Ecustan Brings In First Bear Of 1951 Season

LEORA BAYNARD, who works in the Pulp mill of the Ecusta Paper corporation, and his father, left, brought in the first bear of the 1951 season. He made the kill on a private preserve in the Turkey creek section of Transylvania recently. The bear weighed over 350 pounds, and the dog that Mr. Baynard is holding is one of the famous Plott bear dogs from Haywood county. At the present time a bear hunt is going on in the Sherwood area, and the season for both bear and deer opens in the Pisgah on November 19. It will remain open for three weeks.

GOOD CLUB . . . About 22 mountain climbers reported a fine time last Sunday afternoon when the newly organized hikers' club went up on top of Looking Glass Rock in the Pisgah. The group was led by Charles Moore and wildlife specialist Charles Coffin. They pointed out several deer and Mr. Coffin spotted some signs of bears having been in the vicinity. The hikers were yelling for more and a trip to the Sherwood Forest area is planned for this Saturday.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . The Ecusta bowling team in the WNC ten pin league has climbed into a tie for first place with Hendrix and Champion Y. All three teams have 17 wins and 10 losses . . . Lewis Meece last week led the local bowlers to victory with games of 205, 200 and 198 for a 603 set . . . The Brevard legionnaires are now climbing, taking three from Asheville Bowling Center . . . Even if you don't plan to attend, be sure to buy a ticket for the Brevard Jayvee-Hendersonville Jayvee game Thursday. All proceeds go to benefit the hospital fund. Tickets are now on sale by the high school students and at Jones News Stand, Varner's, The Times and at The Coffee Shop . . . Transylvania football fans galore attended the Clemson-Wake Forest football game on Saturday, but we must confess we enjoyed listening to the Duke-Tech game in the stands more than we did watching the Deacons play on the field. This went double for Rev. Julian Holmes . . .

THE WINNERS . . . Lessie Sorrells last week picked eight out of 11 winners in our football contest. Lessie missed the score of the Brevard-Mars Hill game by five points taking first place and winning three tickets to the Co-Ed or Clemson. Mrs. Eugene King will get two tickets, compliments of Managers Carter and Shiflet, for her second place entry. Mrs. King also picked eight winners but missed the score by eight points.

THIS WEEK'S CONTEST . . . Be sure to enter our contest. It is becoming more difficult each week to pick a winner, but you might win yourself some theatre tickets with the compliments of Managers Carter and Shiflet of the Clemson and the Co-Ed. All you have to do is to pick the winners of the 11 games listed below and guess only the score of the Carolina-Virginia game.

Blue Devils Win Eighth Game By Defeating Mars Hill, 14-0

Good Crowd Out For Parents' Night. Grant And McGaha Are Stars

The Brevard Blue Devils won their eighth game of the season here Monday night by trouncing the Wildcats of Mars Hill to the tune of 14-0.

In spite of the cold weather, a good crowd turned out to see the Blue Devils in action and to participate in the events of Parents' night. During half-time the fathers and mothers of the team, cheerleaders, etc., were introduced by the boys themselves, who were presented by Bob Kimzey, Jr., president of the Monogram club. The game was never in doubt.

The once-beaten Brevard aggregation—losers only to Waynesville this year—proved too rugged on defense for Mars Hill's T-offense. Time and again Harold Higgins, Mars Hill's stellar T-quarterback, was unable to unlimber his aerial arm due to the hard-charging Blue Devils. And Mars Hill has depended mostly on passing this year. Brevard, playing without the services of its brilliant halfback Carl Compton who is out with injuries, found a top-notch runner in Co-Captain Graham Grant as well as a top pass-snatcher in end Gene McGaha. Both boys proved smooth in keeping the Blue Devils' grid machine rolling. —Turn To Page Five
