China Policy Topic Of Fortnightly Club Program

At the regular meeting of the Fortnightly club last Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. W. Sigmon, Mrs. Myrtle Young gave an interesting discussion on "Our China Policy."

During the business session the club members elected the following new officers: President, Mrs. J. J. Stevenson, Jr.; vice president, Mrs. Hall Smith, Jr.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. S. Nicholson; recording secretary, Mrs. H. W. Sigmon; treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Lyday; and parliamentarian, Mrs. M. G. Pangle.

In discussing the China policy, the program leader said this country has a fifth of the world's population and the world's oldest surviving civilization.

"China," she said, "has emerged under a Communist government as a powerful force in Eastern Asia and a major problem for America and her allies. We, as a people, must come to understand something of China's situation and the possibilities within it so that our leaders can make their decisions with the aid and the checks of an informed public opinion."

"The farmers make up 80-90 per cent of the Chinese population. A typical Chinese farmer probably owns less than four acres. This means that the strictest frugality is necessary; nothing can be wasted."

"The conditions of the Chinese farmers contributed greatly to the ease with which Communism won adherents. The condition of the Chinese peasant in the past four decades has become desperate. During this time information has seeped in that farmers in other countries do not have to live under such conditions. As the result the farming village has become a fertile field for revolutionary agitation."

"Since the founding of the republic in 1912, attempts have been made to establish modern governments and to build armies and communications — all this has greatly increased tax demands on the peasantry yet failed to provide efficiency and freedom."

"The Chinese Communist party began turning its full attention to the countryside about 1932. They offered to the peasants what seemed to them a better way of life."

"What are we to do about China? As the power of the United States has increased, so has the far-reaching importance of every decision we make. What we decide to do about China may well affect our lives and the lives of all Asiatics for many years to come," the program leader concluded.

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments to 14 members present.

Mrs. Kapp Hostess To Wednesday Club Meet

The Brevard Wednesday club meeting was held on February 24 at the home of Mrs. Lehmann Kapp. Mrs. Harry Bobst led the opening collect and the president, Mrs. C. L. Newland, was in the chair.

Miss Lucile Smith gave a preliminary report on the program for the next year.

Mrs. Verne Hill, program leader, gave a most interesting talk on "Italy," another of the NATO countries. She stated that Italy under the dictatorship of Mussolini chose the wrong path—the path of aggression—and paid heavily for this mistake. The Italian people are mostly poor and Italy is overpopulated, it was pointed out. Sicily is one of the most congested areas in the world.

Mrs. Hill said Italy is trying very hard to stabilize her economy but that the lira is still unstable with the present rate of exchange about 20 to one.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious salad course was served by the hostess. The meeting adjourned with the next club program to be given by Mrs. Walter Straus from France. Mrs. Robert Kimzey will be hostess on March 10.

Evening Unit Of League Meets

A number of games were enjoyed including Bronco. Prize winners were Mrs. Mildred Scott, Mrs. Lila M. Wenzlick and Mrs. Leonard Cousins. The honoree was presented with a variety of useful gifts. She wore a black taffeta dress and was presented a corsage of white carnations by the hostesses.

A dessert course with coffee was served.

On Saturday evening Miss Ledbetter was honored with a surprise linen shower at the home of Mrs. Clinton Morris. Mrs. Carl Compton and Mrs. George Clark were co-hostesses.

During the business session members voted to make a donation toward the purchase of new robes for the youth choir. The circle also voted to buy a gallon of paint to be used on the old wing of the hospital.

A special meeting with other night circles was planned for March 3rd, when a program in connection with the Week of Prayer for foreign missions would be held.

Mrs. Ralph Parrish was welcomed as a new member. Visitors included Mrs. Troy Davis, of Canton, Mrs. Kenneth McDarris, Miss Lois Hamilton and Miss Suttles, all of Brevard.

Little Items Of Lively Interest About Folks And

Are you restless? Go to the hills; The path winds up to the blue, Where the wind will blow until it stills All doubts in the heart of you. Are you tired? Then seek the trees; The pines will whisper and sing; And a weary soul can find its ease In the peace their song will bring. Are you happy? Stay, where you are, And let your joy shine through, So all who come from near and far May share, and be happy, too! —Roush

Isn't that a wonderful little poem? Next to flowers I love poetry and music. They (my hobbies) go quite well together—gardening, poetry and music.

These spring-like days are really exhilarating. It's time to plant trees and shrubs if you had that on your list of chores... Finish your pruning, too... Fertilize all bulbs at this time... Fertilize the lawn... and re-seed, if necessary.

The spring lawn program can get under way earlier than most folks realize. Early feeding benefits roots that begin to stir long before there is much surface activity. Apply fertilizer at the rate of ten to twenty pounds per one thousand square feet. Use ten pounds if grass, or turf, is nice and thick—use twenty if turf is poor looking. It may take a rain or two to work the plant food down to the root zone, so don't be afraid to fertilize now. In fact, the sooner fertilized, the better lawn you'll produce.

Re-potting houseplants: This chore has to be tackled sooner or later, why not sooner? Do not bother the plants that look vigorous and happy, but do re-pot the puny ones.

Avoid over watering newly potted plants. It is so easy, and often fatal, to do this before new roots have ramified through the new soil. After the initial soaking, let as long a period go as you safely can before watering again.

Remember, in re-potting, to use the correct soil mixture and the right size pot. For a week or two, plants should be kept out of strong sunlight. Spraying the leaves is beneficial every day or so for several weeks. If you wish to divide plants of favorites, use two small pots instead of one large.

Flower focus this week is on the adorable little spring blooms of crocus, hyacinths and snowdrops at Mrs. John Maxwell's.

Glamorous purple crocus grown by Mrs. J. C. Wike are eye-arresting indeed.

Spotted lovely color in blossoms defying the cold at Mrs. Nora Wilson's, Mrs. John DeBord's, Mrs. Charles McCormick's and Mrs. Harold Saltz—gorgeous golden daffodils.

So long, gardeners. The U. S. coal mining industry enjoyed its safest year in 1953, and mining today is twice as safe as it was 10 years ago, 5 times as safe as 40 years ago.
