

Rides Ike's Bandwagon In Brevard

The two young ladies above, who are employed in the finishing department of the Ecusta Paper corporation, made an agreement as to the Eisenhower-Stevenson race, and the winner was to receive a free wheelbarrow ride from Farmers Federation, across the square here in Brevard down to the bank. You guessed it: Mrs. Theresa Bedsole lost and is doing the pushing, while Miss Lucy Smith is riding Ike's bandwagon. (Times Staff Photo)

REMODELLING ON WALTERMIRE IS NOW COMPLETED

Ridgeway Says Rooms Now Available For Transients, Permanent Residents

Extensive remodeling of the Waltermire hotel here has been completed by the lessee, Otis E. Ridgeway, Sr., who said that in making this improvement his objective was to give Brevard a modern commercial and tourist hotel. The need for such an establishment has been acute in Brevard for many years.

Rooms are available, Mr. Ridgeway said, for both transients and permanent residents. Hot water and heat are furnished at all times, he stated.

Mr. Ridgeway is a native of Greenville, S. C., and lived there all his life before coming to Brevard. For many years he was engaged in the real estate business in Greenville.

Mr. Ridgeway is the father of Otis E. Ridgeway, Jr., administrator of the local hospital. He has two other grown sons, one in business in Charlotte and the other administrator of a hospital in Bennettsville, S. C. His wife will assist him in the hotel here. Both are members of the Baptist church.

Financial Report Is Made At P-TA Meet At Straus School

At the last regular meeting of the P-TA at the Harry H. Straus school, the treasurer, Mrs. Tom Stroup, reported a net profit of $297.06 from the Harvest supper, and this amount was applied to lunchroom equipment.

Mrs. C. G. Jones, chairman of the spring festival last year, made the following report of expenditures: $13, knife sharpener; $26, record albums; $60, film strips; $15.82, subscriptions to magazine and newspaper; $16, indoor games; $50, radio; $20, soap dispensers; $12, paper cutter; $78.10, playground equipment; and $34.45, rhythm band equipment — total $325.66. Other funds were allocated for reading tables, double easels, pictures, cabinets, etc. Following the reports Rev. John D. Smith gave an interesting talk.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party on December 9th and all members are cordially invited by the president, Mrs. Eb Morrow, to attend.

Ecusta Doctors On Program In Florida

Dr. Mac Roy Gasque, medical director of Ecusta Paper corporation, and Dr. George Holt, chiroprapist, of Asheville, will address the Southern Medical association on November 13, in Miami, Florida.

They also presented a paper and discussed an experiment in foot health. Dr. Holt is a consultant to the medical staff and holds foot health clinics for employees at the Ecusta Medical Center.

Claud Murphy Given Commission In Army

Claud H. Murphy, Brevard, was commissioned an army second lieutenant last Saturday upon graduation from the Officer Candidate school at Fort Riley, Kans.

He now will attend a specialist school for instruction in his specific branch of the army. The six-month course he has just completed covered only basic military principles.

Lt. Murphy, a 1947 graduate of Rosman high school, entered the army in 1948. His mother is Mrs. Nora G. Murphy, Brevard.

12 Transylvania Youths Have Calves In Local, WNC Shows

Ribbons And Cash Prizes Are Awarded. County Agent Makes Plea

Twelve Transylvania youths entered 13 fine calves in the Fat Calf show here on Tuesday morning at the B & B Feed & Seed company mill lot. Seven blue ribbons were awarded, four red ones and one white ribbon. County Agent Julian Glazener presided over the successful show.

Before the announcement of the winners, short talks were made by Mayor John Ford, superintendent of schools, J. B. Jones, Randall Lyday, vocational agriculture teacher at Brevard, Bob Love, assistant county agent, W. W. Brittain, co-owner of B & B, and these men gave words of encouragement to the boys entering animals in the show.

The calves were entered Wednesday morning in the Western Fat Calf show at the Hominy Valley pavilion near Enka, and at 1:00 o'clock on Thursday they will be sold at auction.

In urging Transylvania citizens to purchase one of the fine animals, Mr. Glazener stated: "We earnestly plead with all who might be in a position to go to Hominy Valley on Thursday and buy one or more of these calves. A successful youth program in livestock or anything else cannot be accomplished without the support of adults."

Winners of blue ribbons in the show here Tuesday were: FFA—Ferrell Moore, son of Lewis Moore; John Canup, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Canup; Dick Bryson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bryson; and Clarence Goodson, son of Mrs. Ella Goodson;

Sub-District Group Of MYF Will Meet Thursday Night

The Blue Ridge sub-district Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 o'clock in the Edneyville Methodist church.

There will be a special speaker, according to Imogene Dickson, president, and all young people in the county are invited to attend. Local youth are asked to meet at the Methodist church at 7 o'clock, and transportation will be provided.

4-H—Larry Pickelsimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Pickelsimer; Jimmy Allison, who had two calves; son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Allison; and James Whitmire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitmire.

Joe Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Farmer, received a white ribbon.

E. J. Whitmire, of Franklin, and a native of Transylvania, did the judging, using the Danish system. He is an authority on beef cattle judging, feeding and management.

The annual Transylvania Fat Calf show is sponsored by B & B company and ribbons and cash prizes of $50 are awarded. All blue ribbon winners received $4.50 each; red, $3.00 each, and white, $2.50.

Wildlife Club Is Seeking To Enroll All The Sportsmen And Others Interested In Program

Plans are being made by the Transylvania Wildlife club to start a membership drive looking toward enrollment of hunters, fishermen, and those interested in propagation of game and fish, according to W. O. "Bud" Siniard, recently elected president of the local group.

State officials of the wildlife resources commission have been contacted, President Siniard stated at the meeting held here last week, and they will continue to provide fish for county streams and Cascade Lake and will also join in any section wishing to stock coons.

In accordance with previously approved plans, the wildlife resources commission has completed stocking of 750 bass averaging 3 1/2 inches in length, in the waters of Cascade.

These fish were produced at the State Fish Hatchery located near Morganton. District game and fish protector, Paul Leatherwood, directed the release of the fish and solicited assistance from members of the local wildlife club and other interested sportsmen.

Under sponsorship of the wildlife group, Cascade Lake is open to bank fishing the year round at no charge, Mr. Siniard pointed out. Only charges are for boat privileges on this body of water which has had trout and bass stocked for two years.

Fish reared by the group this summer have been planted in county streams outside the Pisgah game preserve area, and should be ready for taking next spring.

Honor Court In County Postponed Until Next Month

The November court of honor in Transylvania county has been postponed until December, Alex Kizer, who is chairman of advancements, announces.

The honor court was originally planned for November 14 at the First Baptist church, but due to conflicts, it will not be held this month.
