Lee, and two religious novels, The Robe and The Silver Chalice. Non-fiction titles are The Power of Positive Thinking, Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis and the biography, A Man Called Peter.

Miss Hall, librarian, states that anyone wanting a college catalogue not on the shelf should give her the name and address of the college. She also states that books on careers, best sellers and others that have been requested have been ordered, and she hopes that they will arrive soon.

Some books that have been ordered are: Tomorrow is Forever, Swamp Boy, Valley of Decision, Thirty Fathoms Deep, Black Stallion, Vicar of Wakefield, Moccasin Trail, Gone With The Wind, Scarface, The Pearl, As The Wheel Turns, Bishop's Mantle, Girl Today—Woman of Tomorrow; Teen-Age Blues, Money, The Wacs, Good Manners for Boys, Radar: What Radar is and How It Works, Southern Forestry, Livestock Judging Handbook, Joy of Cooking, Lessons in Loveliness, Nurses at Work, Wildwood Wisdom, Swimming, Treasury of Great Poems, Men Without Fear, Immortal Lovers, James Feinmore Cooper.

Lynn McGaha Is First In F. F. A. Speech Contest

Lynn McGaha was the winner of the Agricultural Speaking contest which was presented to the student body recently in the BHS auditorium. The second place winner was Morgan Hunter, who spoke first and the third place winner was Keith Parker.

Lynn McGaha received a check for $5.00, which was the first place prize. Lynn's speech was on soil conservation and was called "America Must Begin." He told of the damage which is brought about by the wastefulness of American people.

As the winner of the contest Lynn will represent Brevard high school at the federation contest which is to be held in February at Etowah.

The second place winner, Morgan Hunter, spoke on tree preservation which was "A Tree for Tomorrow." He told of the depletion of today's forests and what must be done in order to restore them to their capacity. As the second place winner in the contest, Morgan received a check for $3.00.

Keith Parker was the first speaker after the contestants were introduced by Ted Owens, president of the chapter. Keith spoke on the wildlife preservation in America and what must be done in the future to keep them from dwindling. Keith was the third place winner of the contest and received a check for $2.00.

Former Students Making Good In Various Fields

Former students of Brevard high school have been excelling in their various fields which they chose to enter after graduating from school.

At Brevard college BHS students are really making a record. Imogene Dickson has been chosen "May Queen" and Frances Fortune is to be her maid of honor according to the recent election at the school. Frances has also been chosen as "Miss Sophomore."

Furman university has many former students enrolled there. Ann Cudd, Patsy Parrish, Mary Lillian Morgan and Bessie Ann Allison, who was recently married to Edgar Holden. Edgar graduated from Clemson and is an agriculture teacher in S. C.

Kent Houck is in the lumbering business with his father while another classmate, Nadine Raxter, is working in Greenville, S. C., as a telephone operator.

Jane Ledbetter and Mary Katherine Byrd are cashiers at the A & P store, and Jean Eubanks is bookkeeper at Rose's. Betty Shipman is employed in the same type of work at Goodwill Motor company.

Driving after license revoked resulted in additional penalties for 700 Tar Heel motorists in 1953.

COOK'S CORNER

is filling and fine, a meal in itself and the beauty of it all is that these treats can be prepared ahead of time. Do make plenty, however, for seconds are always asked for.

"The Mighty Club" (Sandwich)
Toast three large pieces white bread. Spread at once with mayonnaise. On your first piece of toast, shiny with the dressing, lay big slices of turkey or chicken breast.

(You can vary this, as I have done at times, by using ham, tongue or sliced roast beef.) Add a sprinkle of salt and pepper. Put second slice of mayonnaise toast on top. Spread the topper number two with butter; now lay a piece of lettuce on top — see that it covers the area well. On the lettuce lay rosy red slices of tomato; sprinkle with a little thyme. Now lay on two, yes, two, crisp cooked bacon slices. Add your third piece of toast, mayonnaise side down, next to the bacon. Stick a tooth pick in each corner, then cut in four quarters. Garnish with pickle slices and olives. There just isn't any food that tastes better to me than this wonderful "club combo." Try it out for supper parties or on your family. You'll rate raves.

Thought for Food from My Red Rucker: Plant some chives in a decorative pot in your kitchen. Use to gladden the eye as well as tickle the taste buds. Your own growing herbs always taste best!
Good appetite to you all.
