

Oddities In The News

ONLY NOSE GETS CUT

In Tampa, Fla., a 52-car freight train hit an automobile. The car was hurled 42 feet against the signal. The driver, Peter Mortellaro, was pinned inside. When passengers freed him he got out and shook himself. He suffered a small cut on the nose.

CHANGES NAME TO MARRY

"She says she won't marry me with my name," said Steven S. Jackimovisz to Judge William F. Cotter in Detroit. "It's either change it or lose the woman I love." The judge said he wouldn't stand in his way and added: "You may go now, Mr. Jackson."

"CHILDREN WELCOME"

Six-room, furnished house for rent," read a want ad in Duluth (Minn.) newspaper, "children welcome."

In a few hours Mrs. E. E. Chartier, the landlady who placed the ad, had 107 telephone calls. She finally rented the house to a family of five.

Mrs. Chartier said she once had walked Duluth streets for days, unable to find a house because she had four daughters.

WILD THROW IS COSTLY

Angry because his car would not start, Arnold Weldron, of Jackson, Mich., pulled off one of his overshoes and hurled it at the machine. The shoe, instead, went through a window and injured Mrs. Weldron, who had been looking on from the inside of their home.

ODOR ANNOYS DRIVER

It must be spilled oil that produced the burning smell coming from under his automobile hood, thought W. T. Ellis, of Memphis, when he first noticed the rather disagreeable odor.

Three days later he investigated. He found a singed and pretty bedraggled white hen atop the motor and two eggs on the manifold, one broken and the other perfect. Ellis estimated he had taken the hen for a 90-mile ride.

ROBBER THINKS FAST

"There's a fire in the house!" screamed a man R. L. Thain found in his home in Vancouver, Canada. The intruder fled in the confusion that followed. There was no fire.

TAKES CENSUS AGAIN

Census taking is a familiar job for Mrs. Pearl Wilson, of Berwyn, Md. She helped take the census in 1920 and again in 1930 and is on the staff for the 1950 national check-up.

"I just couldn't pass this one up," she said. "You meet nice people."

COAL POURS INTO HOME

There is no coal shortage in the home of Lige Pope, in Kenvir, Ky. When two trucks loaded with coal collided one banged into Pope's house and deposited a whole load through a window.

GOOD SAMARITAN ROBBED

Danny Hartloff, Jr., parked his car and went to the aid of a truck driver whose vehicle was stalled, near Tacoma, Wash. When he returned to his car personal belongings worth $125 had been stolen.

HOG LIVES IN SNOW

While walking through deep snow in his farm yard, Barney Loftsguard, of Richland Mont., stumbled over a hump.

He dug up a hog which had been missing for some time. "It's thin, but I think it will pull through," he reported.

PASSENGERS TAKE BUS

An unidentified bus driver in Miami learned it isn't safe to park a bus and leave for a cup of coffee.

While he was gone two passengers took over and drove away with the bus. They were caught later and jailed.

CONVERTED TO CHURCH

Chairs, tables and bar are being removed from the Pleasure Inn night club, in Decatur, Ill. Church pews, a pulpit and a Sunday school room will take their place.

Opening services of the new church were held by the Baptist congregation Easter Sunday.

Two Local Scholars Are On Honor Roll

Two students from Transylvania county were named to the honor roll at Western Carolina Teachers college for the winter quarter ending March 9th, it is revealed by Miss Addie Beam, registrar.

On the Alpha, or A honor roll, is Alonzo Warren, of Brevard, and listed on the Beta roll is Virginia L. Kilpatrick, also of Brevard.

A total of 116 students were listed on the honor rolls, and this number comprises 20 per cent of the student body.

SMART FELLOW

"I can't understand why you stayed out so long with such a terrific dancer as Ted." "Well, he showed me some new steps—and we sat on them."

SELICA NEWS

By MRS. WARD BREEDLOVE

Rev. F. A. Raines will preach at Selica church Sunday morning and Rev. James Allred will preach Sunday night. The public is invited to attend these services.

Mrs. Fred Mull and family of Shelby, spent the Easter holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Green.

Mrs. Tom McKinney gave a nice Easter party and egg hunt for her children, May Ellen and Jack, at their home here Sunday afternoon. They and their little friends had a nice time.

Rev. Freeman Galloway and family and Mr. and Mrs. Elza Barton attended church at Montvale Sunday and enjoyed a picnic dinner at White Water Falls. Mr. Galloway is pastor of Montvale church.

Mrs. Robert Garren, of Brevard, visited her sister, Mrs. Tom McKinney, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cavines, of Canton, were visiting relatives in this section recently.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Lambert Gillespie. He was one of our oldest residents.

Mrs. Lavada Ashe has moved to South Carolina.

We sure are proud of our road building program in this section.

Mrs. Crate McCall and son, Jr., returned to their home at Arlington, Va., after spending a few weeks with relatives here.

We are glad to know that we will soon have a radio station of our own. We are proud of the work The Transylvania Times staff is doing to build up our county.

A nice egg hunt was enjoyed by the children of Selica Sunday School Sunday.

What we often mistake for a clear conscience is nothing but a poor memory.

Hubby (after an airplane ride): As I contemplated the wonders of nature from high in the sky, I realized how insignificant is man.

Wife: Humph! A woman can see that without going up in a plane.

Proposed Sewer Improvements

Recommendations for improvement to our sewer system by John J. Harte, engineer employed by the town to make a survey of our water and sewer systems and propose plans for their expansion and improvement, are:

1. Immediate construction of trunk sewer along King's Creek, beginning at western city limit and extending to French Broad River. This will furnish sewer facilities for the Kings Mill Road, Kings Creek Road and Pisgah Mills area, and also the section north of the railroad. It will also relieve the dangerous situation through the Brevard College property, where we have an open sewer for half a mile.
2. Replace 8-inch tannery sewer with a 12-inch line at the upper end and replace 12-inch line below junction with Jumping Branch sewer with 18-inch line. This will stop periodic blow-outs on this line and relieve unsanitary conditions along Brushy Creek. It will also save a considerable amount of maintenance cost.
3. Construct primary sewage treatment plant. This is considered a requirement by federal and state stream pollution authorities in very near future and we must prepare for it.

4. Construct trunk line from city limit along Hendersonville highway to Kings Creek sewer, with laterals into College Heights section and up Mclean road.

5. Construct trunk line on North Brevard street to French Broad street.

6. Extend Maple street sewer into Maple street extension and on to connect with Tannery sewer, provided that this section is incorporated in town limits.

7. Construct laterals into unsewered areas of the town to furnish sewer facilities wherever petitioned by property owners.

If North Brevard and Green Acres Are Incorporated In Town Limits:

1. Construct trunk line from Hendersonville highway at Mr. Sam Allison's, down Lambo Creek to Kings Creek sewer.
2. Extend trunk line along Hendersonville highway with laterals into Green Acres and Hillcrest sections.
3. Construct laterals along Neely road and Highway 280 to connect with Hendersonville highway trunk sewer.

4. Construct trunk line from Hendersonville highway down creek between Gallimore Hill and Mills place to treatment plant on river, with laterals to serve Norwood subdivision areas and remainder of North Brevard.

The improvements outlined above will cost approximately $300,000. If the areas mentioned outside of town are not incorporated into the town limits, of course we cannot make the improvements proposed there. This will reduce the total expenditure from one-fourth to one-third. That would be most unfortunate because it would mean those sections would be hampered in their growth. We need them to grow along with us.
