPPING

Over 1,000 Hunters Are Expected In Forest. Ranger Makes Plea

REGULATIONS STIFFER

After a two-year closed season, deer hunting will be permitted in Transylvania county and the Pisgah National forest from Nov. 10 through Nov. 29, with stiffer than usual regulations, it is announced this week.

Hunters throughout the Southland are delighted over the announcement, and plans are being made to accommodate some 1,000 sportsmen here in the Pisgah during the period Nov. 10-22, Ranger W. W. Huber states.

"Local hunters should take the initiative and apply for applications immediately," the ranger declared. Letters may be addressed to Dr. Willis King, Director, North Carolina Wildlife Resources commission, it is stated.

With the announcement to open the hunting season for deer here this fall comes the vote of the commission to stop trapping on the Pisgah Game preserve.

Good Hunting

"The best hunting should be the best in the history of the forest," Ranger Huber commented. During the last open season it is reported that a total of 281 deer was killed. "This number should be exceeded this fall," Mr. Huber said.

Deer hunting will also be open in Buncombe, Henderson, Haywood, and in parts of McDowell and Yancey counties. The season limit will be one deer.

Regarding the stiffer regulations, one of the stipulations are: If you don't see the deer's antlers, don't shoot. Heretofore, the rules

MRS. PERKINS NOW HEAD OF HOSPITAL

Was Appointed By Board To Succeed Miss Petit. Report Is Made

Mrs. Gypsy Kyre Perkins was appointed by the hospital board of trustees as acting superintendent of the Transylvania community hospital to succeed Miss Lela Petit, who resigned last Friday to accept a position with a hospital in San Francisco, Calif.

A graduate of Sinai hospital in Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Perkins has been assistant superintendent of the hospital here for the past year and one-half and head of the operating room. Local doctors are high in their praise of her efficiency and ability.

At a meeting of the hospital board Tuesday night, it was reported that the hospital was still operating at a deficit, the amount for July being $246.29. This is due in part, it was explained, to the
