A 17-year-old Canton high school student, Jimmy York, was drowned Sunday at the mouth of Cove Creek on Davidson river, pictured above, in the Pisgah National Forest. The lad had been fishing with his father and brother and became separated from the group. A search was started that afternoon and the body was spotted Monday morning in the eight-foot pool of water. "X" marks the spot, by WAYNE WIGGINS, refuge manager of the Pisgah, who is pictured above pointing to the rock ledge on the other side, where the boy is believed to have slipped into the water. He was a non-swimmer. Shown with Forester Wiggins is Game Warden Mimms, who was with him when he discovered the body. (Times Staff Photo)

Brevard Garden Club Planning Big Flower Show On Thursday And Friday

Cordial Invitation Extended To Local Citizens, Visitors To Attend

Among the many events in Brevard which are expected to attract large numbers of visitors this week end is the annual Brevard Garden Club Flower Show, which is open in the NVA hut Thursday and Friday, 2 to 10 p. m.

Mrs. Lewis Hamlin, show chairman, and Mrs. W. M. Melton, club president, join hands in extending a cordial invitation to guests and residents alike to enjoy the beauty of the flowers.

A number of outstanding displays are expected in addition to the usual entries. Dahlias by Mrs. S. B. Harrington, roses by Astor Heath and a number of commercial displays will be included.

A small admission will be charged to the flower show and door prizes will be given. Prizes have also been donated by local merchants having the largest number of points in each division.

The show is open to any exhibitor, but all displays must be set up prior to judging at 11 a. m. Thursday morning.

Competitive entries must have been given by the exhibitor, although this is not a requirement in the arrangement category.

No exhibits may be removed before 10 p. m. Friday evening in order to enable everyone attending the fall benefit of the flowers.

Canton Youth Drowned While Fishing In Forest On Sunday

Jimmy York, a 17-year-old Canton high school student, was drowned in Davidson river in the Pisgah National Forest while fishing on Sunday.

His body was discovered at the mouth of Cove Creek on the Davidson river about 6:00 o'clock Monday morning by Wayne Wiggins, refuge manager in the Pisgah, who was searching for the lad with other officials of the Pisgah.

Young York was fishing with his father and brother on Sunday afternoon and became separated from the group. When he failed to return out near the rearing station, a search was started and it was just after daylight Monday morning when Mr. Wiggins spotted a fishing basket and tackle at the eight-foot pool at the mouth of Cove creek on the Davidson.

Rescue equipment of the Brevard fire department was used by firemen, forestry officials and members of the sheriff's department in recovering the body, and a jury, summoned by acting coroner, Ed McGaha, attributed death to drowning.

Mr. Wiggins reports that young York is the second person drowned in the Davidson. Some three years ago a young man lost his life while fishing there.

Local Minister Is Ordained At Meet

Rev. R. H. Kindschi, pastor of the Brevard Wesleyan Methodist church, was ordained into the ministry at the annual conference of this denomination in Colfax last week.

His ordination was the result of four years of study for the ministry. He has been preaching for about five years and came to Brevard two years ago to accept the pastorate of the local church.

"Swing Your Partner" Will Be Order Of The Day Over The Week End Here

Square dancing will be near the top of the entertainment list for summer visitors and residents alike this week end, as three of them are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Monday nights.

Mr. Modarelli stressed the importance of the '53 Symphony Management Course.

Modarelli Stresses Importance Of '53 Symphony Management Course

"We are telling our people attending the second symphony management course in Brevard that they must go home and blaze trails in the same sense that their forebearers pioneered," said Antonio Modarelli, conductor of the Charleston, W. Va., symphony.

This man is a crusader in a sense and has the vision to look ahead to the day when American cities and towns will have available culture the same as in Europe.

The grass roots theory is one that has been exploited in only a few short years, explains Helen Thompson, executive secretary. The Lay Workers Forum, which has just concluded at Transylvania Music camp, is the second annual event of its type to be held here and the only available course for the training of community symphony managers.

Mr. Modarelli pointed to last year's fruits. When one man left the course, he was hired six days later by the Wichita Symphony.

Similar experiences were cited in other towns. "He must learn the basic principles of music in order to sell his orchestra to the people who support it," according to Conductor Modarelli.

Miss Thompson is excited about the way symphony orchestras are mushrooming all over the United States. That was the prime reason for the need for her organization. Today there are nearly 1,000 symphony orchestras in cities, towns, colleges, and other small groups such as those sponsored by libraries and cultural agencies. This compares with 1900, when there were only nine major symphonies.

"We must give significance and impetus to this movement," Miss Thompson said. "In order that a national culture can be built." She compared the cities and even villages of Europe, where one can find choral groups, ballets, orchestral ensembles in every community. It is there that the young people learn and the culture is built.

REPORT PROGRESS AT SAVINGS, LOAN ASSOCIATION MEET

Jenkins Is New Director, Jerome Made Executive Vice President

Reports made at the monthly director's meeting of the Brevard Federal Savings and Loan association indicate that the concern continues to make progress.

Assets of the savings and loan association were reported to be $2,350,000 and general reserves are now $210,000.

The association has started making GI loans on longer terms, it was stated at the meeting. Smaller loans are being made at lower costs, it was also reported.

President Joseph S. Silverstein presided over the meeting, and Don Jenkins was elected to the board of directors.

Jerry Jerome was made executive vice president and treasurer, and Mrs. Rowena Summey was elected secretary and assistant treasurer at the annual stockholders meeting.

Toxaway Rail Link To Be Abandoned

The Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington last Friday authorized the Transylvania Branch road to abandon its 10-mile branch line between Rosman and Lake Toxaway.

