THREE BUILDINGS TO BE COMPLETED BY SEPTEMBER, '56

Executive Comm. Instructed To Make Study Regarding Long-Range Program

CALL MEET HELD

The final stamp of approval to the $700,000 three-phase building program at Brevard college was given at a special call meeting of the board of trustees Tuesday here at the local institution. Edwin L. Jones, chairman of the board, presided over the meeting, which was followed by a luncheon for trustees and faculty members in the college cafeteria. Contracts were awarded at the meeting and construction will begin immediately on the $150,000 addition to the new wing of the women's dormitory. J. A. Jones Construction company will build the addition, which will house 90 students. The present new building accommodates 110 students.

EAGLE SCOUT, the highest rank one may achieve in the Boy Scouts of America, will be conferred on John Harper Allison, above, at the monthly Court of Honor Thursday night, November 17th, at the Turkey Creek Baptist church. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Allison, Jr., and is a member of the sophomore class at Brevard high school. He is the first Scout from Troop No. 1 in several years to achieve the Eagle rank. John is also active in his school and church as well as in scouting. (Times Staff Photo)

First Annual United Appeal Fund Is Oversubscribed, Workers Thanked

Final Rally Will Be Held Next Monday Night. More Contributions Expected

Transylvania's first United Fund campaign went over the top here today, it is announced by President Rev. R. H. Stamey. Volunteers in the fund-raising effort that supports 15 health and welfare agencies in Transylvania county raised $22,950.00 or 102 per cent of the $22,500.00 goal. Enthusiastic workers brought in "extra" gifts and pledges in time to meet the deadline. President Stamey also announced that last-minute gifts are still coming in from generous contributors. He saluted the campaign's more than 200 hard-working volunteers and the contributing citizens who came through with such a magnificent accomplishment. "We are $450.00 ahead of the budget committee's most optimistic goal," Rev. Stamey pointed out. "Transylvanians have set a success pattern which should be an inspiration for future campaigns as our county continues to grow."

Volunteer workers who have returned collections and pledges to campaign chairman Randal J. Lyday are: Mrs. T. J. Gordon, Mrs. Edna Fullbright, Mrs. Margaret Carter, Mrs. Margaret Bridges, Mrs. Wanda Smathers, Mrs. Christine Goodwin, Mrs. Julius Sader, Mrs. Freddie Norris, Mrs. Wallis Short, Mrs. Claire Matheson, Mrs. Robert Duckworth, Mrs. C. Resolutions Adopted

Urge Parkway Connecting Link From Gloucester To Beech Gap

Strong resolutions, urging the State Highway commission and the Bureau of Public Roads to approve allocations to match those of forestry funds for the construction and paving of a road from Gloucester road in upper Transylvania to Beech Gap and then down to Lake Logan as a connecting link with the Blue Ridge Parkway, have been approved and sent to Raleigh by the Transylvania county commissioners, the town board of aldermen and the road committee of the Brevard chamber of commerce. Harry Buchanan, 14th district highway commissioner, met with local governmental officials and civic leaders this week and explained that there would be a highway meeting in Raleigh next Tuesday, when the Gloucester connecting link would be discussed.

In the resolution it is pointed out that since the new 11 and one-half mile stretch of the Parkway has been opened from Wagon Road Gap to Beech Gap atop the Pisgah that thousands of cars are now travelling this scenic highway. It is further explained that the link terminates in a dead end at Beech Gap and travelers have to turn around and return over the same section or to turn to the right and travel down to Lake Logan over a narrow and winding dirt road, all of which creates traffic congestion. If the road is constructed from the end of the pavement on Gloucester road to Beech Gap, it would afford a way of access to and from this section of the Parkway to the

MERCURY CLIMBS TO 74 DEGREES

Cold Wave Is Expected To End Summertime Weather Of Mid-November

Golfing, picnicking, fishing and other summertime diversions occupied the daydreams of persons confined indoors this week as the mercury soared to an unheard of November high, 74 degrees on Tuesday. Weatherman Jack Huggins reported this high reading for Tuesday, adding that his records don't go back far enough to determine if this temperature was a record-breaker. Nearby Asheville claimed their high of 76 on the same day broke a 25-year record of 75 degrees. Western Carolina's balmy, spring-like weather began Saturday and continued throughout the week end with rains on Monday. Tuesday again cleared sunny and mild, as did Wednesday. The weather bureau officials were predicting winds and colder, more November-like weather for late Wednesday night and Thursday.

Thanksgiving Dance Set At Country Club

One of the highlight features of the Thanksgiving observance in Transylvania will be the annual dance at the Brevard country club on Saturday night, Nov. 26th. According to President Jay Coffey, all members with current dues cards will be admitted free, and delinquent members and guests will pay $3.00 per couple. Special dinners will be served that evening, and President Coffey urges members to make their reservations early by calling Manager E. E. Fraser at 2-1333.

Ecusta Employees Will Receive Raise Dec. 5th

The employees of Ecusta Paper corporation, a subsidiary of Olin Mathieson Chemical corporation, will receive a five-cent per hour raise. The announcement was made jointly today by L. F. Dixon, general manager of the paper division; and M. L. Herzog, the general manager of the film division. The raise is effective December 5, 1955, for employees on an hourly or weekly basis, and effective for the month of December for monthly salaried employees. The increase will affect more than 2,200 hourly and salaried employees, the general managers said.

Now Giving Salk Vaccine To All Age Children

The Transylvania county health office now has sufficient Salk polio vaccine enabling them to offer it to all children between the ages of one and 18 years. Dr. C. L. Newland, health officer, announces that both the first and second polio shots may be secured at the health office without charge to the parents. The immunizations will be given only on Fridays, the clinic day, between 8 and 12 noon, 1 and 4:30 p. m. The health officer stresses the importance of having children immunized now so that it can be in effect by next summer. Previously the vaccine was given free only to children in the five through eight age group. Since there is sufficient left over, the health officials deemed it advisable to offer it to children of all ages.

FARM ADVISORY BOARD IS FORMED

Merrimon Shuford Is Chairman. Dinner Meetings Will Be Held Each Quarter

A Transylvania Farm Advisory board has been organized here with Merrimon Shuford as the chairman; James Garson, vice chairman; and County Agent Julian Glazener, secretary. As explained by Mr. Glazener, the primary purpose of the board is to discuss and point out the needs and problems by individual farmers from every section of the county and from the information obtained, an overall, coordinated farm program can be worked out. Such a program, Mr. Glazener continued, will increase farm income that will be converted into improved living. Some 20 farmers and civic leaders met together at the organizational meeting in Gaither's Rhododendron room as guests of the management for a turkey dinner, and some of the suggestions made were as follows: (1) Organizing of a community hay drying group to serve an entire section. (2) Growing of boxwoods for extra income. (3) Increased vegetable growing with improved marketing system. (4) Increased poultry production. (5) Shipping out more farm —Turn To Page Six
