Boys Famed For Democratic Principles. To Sing At Blowing Rock Sun.

The 60 members of the Charlotte Rotary club's Boys' choir, famed for their democratic principles as well as their choral abilities, arrived Monday for a week's stay at Camp Transylvania and will be heard in concert at the camp auditorium Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock.

The choral ensemble will be directed by James Christian Pfohl with Miss June Faulk, accompanist, and their program will consist of semi-classical and popular songs. The public is invited to attend the concert free of charge.

"When we began the choir last year, we unanimously agreed to uphold the principles of democracy," said James P. McMillan, chairman of the Boys' choir committee of the club, who accompanied them here this week. He pointed out that choir members are chosen from the 20 schools in Charlotte and they represent every religious faith, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish.

"We have become quite renowned for just this reason," McMillan continued, "and hope to get a write-up in Life magazine soon. CBS has definitely promised us a coast-to-coast hook up in September. Next year we are scheduled to sing for Rotary International in New York."

The boys, who compose the choir, are chosen from the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. It is a revolving organization, due to the

To Hold Public Hearing Next Monday Regarding Mass Poisoning Of Dogs

Following a report of an investigator of the SBI, which tended to link the names of two Brevard policemen with the mass dog poisoning here recently, Mayor S. E. Varner, Sr., and the town board of aldermen are calling a public hearing next Monday night, June 21, at 7:30 o'clock in the mayor's court room over the city hall.

At a special call meeting Monday night of the mayor and the board of aldermen with the members of the police department, the report of the SBI representative was examined carefully and the officers in question flatly denied being connected in any way with the poisoning and said they would

Miss Nita Orr Will Give A Demonstration At Farmers Federation Tues.

Miss Nita Orr, state college specialist on frozen foods, will give a demonstration and hold a discussion on the value and use of frozen foods at the Farmers federation showroom here next Tuesday, June 22, at 2:00 p. m. Bill Barnard, supervisor of the federation locker plants, announces today.

In issuing a cordial invitation to the general public to attend the important event, Mr. Barnard says that Miss Orr will explain how a family can save at least $100 annually by using frozen food lockers or home freezers.

Refreshments from Skyline dairies, WNC's most modern dairy, which is operated by the federation, will be served next Tuesday afternoon following the demonstration and discussion, and a number of valuable prizes will be given, Mr. Barnard states.

INTEREST MOUNTS HERE IN RUN-OFF PRIMARY, JUNE 26

Only Democratic Judges Will Serve. Both Candidates Claim Victory

Considerable interest is being shown in Brevard and Transylvania in the run-off primary between Charles M. Johnson and Kerr Scott scheduled for Saturday, June 26.

In the first primary Johnson polled 1,123 votes in the county and Scott was third high man with 317. Albright ran second, having 598. Supporters of both Johnson and Scott in the town and county are campaigning rather vigorously for their candidate.

Under the North Carolina election law, only Democratic judges will serve in the second primary in Transylvania since there will be no Republican contest, Fred Shuford, chairman of the county board of elections, announces.

Additional Democratic judges are now being appointed and will be announced prior to the primary. Mr. Shuford states. There will be no additional registration as the same registration used in the first primary will be in effect on June 26.

From Raleigh headquarters, both Johnson and Scott this week released statements regarding the second primary. Johnson is charging his opponent of conducting his campaign with "deception", while Scott says that anti-machine voters all over the state who divided their ballots among the five independent Democratic candidates in the first primary are now backing him.

Johnston's Statement

Johnston said he desired to conduct his campaign on the highest plane possible, but that this has been made "exceedingly difficult because of the character and type of campaign" conducted by his opponent.

Johnston said it was necessary that the record be set straight. He

Tickets are now on sale for the second annual Brevard policemen's ball to be held at the country club on Friday night, June 25. Chief B. F. Banther announces today.

Music for the ball will be furnished by the Ecusta string band, and tickets may be secured from any member of the local police force at $1.00 each.

Last year the first annual policemen's ball here was highly successful and more than $500 was raised for the special work of the department, it is reported.

Many Attend Monday Night Street Dances

The first street dance of the summer Monday night proved successful and popular with townspeople, according to Doyle Wells, chairman of the committee, and the Jaycees will continue these square dances throughout the summer months.

Approximately 500 persons were present Monday on the roped off area in front of the Brevard high school and music was furnished by the Enon Playboys. Bill Warren was the caller.

An even larger crowd is expected next Monday night, Mr. Wells reports, and dancing will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

Brevard Woman Solos After Eight Hours

MRS. T. H. BARKER, pictured above in a shiny new airplane, has the distinction of being the first Brevard woman to solo after only eight hours of flying instruction. Mrs. Barker, wife of the popular city clerk, says she was once afraid of planes, but now it's quite the contrary. She received her flying instructions from Oscar Meyer, Jr., of Hendersonville, who taught GI's to fly during World War II.

MORGAN, who is secretary of the Sunday School division of the Baptist State convention in North Carolina, will arrive here this week end to personally direct a Sunday School enlargement campaign in the Transylvania association. Brevard Woman Says Learning To Fly Is Easy, Solos In Eight Hours "Learning to fly is easy" says Mrs. T. H. Barker, wife of the city clerk of Brevard.

And a look at her log of flying instructions would tend to verify her statement. Mrs. Barker took her first flying lesson on Mar. 17, 1948. After only eight hours of instruction by Oscar Meyer, noted flyer and instructor of Hendersonville, Mrs. Barker took off in a plane by herself for the first time and made a beautiful first solo flight.

She says she was naturally a little afraid at first, but now she takes spins and stalls as easy as people take curves in a car. During the course of training, these ma-neuvures are practiced as precautionary measures in order that the pilot will have a better understanding of the plane and what it will do, and before a pilot can get his or her license, he must put the plane through every test imaginable. Mrs. Barker contends that any person who can learn to drive a car or to roller skate, can learn to pilot an airplane.

The most thrilling and awe-inspiring incident Mrs. Barker says she had while learning to fly was when she was shown the pilot's cross. "While flying over white fleecy clouds one day with the sun shining brightly, the pilot tipped

MANY PROJECTS NOW UNDERWAY, OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Main Highways Are Being Resurfaced. Prison Camp Is Re-Opened

DUST-PROOFING ROUTES

Considerable improvements of the main and secondary roads in Transylvania county are now underway, a survey reveals today.

Highway 276 from Brevard to Asheville has been resurfaced to the county line, and similar work has been started on highway 64 to Hendersonville. One crew of men is at the present time repairing the shoulders and clearing curves and ditches on the same route and the work will be continued through Brevard to Rosman.

Major repair work is being done on the highway from Rosman to Lake Toxaway, and when completed, the highway will be considerably wider and a few dangerous curves eliminated, it is reported.

Asphalt On Club Road

The road from the Brevard city limits to the country club is now being surfaced with a layer of six inches of rock now being put down. A coat of asphalt will be laid when the rock has been packed and settled.

Since the opening of the prison camp at Calvert, additional labor has been put on the county roads, it is stated. There are approximately 55 convicts encamped and several crews are working on different projects in the county. One crew is operating the recently opened rock quarry at Penrose where gravel for the county roads is being obtained.

Two miles of the Crab Creek road, in Transylvania county at Little River, are being resurfaced with rock and asphalt, and when
