

GARDENING

M. C. Whitmire home has been enhanced by an excellent planting of especially fine dahlias, surrounded by gladioli, larkspur and petunias.

Laurels of the Month go to the ladies of Rosman—Mrs. Joe E. Osborne for her magnificent dahlias, roses and gladioli . . . to Mrs. Frantz Bishop, Mrs. Kay Collins, Mrs. E. H. Davis, Mrs. Paul Stroup, Mrs. Harold Hogsed, Mrs. Corriene Whitmire and many more of the Rosman Garden club ladies for the breath-taking beauty of colorful flower pots at their lots in the town to further the garden clubs project of beautification of Rosman. These ladies are to be commended for the floral beauty they have created, but most of all for such stately, beautiful white lilies . . . Congratulations to Mrs. Dorothy Paxton for the amazing abundance and loveliness of glorious flowers in so bright warm colors. You certainly possess a "green thumb", Mrs. Paxton.

Something to remember: "Whatever time or life may bring, beauty lives on in spite of anything." So long, gardeners!

People South Of Mason-Dixon Line Dislike H. Wallace

(Elkin Tribune)

One of the mistakes made to date by Henry Wallace in his campaign to be elected President of the United States on the Progressive ticket, was his tour of the Southern States. That his visit to North Carolina was greeted with eggs and tomatoes was unfortunate for the good name of our people, but Wallace, if perchance he should pause and meditate upon it, should realize that he wasn't too wise in the course he took while in the South land.

Of course if Wallace desired to stay in the homes of Negro citizens while in the South, that is all right by us. But it appears, things being as they are, that the Progressive candidate went out of his way to do things to alienate the Southern people. We cannot help but wonder if he, rather than attempting to befriend the cause of the Southern Negro, wasn't really using them as a tool in his own particular brand of politics. He evidently never heard of the old saying: "When in Rome do as the Romans do."

To Conduct Revival Here

Pictured above is Dr. F. M. Powell, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, of Tupelo, Miss., who will conduct revival services at the First Baptist church here from September 26 through October 6. Services will be held daily at 7:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. On Sunday services will be held at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Dr. Powell is said to be one of the outstanding ministers in the Baptist denomination in the South. For 20 years he was professor of church history at the Southern Baptist theological seminary at Louisville, Ky. He has served the church at Tupelo for a number of years.

Hold Third Sunday Singing Sunday At Mt. Moriah Calvert

The regular Third Sunday Singing convention will be held at Mt. Moriah-Calvert Baptist church this Sunday afternoon beginning at 2:00, it was learned here today from the president, Glenn Winchester.

Among the outstanding trios that have accepted an invitation to attend the singing event is the Wilson trio, of Pelzer, S. C. These singers were heard here at the Fifth Sunday convention held last May and were well received. Other trios, quartets and singing leaders have been invited to attend.

The Mt. Moriah-Calvert church is located seven miles from Brevard on the Rosman highway.

The president extends an invitation to all visitors and gospel music lovers to attend.

The Fisher Reunion

(From Front Page, Second section) spread on the long table. I do not exaggerate when I say that was the most food I have seen on a table since I have been in North Carolina and I confess I did a pretty good job of making a pig of myself. In fact, I helped myself so freely that I did not get around to the excellent barbecue that Sam Allison had prepared for the event. After we had gorged ourselves, Mrs. Norton came up with what she called her "register" and asked us to put our names in it. She explained that for weeks and years afterward she looked over the roster and thought about the names she found entered there. What a sweet and gracious and thoughtful thing to do . . . to live those days over again by remembering those who were there! She told us she had another book completely filled with names.

On the way up, we stopped at Walt McNeely's store to ask directions. I immediately looked to see if there were any parking meters in front of his as he boasts, and found none. We tried to get him to go along with us, but he allowed he couldn't since he was feeling somewhat tuckered from having spent a good part of the night before cutting wood to cook the barbecue.

I think I can speak for all of our group when I say we enjoyed the reunion thoroughly. The day was ideal, bright and balmy with just a suggestion of fall in the air and as we feasted on those delectable rations we enjoyed them all the more because we felt we were genuinely welcome.

Morris Completes Basic Training

Fort Dix, N. J., Sept. 16—Recruit Ellis H. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Morris, P. O. Box 531, has completed Army basic training with the 39th Infantry Regiment of the 9th Infantry Division, Fort Dix, New Jersey, and will visit home before reporting to new assignment.

Recruit Morris attended Brevard schools and enlisted on July 6.

in the South was no doubt of great aid and comfort to Moscow. For whether he repudiates Communist support or not, the Communists have certainly not repudiated him. The evidence would tend to show they love him like a brother.

Wallace was misinformed about the South in more ways than one. He seemed to be of the opinion that all Southerners are existing on a diet of cornbread and peas and are in a deplorable state of poverty. Of course we have our "po' folks," but we doubt that conditions are any worse than in the slum infested areas of the enlightened North.

Mr. Wallace, we think, would have been wise to have stayed above the Mason-Dixon line and to have left the South alone. Our people may be at odds with one another concerning Truman and Thurmond, but as far as Wallace is concerned, they are in complete accord — they want none of him!

Ties that bind

They're more than just ties in Southern Railway track!

They're ties that bind neighbor to neighbor . . . friend to friend . . . ties that draw the family circle closer.

They're ties that bind the rich resources of the South's forests, fields and mines to the productive wheels of its industry. . . ties that bind its ever-growing output to great consuming and distributing centers.

They're ties that bind community to community throughout the South . . . making it one of the fastest-growing industrial spots on earth . . . bringing greater opportunity and a brighter future to all its people. Best of all, they're ties that bind us to you.