The properties are being operated by Southern Railway.

Discontinuance of service was protested by shipping interests and the North Carolina Utilities Commission. However, the ICC said that declining traffic and the losses suffered by Southern in the operation warranted the abandonment.

Huge Crowds Attending 1953 Music Festival

Large crowds have attended the first concerts of the eighth annual Brevard Music Festival, and a small portion of the hundreds of cars and people at the Transylvania Music camp last Sunday afternoon is pictured above. The festival continues with three concerts this week end. Luboshutz and Nemenoff, internationally famous piano team, will be featured with the 85-piece festival symphony orchestra on Friday night and Sunday afternoon. Saturday night Robert Harrison, concertmaster of the orchestra, and Gordon Epperson, its principal cellist, will be heard in the famed Double Concerto for Violin, Cello and Orchestra by Brahms. ## CAPACITY CROWDS AGAIN EXPECTED, ROOMS AVAILABLE

Luboshutz And Nemenoff To Appear With Orchestra Twice This Week End

REVIEWS ARE GIVEN

It's Festival time in Brevard and hundreds of out-of-town people were here for the opening concerts last week end.

It is conservatively estimated that more than 3,000 attended these programs, and capacity audiences are expected this week end.

Regardless of the number of people coming to town, there will be accommodations for all, Mrs. John Ford, the executive secretary of the Brevard chamber of commerce states.

She will gladly assist in helping find rooms, and she reports that she has a long list of accommodations. Her office is located on the court house lawn, adjacent to the library.

Friday's Program
America's top two-piano team, Luboshutz and Nemenoff, highlight this week end's concerts of the Brevard Music Festival Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock and again Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Completing the week end roster, Robert Harrison, violinist, and Gordon Epperson, cellist, will be heard Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff, who is Mrs. Luboshutz in private life, have distinguished themselves both in the performance and rediscovery of two-piano literature. Returning to Brevard for the second year, Luboshutz and Nemenoff climaxed a successful tour of Europe last spring by a command performance in Greece for King Paul and Queen Frederica with the Athens Symphony Orchestra.

HONOR COURT IS SLATED THURSDAY

Many Boys To Be Advanced, Excellent Wildlife Movie To Be Shown

The regular August court of honor for the Transylvania district of Boy Scouts of America will be held Thursday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

According to E. B. Garrett, advancement chairman, a great deal of interest is being shown already in this court. Boys have been working on their achievements and merit badges this summer in order to obtain higher rank for the coming fall and winter terms.

One troop reports it will have over 15 advancements and with other troops working hard, this court will be a big one. For the first time, the new troop No. 3 of the Presbyterian church will be represented. —Turn to Page Five

Cloggers Again Win Championship In Nat'l Contest

The Echo Inn Cloggers, square dancing team with most of its teen-age members from Brevard, were again named national champions at the Country Music and Dance contests last week end in Warrenton, Va.

Mrs. J. B. Houston, manager, accompanied the group on the trip and acted as chaperone. Boys and girls who danced in Warrenton were Bill Arnette, caller, Dot Littrell; Bill Littrell with Rose Marie Miller, Bob Reid with Patsy Reid, Walt Ledbetter with Sary Burnett, "Hot Shot" Leatherwood with Anita Patterson, Alex Houston with Sylvia Shook, and George Johnson and John Medford, substitutes.

Dr. Roland Is New President Of Brevard Country Club, Inc.

New Club President

DR. E. O. ROLAND, popular Brevard optometrist, was elected president of Brevard Country Club, Inc., at the first meeting of the newly elected board of directors on Monday night. Dr. Roland succeeds William F. Huffman, who will serve as secretary during the coming year. Art Loeb is the new treasurer.

Huffman To Serve As Secretary And Loeb New Treasurer Of Board

Dr. E. O. Roland, Brevard optometrist, was elected president of Brevard Country Club, Inc., at the first meeting of the newly elected board of directors at the club house Monday night.

Dr. Roland succeeds William F. Huffman, who was chosen as secretary for the new year.

Art Loeb was elected treasurer, and other directors on the board are Henry N. Carrier, Mrs. C. L. Newland, E. F. Tilson and John Anderson.

Members of the various committees of the club and golf course will be announced at the next regular meeting of the board next Monday night.

President Roland named the following chairman: club house, Mr. Carrier; greens, Mr. Tilson; and promotion, Mr. Anderson.

The board will meet each week for the next few months, and every effort will be made to have the golf course put in an excellent condition, President Roland stated.

He made a plea for wholehearted support on the part of the public, and announced that the membership of the club was over 200 at the present time.

Program Highlights

NBC Summer Symphony Is One Of WPNF's Most Popular Programs

With Brevard being the "Summer Music Capital of the South," and thousands of music lovers from all parts of Eastern America here for the Brevard Music Festival, WPNF station officials remind their many listeners that one of the best programs heard on the local air waves is the NBC summer symphony.

Wilfrid Pelletier, noted Canadian conductor, will conduct the NBC symphony this Sunday afternoon, and the program will be heard over WPNF from 5 to 6 o'clock on August 16.

Mr. Pelletier has chosen three major works for his program on Sunday. The concert will open with the Symphony No. 8 by Beethoven. This will be followed by three of the five movements of the movements selected by Pelletier for the concert are titled: (a) A Ball; (b) March to the Scaffold; and (c) Witches' Sabbath. The work of another French composer, Jacques Ibert, will complete the concert. It is "Escapes" (Ports of Call), a symphonic poem in three sections. The ports are Palermo, Tunis and Valencia.
