The '56 Theme Is "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Key To Better Living"

All this week The Transylvania Times joins with the press of the nation in the observance of National Newspaper week.

This is a time for readers of newspapers, and more particularly those who do not read newspapers, to consider the theme "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Key to Better Living".

And again this year the newspapers are stressing the fact that the press fights for "your right to know".

These words emphasize the role the newspapers play as bearers of ideas and communicators of information in today's complex society.

Highlighting the local observance of National Newspaper week, the Transylvania Times is conducting an essay contest in Brevard and Rosman high schools.

The theme of the contest will be the same as that of the observance, "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Key to Better Living" and Publisher Ed M. Anderson urges all interested students to submit an essay of not more than 500 words to their English teachers on or before Friday, October 12th.

First prize in the contest will be $15.00, second, $10.00, and third, $5.00.

Publisher Anderson also invites readers of The Times to peruse with interest the articles and editorials in The Times this week and next on "National Newspaper week."

Richards Named To District Post

Jack Richards, coach at Rosman high school was elected vice president of the social studies group at the district meeting of the NCEA in Asheville.

VOTE POSTPONED FROM SEPTEMBER DUE TO CONFLICT

With Passage Of Measure, Modern Building Program Will Go Forward

BOOKS TO OPEN

The Transylvania board of county commissioners is calling a special school bond election in the amount of $647,000 on Saturday, December 8th.

The election had been previously called for September 8th, but was postponed because of the state-wide election on that date on the North Carolina constitutional amendments.

After the date had been set for the local election, the General Assembly ruled that no election could conflict with the state-wide amendment vote.

If the school bond election is approved by Transylvania voters, the $647,000, with other funds which the board of education might have on hand, will be used to erect a new and modern high school here and also to carry forward a complete school building program throughout Transylvania.

At this time construction is progressing on a new school building at Quebec and a new gymnasium at Rosman.

The same books that are used in the general election will be used for the school bond vote, and registration will open on Saturday, November 10th, for the school bond election.

George Shuford, chairman of the board of elections, states today that registration for the General election on November 6th will begin on October 13th. It will continue on the two following Saturdays, and November 3rd will be challenge day.
