Rambling With The Sports Editor

GOOD FISHING . . . Hal Cartwright says he is having "good fishing" over at his lake. Last week end Henry Carr hooked a two and one-quarter pound rainbow, which was 18 inches long. Bill Stroup caught a 17-inch rainbow, and the catches of the 80 some persons on Sunday were also good.

SWELL ARTICLE . . . Nancy Maples, who is well known in golfing circles in the Carolinas, has a marvelous article entitled, "The Golf Swing", in Golf World, noted sports publication. Nancy has taught at Camp Illahee for several years and each summer she plays one or more exhibitions on the Brevard links. From the introductory remarks about the article, we quote: "Having noticed this petite young lady hit a ball consistently afar and score well, GOLF WORLD asked her to describe how she does it and how others can do it. She is the daughter of Palmer Maples, pro at Benvenue Country club, Rocky Mount, who started Harvie Ward, national amateur champion, in golf and developed various other able players." At a later date, we plan to reprint the article.

INTERESTING STORY . . . In digging through the history of athletics in Transylvania county, which is now being prepared for publication at a later date, we discovered that back in 1924 Brevard high school's baseball team had an undefeated season. You might be interested in knowing who composed the line-up during that historical spring season. Lewis Osborne, now county accountant, was the catcher, and Anthony Trantham, local businessman, was the pitcher. Philip Price was at first; Ranger Edwin English at second; Aiteen Cloude, short-stop; Arthur Bryson, third base; Burrell Daniels, rightfield; Gerald Sitton, of post office fame, at center; and Wallace Foster was in left-field.

Trout Fishing Season To Open On The 6th Of April

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the '57 trout fishing season in the Pisgah National Forest, Ranger Ted Seely states.

The season opens on Saturday, April 6th, and a record number of fishermen is expected.

A heavy stocking program has been carried on this year, the ranger says, and fishing should be good.

Rules and regulations, similar to those in previous years, have been worked out by the US Forest Service and the North Carolina Wildlife Resources commission.

All fishermen are required to present their catch of fish for inspection at checking station at the end of each day's fishing. Fishermen will be required to leave their special trout licenses at the checking station. These licenses will be returned when they check out.

Creel limit: Ten fish per day. Fish of any size may be retained in the creel.
