Rambling With The Sports Editor

BIG WINNERS . . . We had no idea that anybody could pick nine winners out of the 11 bowl games we had listed last week, but four people picked eight and nine, and so we are awarding them the theatre tickets.

BETTY SORRELLS wins first place and will receive six tickets with the compliments of Managers Carter and Shiflet of the Clemson and Co-Ed theatres. She and the other winners can pick them up at The Times office.

MRS. ALVIN HUBBARD walked away with second prize and she will receive three tickets. MAXINE SORRELLS, third place, and she gets two tickets. WALKER MILLNER, who was a consistent winner in our contest all fall is in fourth position, and he gets one ticket.

TENNESSEE-TEXAS . . . The Volunteers of Tennessee should be ranked No. 1 in the nation according to our calculations for the way in which they handled a Texas team that by all rights should have defeated Oklahoma. The Vols, under the tutorage of Major Bob Neyland, played a brand of ball in the Cotton Bowl that could not be denied. After trailing most of the game and with time running out they pulled the game out of the fire with a fourth quarter touchdown that took the heart out of a fighting Longhorn team.

CLEMSON-MIAMI . . . We believe the people who made the disparaging remark: "Where is Clemson, anyway?" have at last found out. The Tigers clawed the Hurricane to the tune of 15 to 14 to put Clemson on the map in big block letters for Miamians.

MICHIGAN-CALIFORNIA . . . The Wolverines of Michigan with a complete reversal of their first half form dominated the second half in their Rose Bowl game with the Golden Bears and emerged victor, 14 to 6. I guess the Pacific Coast conference bigwigs would like to get out of their contract to play Rose Bowl games only with Big Ten foes now that they have failed to get a win in five tries from the midwestern conference.

KENTUCKY-OKLAHOMA . . . The 31-game winning streak of the Sooners went by the boards as they bowed to a fighting Kentucky eleven that did everything right. The final score was 14 to 7 and Oklahoma didn't make their marker until late in the fourth quarter. Kentucky dominated the play most of the game and smothered the Oklahoma vaunted running attack. This Kentucky team is the same one that Tennessee defeated recently 7 to 0. We would like to see The Vols placed No. 1 in the nation because, we believe, they richly deserve it.

LOCAL HUNTERS BAG 12 GEESE, DUCKS IN EAST

Bikas And Tinsley Return From Lake Mattamuskeet Hunting Trip

By LLOYD BURHANS
Have you ever heard the loud honk of a formation of high-flying Canada geese as the precisely formed V circles in over a Southern swamp for a stop along the migration route from the North? It is thrilling to see and hear, but to a hunter it is an experience unexcelled in the realm of the shooter.

Two local hunters recently returned from Lake Mattamuskeet where they experienced such a thrill and brought back proof of their shooting endeavor. Pete Bikas and Bob Tinsley went to the lake after Christmas and, with a guide skilled in assisting hunters, made kills in the swampy borders of the lake which is near New Holland in the Pamlico Sound area of Eastern North Carolina.

The two hunters, in recounting their experience, described the methods used in outwitting the webfooted birds from the North. The guide previously had prepared a blind of sticks and reeds to obscure the hunters from their quarry. He also provided decoys, which were arranged in the water to attract the incoming birds to a point near the shooters' waiting place.

During the first day of hunting eight ducks were killed by the two local sportsmen including three black ducks (the largest species killed), two green-winged teal, two of the colorful mallards and one pintail. On December 28, the second day of hunting, they went to another area with a different guide and each killed two Canada geese, the limit allowed by law. Tinsley reported that one goose, which his shot had injured, nearly got away by swimming unnoticed through the reeds and swamp grass. But after some hard running through knee-deep water he was able to recover his bird, but another shot was needed to stop it from swimming away.

Tinsley and Bikas were showing their bags of two geese and four ducks each with well-earned pride when they returned last Friday.

LOCAL ATHLETES ENLIST IN NAVY

Mitchell And Ratchford Now En Route To California For Training

Tommy Mitchell, who starred on the 1950 Brevard college football team, and Bobby Ratchford, another local athlete, enlisted in the Navy at Raleigh last week end.

At the present time they are en route to San Diego, Calif., where they will take their boot training. Afterwards, the two men will pick the branch of the Navy in which they desire technical training.

Mitchell was the outstanding player on the 1948 Brevard high school team, winning the Lance trophy. Ratchford was a star end, and they won their letters in basketball and also tennis at Brevard college.

Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Mitchell, of Brevard, and Ratchford's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Ratchford. Prior to enlistment, he was attending State college at Raleigh.

Brevard College Will Open 1951 Cage Season Next Week, First Home Game Wednesday

Welch And Dillard Join The Squad; Players Return After Holidays

Cagers of Brevard college returned to the campus on Tuesday after the Christmas holidays, and Coach Bob Andrews immediately started long and hard workouts.

The team is getting set for the first home game here next Tuesday night with the strong Lees-McRae quintet. According to Andrews, the game was originally scheduled in February, but was changed to next Tuesday, affording local fans an early opportunity to see the 1951 cage edition here at Brevard college.

On Monday night the Tornados travel to Cullowhee to meet the WCTC "B" varsity, and "we're expecting to have our hands full," Andrews declared yesterday.

Considerable improvement work has been completed in the college gym, and Andrews urges all the friends of the institution to attend the first home game next Tuesday. The floor has been resanded and repainted; a modern heating system with ample blowers has been installed, and new goals have been erected.

The strength of the team was increased this week when Bernie Welch and Jim Dillard reported for their initial workouts. Both men were injured last fall in football games and should prove to be a big factor in Brevard's anticipated victories.

Welch was one of the mainstays on last year's cage team, alternating with Kenny Davis at the center post.

Dillard is a new face on the basketball floor of Brevard college. He was a star on the Pickens, S. C., high school team prior to coming here.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

Father's face was dark with anger as he faced his wife and son in the living room.

"That boy has taken money from my pocket!" he stormed.

"How can you say that, I might have done it," protested the wife.

Father replied bitterly, "It couldn't have been you, for there was some left."

AMATEUR

At the last home talent golf tournament, the club secretary caught one of the entrants driving off about a foot in front of the teeing mark.

"Here!" he cried indignantly. "You can't do that. You're disqualified."

"What for?" demanded the perturbed golfer.

"Why you're driving off in front of the mark."

The player looked at the secretary with pity. "Gwan back to the clubhouse, I'm playing my third stroke."

Mike: 'Tis a fine kid you have there. A magnificent head and noble features. Say, could you lend me a couple of dollars?

Pat: I could not. 'Tis my wife's child by her first husband.

THE SNEAK THIEF

"You can't trust anybody, these days," the young wife said bitterly as she met her husband at the door one evening.

"What's happened now, dear?" "That new maid stole two of our best towels—the ones embroidered 'St. Regis Hotel' and 'YMCA.'"
