Rambling With The Sports Editor

FROM OLIN MATHIESON NEWS . . . There are a number of employees interested in and enjoying the model railroad hobby. Some railroads are just a simple layout, while others are quite impressive. There are all types of railroads—the tin platers and the model builders. If you are a model railroader, maybe you would like to get in touch with the different employees interested in this hobby. Simply type or print your name, department, and state the gauge which you operate—whether T1, HO, S or O—and send to Alex Duris at the Main Office. Include your home address if you are interested in getting in touch with other hoppers.

MARVELOUS CONDITION . . . If you want to see a "thing of beauty", look over the greens at the Brevard country club. They are beautiful. And many golfers played last week end. Dr. E. O. Roland turned in one of the best scores, shooting almost par golf all the afternoon. Pete Wright and Oliver Orr, who are taking care of the course, say it will be in even better condition this week end and next. Speaking of golf, we're looking forward to playing the new miniature golf course next to the Chatterbox, which opens this week end. Congratulations to the Bramletts on this progressive step, and we predict that it will be popular with townspeople and summer visitors.

Brevard College Will Have Good Baseball Team In 1957

Deyton Gives Round-Up Of Activities, Vacation Now Coming Up

After opening the '57 baseball season at North Greenville on Wednesday, the Brevard college Tornados will take time off for spring holidays, and the next game on the schedule is on April 12th when North Greenville comes here for a return engagement.

L. G. Dayton, who writes for the Clarion sports, the student publication at the local institution, this week gives a round-up of sports activity.

In the first portion of his article he deals with baseball, and then he describes intramural sports and track.

From all indications, Brevard should field a strong team this season despite the fact that they lost several lettermen from last year's team. Observers of the practices are very optimistic about our chances in the conference this year.

Because of the weather, Coach Martin has had very few opportunities to give his boys workouts on the field but he has had his pitchers working in the gym since the end of basketball season.

Gil Coan, a former major league star has been assisting Coach Martin with the team and he has given the boys many helpful tips.

Brevard's first home game does not come until April 15, when they play the Mars Hill Lions in a single game.

Women's Intramurals

Until now, due to lack of information, women's intramural sports have not been included in the Clarion.

The Honorary Field Hockey Team includes such stars as: Lois Gamble, Eunice Jones, Betty Bradley, Audrey Honeycutt, Barbara Davis, Sarah Middleton, Jane Allred, Sarah Fortune, Louise McTaggart and Laverne Sweeney.

Carolyn Reed won the Hockey Stick award this year.

In basketball, the Euterpeans nosed out the Nemors for first place, with the freshmen and sophomores finishing in that order. Girls making the All-Star team were: Sarah Fortune, Mary Mullis, Louise McTaggart, Murna Fisher, Barbara Davis, Sandra Mask, and Lois Gamble.

The free-throw contest was won by Maray Ellen Coffey.

Volleyball intramurals and also the individual sports such as tennis and badminton are due to begin in the near future.

Track

Although the track team isn't completely organized yet, several of the young men on the campus have been working out on the athletic field in order to get in shape for the first track meet which will be held at North Greenville on April 27.

The track schedule is as follows:
April 27 ---- At North Greenville
May 1 ---- At Mars Hill
May 6 ---- At Lees McRae
May 11 ---- Conference Meet at Mars Hill
