Mrs. Goodwin Is Club Hostess Thursday

Mrs. C. J. Goodwin was hostess to the last meeting of the Mathatiasian club Thursday at which time Mrs. Walter Hart gave a program on "The Communist Theory of Man."

Mrs. Hart stated that it was hard to explain the mystery after studying communistic ideas of man. She sketched the life of Karl Marx and gave his theories. He believed labor to be the primary factor in the modification of man and it is a necessary element in affecting material changes between man and nature, according to the Marx theory.

Marx believed, the program leader said, in the class struggle between opposites. The logical conclusion of this reasoning was that the state is supreme and man is merely a tool of the state.

Mrs. Hart read excerpts from "Faith vs. The Human Animal" by Monsignor Vincent Sheen, in which she contrasted the democratic theory of supremacy of the individual with the communistic theory.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Ralph Ramsey, district president, and Mrs. Lewis Hamlin, district secretary. Mrs. Ramsey spoke briefly urging the women to attend the civil defense meeting in Raleigh.

At the conclusion the hostess served a delicious salad course. The next meeting will be January 28th with Mrs. O. H. Orr hostess.

Silver Tea Set At Mrs. Mark Crosswell's

There will be a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Mark Crosswell at Cedar Mountain next Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock for the benefit of the March of Dimes drive.

It is explained that the Mothers March on Polio at Cedar Mountain is being replaced by the tea since the roads are in bad condition.

R. L. Brock Now On USS Rochester

Rev. and Mrs. Millard I. Brock, Rt. 2, Brevard, have received a letter from the commanding officer of the ship in which their son, Roger L. Brock, is serving with the U. S. navy.

Captain John Quinn, commanding officer of the USS Rochester, states that young Brock is learning his way around the ship and apparently is enjoying his life at sea.

Hospital Is Described As Being As Modern As Any In The South

John W. Bailey, administrator of the Transylvania Community hospital, told members of the Brevard Rotary club at the last regular meeting that the local hospital is now as modern as any in the South with the opening of the new Harry H. Straus wing.

Mr. Bailey took the Rotarians on a verbal tour of the hospital, pointing out that in every room, including the lounge, nursery, operating suite, wards, kitchen, etc., the institution is equipped with the most modern equipment on the market today.

He thanked the Rotarians and the public in general for their fine cooperation and support of the hospital and said: "It is your hospital and please feel free to visit and to inspect its modern facilities."

Attendance at the dedication program on Sunday at 3:00 p. m. at the Brevard high school was urged at the meeting, and the speaker was introduced by John Anderson, program chairman of the evening. President Dan Hawkins presided. A large delegation from the West Asheville Rotary club was present at the meeting.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 78 MEETS

At the meeting of Troop 78 in the Little House Monday night, the girls tried to think of someone who would serve as leader since Mrs. Kent told them she could not meet with them much longer.

They also made plans for the annual Valentine dance.

A play was given by Rosemary Thompson's patrol.

The meeting ended with taps.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

PROGRAM IS SET

The Times this week is publishing a special hospital issue and Publisher Ed M. Anderson urges all readers to take this opportunity of familiarizing themselves with the hospital, its history, facilities, staff, etc.

Ralph H. Ramsey, on behalf of the board of trustees of the hospital, cordially invites every citizen of the community to attend the dedication program and tour the addition afterwards. He expresses appreciation for the fine cooperation received in this progressive institution and reminds citizens of Transylvania county that the hospital belongs to them.

Fur Favored For Sweater

By VERA WINSTON

THE fur collared sweater, especially when fluffy fox is used, is a southern resort favorite. Shown here is a delightful resort costume, making use of the befurred sweater. Permanent-pleated white sheer is used for the sleeveless dress made with a scooped neckline, fastened from neck to hem with pearl and rhinestone buttons. The sweater, of gray cashmere, is lined in the dress fabric, has matching jeweled buttons and a fluffy cloud of white fox.
