Mayor Urges Clean-Up, Improvements Cited

TOWN CAMPAIGN IS POSTPONED DUE TO REPAIRS

Brevard College Campus Is Getting New Face; Highway Work Is Done

HD CLUBS ARE BUSY

Owing to the condition of the streets because of the expansion of the water and sewerage systems, the annual town-wide spring clean-up campaign has been deferred to the latter part of May or the first of June. However, Mayor S. E. Varner today issues a strong plea to all citizens urging them to clean up their premises.

"The town garbage truck will gladly cooperate with all individuals in disposing of trash," the mayor declared.

Brevard college is now taking the lead in the movement this year by extensive improvements on the campus. New roadways are being constructed and unsightly fences are being removed in order that local persons and visiting sightseers might get a better view of the beautiful campus of the college.

Considerable planting of shrubs and terracing are being done, and work on a garden and lily pond, which is being given by Mrs. J. H. Dickelimer, is progressing nicely.

The appearance of highways leading into Brevard is being improved by the State Highway department, and officials of Sapphire Manor, new sub-development at the city limits of Brevard on the Greenville highway, are completing landscaping.

American GI Has Other Tasks Now

A corporal from Massachusetts is shown in a foxhole somewhere in Korea reading a booklet on how to escape injury in an atomic attack. Now he and his buddies of the United Nations forces are taxed to their utmost to halt a determined drive by the Chinese Reds, which General Ridgway, United Nations commander, said would be decisive. Performance Of Wallace The Magician To Highlight 1951 Cancer Drive In Transylvania

Performance Is Sponsored Jointly By College And Cancer Society

A two-hour performance by Wallace, the magician, is being sponsored here at 8 o'clock this Friday night in the Brevard high school auditorium jointly by the Transylvania Cancer society and the Brevard college entertainment series.

Persons who have purchased tickets to the college programs will be admitted upon presentation of these.

An admission will be charged all others, with proceeds going into the current cancer campaign fund.

Wallace is known as the clever magician who catches pigeons from the air, rabbits from nowhere and other animals from everywhere. He travels with a large menagerie of animals and a great deal of equipment. The fame of this magician has made him highly in demand in the South. He is particularly entertaining because of the fact that he talks all the time he works.

His finale is remarkable, introducing one of the most spectacular illusions ever seen, called the "super-vanish extraordinary." In this effect, a menagerie of animals and birds and a beautiful lamp all disappear in the twinkling of an eye. The tables upon which they were placed are then taken apart for examination and not a trace of the pretty birds and animals can be seen.

J. M. Gaines was called to Memphis, Tenn., on Tuesday, due to the death of his father, J. S. Gaines.

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED FOR NEXT PLAY PRODUCTION

Little Theatre President Says That Situation Is Now Critical

A plea is being made this week by Mrs. Ray Winchester, Brevard Little Theatre president, for volunteers to help with committee work for the next scheduled production, "Night Must Fall."

This play is already in rehearsal and will be given in the American Legion building here on May 15 and 16.

"We are in urgent need of a stage manager, and unless someone soon speaks up we will have to get one from the Hendersonville group," Mrs. Winchester points out. She further said that unless more interest is shown in the technical committees of the Little Theatre, there will be little chance for a working organization next year.

Anyone who will volunteer their services for the stage, property and costuming committees may call Mrs. Winchester at 25-W after 4 p. m.

Teen-Age Party Is Slated Saturday

The activities committee of the Brevard P-TA is sponsoring another in the series of "Teen-Age" parties this Saturday night in the NYA hut beginning at 8 p. m.

The menu for the supper includes fried chicken, potato salad, assorted meats and cheeses and other delicatessens.

ENROLLMENT OF ADULT LEADERS IS SUCCESSFUL

Transylvania Goes Over The Top In 1951 Scout Campaign

For the first time in several years the Boy Scout adult membership drive has passed its quota by some $13.00, it was learned today from Ray Hoper, the chairman.

This year's quota was $1900 and Mr. Hooper reports on hand to date $1913.

In addition to the above mentioned sum the treasurer of the fund drive also reported a collection of $60.00 for the lake restoration fund.

Mr. Hooper was high in his praise of the volunteer solicitors. "They are the ones who did all the work," the chairman stated. "I only collected the amount from them, and I want to express my deep appreciation for the wonderful spirit of cooperation shown." Mr. Hooper also pointed out that this large amount of cash, exceeding the quota, indicated that there is a decided increase in interest shown Boy Scouting in the Transylvania district.

COMMERCE GROUP MAKING CANVASS

Directors Are Contacting Membership; Next Meet On May 8th

The directors of the Brevard chamber of commerce are this week and next contacting the membership in an effort to raise funds for the 1951 budget.

It is hoped that as many members as possible can be contacted by the regular meeting night on Tuesday, May 8th, and that a financial report can be made at that time.

President E. O. Roland urges each member to meet his pledge as soon as possible.

"This year is a critical one and there is much work for the chamber of commerce to do," he declared. In enumerating the activities of the organization thus far this year, Dr. Roland refers to the important Brevard college loyalty campaign, which is being continued. Housing is still a current problem, and the chamber is doing all it can to encourage the building of houses and apartments in the town and county.

The tourist season is just around the corner, and it is at this time that the chamber renders service to more people. Funds will be needed for this work, he said.

A total of 100 pints was contributed by the Rosman people, which is an average of one person out of every five in the community. Some 108 were registered to donate. Mrs. Donald Nelson led the recruitment of blood donors as she contacted 70 persons, who agreed to give.

Mrs. Joe Osborne was recruitment chairman and Mrs. Inez Whitmore was co-chairman. A large number of Rosman people assisted in the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ramsay are the parents of a daughter, Cynthia Jane, born at Transylvania Community hospital Monday, April 23. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

Final Contributions Should Put County Over The Top In The 1951 Red Cross Roll Call

MANY CHURCHES TO OBSERVE 4-H CHURCH SUNDAY

To Place Emphasis Upon Enriching Spiritual Life Of Young People

Several churches in Transylvania county are cooperating in the observance of "4-H Church Sunday" this Sunday, April 28, when special emphasis will be placed on enriching the spiritual life of young people.

According to Wade W. Johnson, assistant county agent, Little River, Pisgah Forest and Oak Grove churches have designated their desire to participate, along with possible others.

"Working Together For World Understanding" is the theme of this year's observance, and according to 4-H leaders, "it is not our purpose to use the church as a means of promoting interest in 4-H work, but rather to help every 4-H boy and girl to seek out the truths of life, and to help to broaden the influence of the Christian church in this community."

Chairman Holmes Enumerates Services Of Humane Organization Here

Red Cross pledges that are expected to be turned in this week will put Transylvania chapter over the top in the quota for $4,266, according to figures given by the Rev. J. Julian Holmes, chapter chairman, at noon Wednesday.

Following announcement in last week's Times that the quota was within $300 of being in, several checks have been received, Mr. Holmes said, and he makes request that any persons who have not been contacted in the canvass by the volunteer workers to leave their donations with C. M. Douglas, Jerry Jerome or The Times in order that the drive may be successfully ended by Saturday of this week.

"The Transylvania chapter merits above ordinary support and people in this county have in the past consistently given the quota each year and over because of the fact that more than 50 people donate their time to carry on the various phases of Red Cross activities," Mr. Holmes said.

Mr. Holmes pointed to the blood bank visit to Rosman last week as one of the several successful projects which are carried on and to which the public gave good re-
