A 48-room addition to the woman's student dormitory at Brevard college will be constructed next spring at a cost of nearly $100,000, it was decided at the annual meeting of the board of trustees held at the college last Saturday after-

The present building was erected two years ago at a cost of $180,-000 and accommodates about 100 students. The addition will practically double this capacity.

The trustees also gave serious discussion of a long-range building program estimated to cost $500,- ed over the ladies' night affair, and 000. Plans have already been drawn for the proposed Campus Center the administration offices, an auditorium with a 400 seating capacity and a cafeteria.

The trustees discussed at length the need for increasing the college's endowment fund from $550,-000 to a million dollars.

In other actions, the trustees agreed to give the Brevard Methodist church a clear title with no strings attached to a large lot adjacent to the campus on which to erect the proposed new church building; to paint the inside of Ross hall; to purchase the Andrew Keener cottage for $14,000; to ask the conference to change the institution's charter to increase membership on the board of trustees from 36 up to 60.

President Robert Stamey reported that the college had enjoyed a most successful year of operation and would show an operating surplus of $4,000.

He said the outlook for enrollment next year is over 250 students and the board adopted a budget for the year of $256,000.

Prominent Asheville Busi-nessman And Philanthropist Remembered Many

DIED ON MAY 22

Brevard college will receive approximately 50 per cent of the $1.-000,000 estate of the late Harry A. Dunham, prominent Asheville businessman and philanthropist, who died on May 22.

Brevard college, Miss Maude O. Dunham, a sister, and Mrs. Helen W. Ray and Charles A. McLean, business associates, were named as the principal beneficiaries to Dunham's will, which was filed for probate Monday in Buncombe county Superior court.

Dunham's estate was estimated in excess of $1,000,000.

Brevard will get 50 per cent of he estate after bequests amounting to about $120,000 are made, according to the will. Miss Dunham is toreceive 20 per cent and McLean and Mrs. Ray 15 per cent each.

Other bequests include: $50,000 to the General Board of Church Extension of the Methodist church, to be known as the Dunham fund for the benefit of the Methodist church, to be loaned for building and repairs of churches.

$25,000 to the Dunham Foundaion; $10,000 to the Children's Home of Winston - Salem; $10,000 to Brevard college in a previous bequest; and $5,000 each to two nieces, Miss Vera Lewis and Miss Ruta Wilson.

Business associates were also remembered in the will.
