The pastor, Rev. Douglas Corriher, officiated, and he was assisted by the District Superintendent J. W. Fitzgerald. Representatives of the church and college also participated on the brief program.

PRESIDENTS OF MANY GROUPS TO AID IN CAMPAIGN

Industries Endorse Building Program. Dinner Meeting Is Held

RAMSEY IS CHAIRMAN

A special campaign, to promote the successful passage of the $687,000 school bond issue in Transylvania on Saturday, December 8th, was launched at a meeting of the Transylvania Citizens School Bond committee Tuesday night at the Ecusta Paper corporation.

The committee, composed of more than 50 heads of various organizations of Transylvania, is headed by Ralph H. Ramsey, Jr., county attorney, who presided over the dinner meeting.

On motion by Joseph S. Silversteen, pioneer industrialist in Transylvania, the group voted to back the school bond issue as a body and as individuals.

Plans were made to "get out the vote" in all sections of Transylvania, and a vast amount of publicity material is being distributed.

F. S. Best, a member of the board of education, outlined the need for a modern high school here, and he explained that construction is now underway on the Silversteen gym at Rosman, and the T. C. Henderson school at Quebec is nearing completion.

He further explained that a new high school here, which will be modern in every respect and to contain vocational facilities, needed laboratories, etc., would relieve the overcrowded conditions in the elementary grades in and around Brevard and in lower Transylvania.

December Term Of Superior Court Will Have One Of Heaviest Dockets In Years

Criminal Cases Will Be Heard First Week. Long List Is Announced

The December term of Superior court in Transylvania county will convene on Monday, and the criminal slate is one of the heaviest in the history of the county, Marvin McCall, clerk of court, reports.

Judge P. C. Froneberger, of Gastonia, will preside, and the civil slate will be held during the second week of court.

A majority of the cases are charges of drunk driving and driving with no operator's licenses, the clerk states.

Due to the fact that the summer term of court here was postponed, the December docket is extremely heavy. During the last term of court in Transylvania, only civil cases were heard, and this docket is light this term.

According to the clerk, four persons face rape charges in this term of court. They are James Hendrix, Don Stansel, A. D. Galloway and William Burrell.

Due to the fact there were a number of whiskey raids made during the summer, this contributes to the following large number who

Allocation Made For Paving Scenic Pisgah Motor Road

A special allotment of funds has been made by Governor Luther Hodges for paving the seven-mile link of Pisgah Motor Road from Wagon Road Gap to Elk's Pasture (Cut-Throat Gap) where it will connect with the pavement leading down the mountain to Candler.

The allotment of special funds does not interfere with any quota charged to this county or other counties of Haywood, Henderson and Buncombe which touch on the road. The money comes from a surplus left in the budget for highway work for 1956-57.

The amount of the allocation is $30,000.
