Rambling With The Sports Editor

INTEREST INCREASING . . . Members of the Transylvania Wildlife club have launched a very worthy project, that of providing food for small game in the county. Rex L. Bird, state biologist, spoke at the regular meeting of the local organization last week and vividly outlined the program. With the cooperation of farmers and others here, the program will restore better living and reproductive conditions to the land for farm game and other wildlife. All readers of The Times are urged to carefully read the report of the wildlife meeting of last Thursday.

VACATIONING . . . The Tornadoes of Brevard college, after setting a record by scoring 80 points in one game here on the local hardwood, are on vacation this week. With the new semester opening the first of next week, the college cagers again open conference play at Greenville Monday night. Watch this boy Jack McCauley; he has been high scorer in nearly every game Brevard has played this year. And if you remember, he was the star end on the football team last fall.

HIGH MAN . . . Just because he's way over six feet tall isn't the reason for the "High Man" caption. We're referring to Brevard's outstanding bowler, Bill Bridges, who is really bowling them over in the Western North Carolina ten pin league. His average of 185-29 per game is tops to date, and his high game and set last week were the best of the eight teams. Don't be surprised if he doesn't walk off with the season's best average, top line and best game.

TO CRACK DOWN . . . The Law Enforcement division of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources commission has been instructed to bear down on violations of laws and regulations governing fresh water fishing throughout 1950, according to Clyde P. Patton, executive director. "Particular attention will be given to violations regarding the use of illegal devices," Patton said. "Fresh water game fish may be taken legally only by hook and line, rod and reel, or by casting. Game fish taken incidental to the removal of non-game species must be returned to the water." The Law Enforcement division has been instructed to check all inland water fishermen to ascertain that they possess proper licenses. All fishing licenses expire with the calendar year except combination hunting and fishing licenses, which are valid from August 1 to July 31. Close attention will be given to insure that prescribed size and creel limits are observed.

BASKETBALL MUDDLE . . . This season Southeastern conference and Southern conference basketball is in quite a muddled condition. In the past 10 days, Tennessee defeated powerful Kentucky in the Southeastern loop and then came to Asheville and took a decisive licking from Wake Forest Deacs who in turn were beaten on Monday night by an up and coming Tar Heel. The Carolina-Wake Forest game was a thriller, with the Deacons leading up to the last couple of minutes, only to succumb, 54-50.

Pisgah Motor Court Bowlers Continue Their Winning Streak

Bill Bridges Wins Weekly Honors In Loop; Has Best Average

The Pisgah Motor court bowlers, led by the brilliant rolling of Bill Bridges, captured another match in the Western North Carolina ten pin league and are now tied for third place in the loop.

In defeating Ecusta 2-1, Pisgah rolled a total of 2,827 pins, while the losers had a 2,837 total.

Bridges captured all single honors of the league during the week by rolling a 679 total and a 259 game. His average of 185-29 is the best in the league so far this season.

While the Ecusta team had the highest total score in the match with Pisgah, the winners had the best game of the week with a score of 1,013.

Individual scores of the two teams were as follows: Pisgah—Reynolds, 550, Conley 519, Rogers 534, Oates 545 and Bridges 679; Ecusta—Morris 560, Galloway 612, Emory 599, Colwell 557 and Straus 509.

COLLEGE CAGERS SET RECORD HERE

Score Total Of 80 Points Against Mitchell Quintet Last Friday

After getting off to a slow start, the 1950 cagers at Brevard college trounced the Mitchell Junior college quintet here last Friday night by the score of 80 to 49.

The 80 points the Tornadoes scored is a record on the college hardwood, and the victory marks the initial win of the season for the locals.

The issue was never in doubt. With Jack McCauley, Brewer and Wilkinson hitting the bucket for 23, 22 and 19 points, respectively, the Tornado swirled to a triumph.

The line-ups:

Brevard (80)	Pos.	Mitchell (49)
McCauley, 23	F	Sherrell, 6
Brewer, 22	F	Pearson, 5
Davis, 10	C	Hutchins, 13
York	G	Turnipseed, 4
Wilkinson, 19	G	Brittain, 20

Subs: Brevard, Smith (2), Welch (4), L. Smith, Greenway, Mitchell; Shelton (1), Nash, Brown, Miller.

BLUE DEVILS DROP DOUBLE BILL HERE

Teams Given Vacation For Exams; To Play Christ School Next Week

Tryon's high school cagers took a doubleheader from Brevard last Friday night on the local court, with the girls winning 28-18 and the boys taking a 47-41 victory.

The Blue Devil teams are on vacation this week, but practice will be resumed by Monday following the end of exams. The next game is scheduled with Christ school at Arden next Wednesday afternoon.

Captain Bob Morris and Jack Eubanks shared the spotlight in the close game last week with Tryon. Both local boys scored 16 points each.

"Maybe we'll hit our stride after exams are over," Coach D. G. Dail said yesterday.

Request Breeding Stock For Pisgah Forest Deer Herd

Request has been made by the Transylvania Wildlife club to the North Carolina Wildlife Resources commission for new deer breeding stock to be brought into Pisgah National forest game preserve as a possible means of strengthening the blood of the deer, and especially to increase the size of deer.

It was pointed out at the meeting held here last Thursday night that the size of kills made in the last two years was way below average for previous years, and that while heads and antlers were perfectly formed, sizes of the deer taken were considerably smaller.

New bucks brought into the forest, possibly from Wisconsin or other areas where large deer are known to exist, would in the minds of many of the local hunters add to the bloodstrain and at the same time, size of the deer here.

Wildlife Club Holds Important Meeting, Project Is Launched

Members Encouraging The Growing Of Food For Small Game

An effort will be made by members of the Transylvania Wildlife club to increase small game and quail in this county, it was decided at the meeting held here last Thursday night.

Cover and food crops will be planted by members who own property in the county, and in addition, landowners are being asked to cooperate in planting of bicolor serotia and multiflora rose, both of which plants grow in hedgings and are excellent food for small game.

Rex L. Bird, district biologist, was speaker at the meeting and explained that the North Carolina Wildlife Resources commission through its cooperative farm game habitat development program, is distributing free of charge three perennial plants with the confidence that they will fill these requirements.

As pointed out by Mr. Bird, the small game and birds on the farms have decreased at an alarming rate during the past few years, and various means of improving the farm game supply have been tried. One of these was restocking with pen-raised game, mainly quail, which proved to be a waste.
