

Little Items Of Lively Interest About Folks And

Flower GARDENING

By Mrs. S. R. Harrington

A garden is a lovable thing!
God wot:
Rose plot!
Ferned frot.
The veriest school of peace,
And yet the fool
Contents that God is not.
Not God in gardens when the eve is cool!
Nay, but I have a sign,
'Tis very sure He walks in mine.

This poem was sent to me by Mrs. John Ruffy this week. Or, I should say Mrs. Ruffy sent me a slipping from her scrapbook entitled, "The Prayer Corner," written some years ago by Rev. C. D. Chapman for the Brevard News. (Many of you will remember this, I'm sure.) This poem was in Rev. Chapman's column. There was also a prayer.

"Teach us Father, how to go softly as the grasses grow, hush our souls to meet the shock of the wild world as a rock. But our spirit, propt with power, make as simple as a flower. Let the day heard, fill its cup like a poppy looking up. Let life lightly wear her crown, like a poppy looking down when its heart is filled with dew, and its life begins anew.

"Teach us, Father, how to be kind, and patient as a tree. Joyfully the crickets croon, under the shady oak at noon. Beetle on his mission bent, carries in that cooling tent. Let us also cheer a spot, hidden field or garden plot, place where passing souls can rest, on the way. And be their best."

I enjoyed the "Prayer Corner" so much I thought you too, would enjoy excerpts from it.

In the garden right now, for those who are growing clematis, there's indescribable joy and beauty galore. For those who do not, look around, and I'm sure you'll resolve to plant a few after seeing them. Week before last I told you about the clematis grown by Mrs. Arthur Whitmire. Others who grow it are Mrs. Brown Carr, Mr. John Tinsley, and Mrs. C. R. Sharp, to name a few.

Clematis is the most exquisite flower imaginable, and so satisfactory to grow. It's a vine. Ideal for porches, trellises, arbors, fences, posts, walls, and garages.

Clematis prefer a light loam rather than a heavy clay soil.

In planting clematis prepare a hole about 18 inches deep by 24 wide, using one part light loam, a half part decomposed manure — or use a peat moss - manure mixture sold by seed stores. To a bushel of this mixture, add a six-inch potful of lime and mix everything together thoroughly. Before filling in the 18x24 inch hole with this mixture, put a large handful of each — superphosphate and peat moss — in the bottom of the hole. Drench hole with water.

Plant clematis crown three inches deep.

In winter place a mulch six to eight inches on soil around plants. Old manure makes the perfect mulch for clematis.

In spring when clematis begins to grow, sprinkle a handful of a complete fertilizer over the soil and soak in gently with hose or by hand.

Another important thing to remember is to plant a perennial such as chrysanthemum or daylily or anything you like, nearby to shade the rooting area of clematis from hot sun.

Here are a few choice hybrid clematis you may order: Jackmani, violet purple; Comtesse de Bouchard, pink; Crimson Star, bright red; Henryi, white; Nelly Moser,

METHODISTS TO END SCHOOL ON FRIDAY EVENING

Parents Are Invited To Program In The Basement Of Church

The vacation church school of the Brevard Methodist church will come to a close this Friday. A sharing program for parents and friends will be held Thursday evening, June 10, at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the church.

Following a short program, a tour of each department is planned to view the work made by the children during the school. Some of the highlights of these projects are as follows: "The Miracle of Seed and Growing Plants," by the kindergarten department; an illustrated story of "The Source and Development of Our Daily Bread," by the primary department; "The Wonders of Nature," spatter painting, and Bible dramatization by the junior department. Special music by the rhythm band.

The school is under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Richardson and Mrs. E. O. Bryant with the following staff of teachers: kindergarten, Mrs. Jack Morgan, leader, Mrs. C. B. Scott, Mrs. Edgar Meece, and Mrs. Eugene Spicer; primary, Mrs. T. R. Mitchell, leader, Mrs. Jack Gillespie and Miss Agnes Hamilton; junior, Mrs. Harold Siniard, leader, Mrs. H. K. Sigmon and Miss Tina Sellers. The total enrollment for the two weeks' school was 79 children and 11 teachers—six children from other churches.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Douglas Corriher, Hall Smith, Jr., the church school superintendent, will preside at the closing session. Mrs. Harold Siniard will have charge of the program.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

The home agent, Miss Priest, presented a very interesting demonstration on laundry. She showed an adjustable ironing board equipped with an aluminum ironing pad and a cord minder which made the task of ironing much easier.

Several brands of starch, soap detergents, flakes and powder were discussed and a chart of stain removers was studied with interest. Miss Priest also ironed a shirt and told of easier methods of dampening the garment and the importance of setting the iron, and that pressure and lots of energy were not necessary for the task.

Mrs. E. Aherns was prize winner in the food naming contest held during the social hour during which tasty refreshments were served. Also enjoyed during the social hour was the pleasure of hearing the president, Mrs. Callender, in a broadcast over WPNF.

mauve with red bars; Prins Hendrik, azure blue; Duchess of Edinburgh, double white.

Mrs. C. R. Sharp has in bloom now a magnificent blue clematis. Ride by and see it. It's unbelievable the quantity of blossoms on this one vine at Mrs. Sharp's.

And while you're riding take a look at the climbing brilliant red roses (and other colors,) too spectacular for words at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Berry Gaither, Mrs. William Gillespie, Mrs. Hovie Talley, Mrs. Jack Houck, Mrs. Fred Monteith, Mrs. Carl Bryson, Jr., and Mrs. Susie Coleman.

So long gardeners!

with toothpicks if necessary. Brown in hot olive oil. Pour mixed milk and water over all. Cover and simmer (low, low heat) one full hour. Add more water if necessary to prevent sticking. This is worthy of a gold star in any cook's repertoire.

Here is that special Piquant Stuffing recipe. I use it for stuffing chicken, turkey, rolled pork roasts as well as for the Veal Piquant.

- 1 tbs. minced onion
- 1-2 cup mince meat
- 1-2 cup bread crumbs
- 3 tbs. mayonnaise

Mix all ingredients well. Add more mayonnaise if dressing seems too dry. After mixing well add salt Thought for Food from My Red Rucker: Did you ever hear of "Cheesenaise?" Well, it's simply this: mix equal parts of mayonnaise and that processed spreadable, pourable cheese spread. Add a full teaspoon of cayenne pepper and one teaspoon grated onion. Mix well. What a sparker this dressing is for tomato salads and aspics! It's out of this world.

Good appetite to you all.

As I pulled this narration from the typewriter that woman driver I was talking about peered over my shoulder.

"What are you writing?" She hung on my shoulder, read, then headed for the kitchen. I heard her wring out a cloth under the faucet and smiled to myself.

That girl's learning!

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

YOUR SUMMER-TIME REFRESHER COURSE

A glassful of cold milk with every summer meal keeps you wilt-free on even the hottest day. For vitamin - rich milk is a natural refresher—easy to digest, light on calories.

MILK COSTS YOU LESS: Above, Miss Reggie Dombeck steps on a "ladder of milk" to present the history of more milk for your money. In 1953, the average industrial worker's pay for an hour bought 7½ qts. of home-delivered milk. In 1939, an hour's pay purchased only 5.2 qts. In 1929—only 3.9 qts. This year, milk is even cheaper. Daniel M. Dent, national chairman for June Dairy Month, says: "Milk and milk products are tops for taste, health, and economy."
