Children's Habits Of Reading Are Club Study

"Children's Literature" was the subject of the program for the first fall meeting of the Book and Plate club last Tuesday night. Mrs. Robert Bolt was hostess, and Mrs. Cecil Hill, president, presided.

During the business meeting Mrs. Hill reported on her attendance at the district meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs held in Asheville in August. Other members attending were Mrs. J. A. Macfie and Mrs. Charles Dunlop.

Mrs. Harry Dreyer was program chairman for this meeting and she in turn appointed four moderators — Mrs. Earl Bryant, Mrs. Julius Sader, Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Bolt. Members were divided into four discussion groups.

Among the questions which came before the groups were, what changes in children's reading habits now in comparison with your own childhood; what about the condensed, movie, TV and comic book presentations of the classics; what affect TV has on reading, especially among the poorer classes; and what reading suggestions members have for children.

Each moderator presented the conclusions agreed upon in her group.
