Catalog Publicizes Efforts Of Foresters In South, Ranger Says

Sears, Roebuck and company's 1954 spring and summer catalog devotes its front cover and two additional pages to an endorsement of the foresters' efforts in the South. The section points out that the prudent use of woodlands adds more than $5,000,000,000 annually to the South's income from the sale of timber products, according to Ranger Ted Seely, of the Pisgah National Forest.

timber products, soil conservation, water for power, industry, and homes, and proper surroundings for wildlife and recreation. "Sears pledges its full and wholehearted cooperation to those who believe that caring for our woodlands will bring greater opportunity and better living conditions for the people of our land," Ranger Seely said, and added: "The U. S. Forest Service gratefully acknowledges this salute by Sears and welcomes this and all other support in the effort to grow and maintain forests for greater employment, cash returns, health, and pleasure for the people of the South."

Baptist Men Hold Regular Meeting

The Men's Fellowship club of the First Baptist church held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in Gaitner's Rhododendron room. J. O. Wells presided in the absence of the president, Roy McCall. Harry Cho, Korean student at Brevard college, was slated to talk to the group, but was unable to do so due to the fact he was helping college students and others fight a forest fire off the Boylston highway near the county line. After a business session, Rev. B. W. Thomason dismissed the club.

Mr. Bolt also explained that the '53 recipient had built a new home during the year and was an active member of the Rotary club, the WOW and the American Legion. Robert T. Gash, who received the award last year, presided over the dinner meeting which was attended by more than 75 persons, and prior to the principal address by Roy Taylor, Asheville attorney, several other awards were made to outstanding Jaycees and to firms and organizations, which contributed to the success of Jaycee projects during '53.
