LEADER OF ELKS URGES FLYING OF FLAGS ON FRIDAY

Dry Cleaners Have Been Cooperating By Free Cleaning Stars And Stripes

Being a patriotic as well as a benevolent organization, all lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks have observed Flag day each year since 1907 by holding a service to which the public is invited and by a special showing of the colors.

As in past years, Exalted Ruler Frank Farrell of the Brevard Lodge No. 1768 again urges a community-wide demonstration of loyalty to flag and country on Flag Day, June 14, by flying the Stars and Stripes in commemoration of the 180th anniversary of the flag's adoption by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

The Elks' leader appeals to all civic, fraternal and patriotic groups in the community to fly the flag on its birthday as "an effective way of reaffirming our belief in the American tradition of freedom and self-government."

Flag services of Brevard Lodge No. 1768 were held in conjunction with the regular meeting on Tuesday.

Legislative Round-Up

Adjournment Wednesday Morning Ends Busy Session, Local Measure Passes

Brevard Music Foundation To Get $15,000. Summary Is Given

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

As one of the final actions of the North Carolina General Assembly, the Brevard Music Foundation, Inc., will receive $15,000 from the state's general fund provided in a bill passed Tuesday.

The legislators adjourned at 11:29 a. m. Wednesday morning.

The appropriations bill for the local institution was introduced by Rep. James C. Gaither, of Transylvania, who arrives home today.

The foundation operates both the music camp and the festival here. The money provided by the measure will be spent on the camp's sewer and water systems and for operating expenses.

Local officials of the foundation expressed elation Tuesday night in the passing of this bill.

A contingent pay plan to give teachers a 16.09 per cent increase if state revenues are sufficient was one of the final important actions of the legislature.

The compromise worked out by a House-Senate conference committee squeaked through the House on a 51 to 48 roll call vote on Monday. Then it was adopted by the Senate on a voice vote.

Under it teachers would get a straight 15 per cent salary increase. They would get the extra 1.09 per cent only if tax collections in the next two fiscal years were sufficient after paying off five million dollars in bonds each year.

Other final action of the solons included a banker-backed bill to change state law concerning the deposit of the State's surplus funds. The new law allows the Governor and the Council of State to place

Tuesday Is The Day

Chamber Of Commerce To Hold One-Day Membership Campaign

Annual membership drive for the Brevard Chamber of Commerce will be held next Tuesday, with Gil Coan as chairman of the drive, it was announced at the meeting Tuesday night.

Solicitors will meet at 8 o'clock that morning at Gaither's for a "dutch" breakfast and go out in pairs to make the canvass, which they hope to complete in one day.

Chairman Coan urges that people meet the solicitors with a "glad hand" and keep in mind that the workers have already paid their memberships for the year, in addition to donating their time for the drive.

Mrs. John Ford, executive secretary, stated that a display of Transylvania county's tourist attractions was being put in Anchor's Department store in Winston-Salem, and that the store was cooperating in directing people to this section for a "See North Carolina First" vacation for its employees and customers.

Report was made that the large sign at Travelers Rest was being repainted and that a sign was being built for the front of the office on East Main street in the

Local Man Will Make Trip To Europe If Plane Reservations Can Be Made

Brevard's famous archer, O. Smathers, who holds a nation-wide reputation, might have an opportunity to increase his fame on a world-wide scale.

Last week end, Mr. Smathers tied for second place in the National Elimination tournament at Minneapolis, Minnesota, and if plane reservations can be made, he will fly to Prague in mid-July to participate in the international tournament.

A total of 24 of the leading archers in America participated in the Minneapolis event, and Joe Fries, of Los Angeles, was the first place winner. Sylvester Cressman and Smathers were the runners-up.

Cressman had the highest score during the first day of shooting, and if plane reservations can be made only for two persons, he and Fries will make the trip for the United States.

The Brevard archer has held the state title for some eight years, and when he did not defend it because of the national event last week, his son, Kenny, won the North Carolina title. Smathers has also held the southeastern title for several years, and his daughter, Lynne, is the state women's champ.

LEADERS FROM KENTUCKY HERE

Agricultural Group Visiting Organized Communities. Stop At Local Clubs

Thirty-five agricultural leaders from Kentucky visited Transylvania county Wednesday in a whirlwind tour of Western North Carolina's organized communities with an eye to getting tips on the Community Development program.

The group, which spent only Tuesday and Wednesday in the area, lunched in Brevard and then journeyed to Dunn's Rock and Cedar Mountain communities. They were accompanied by Morris McGough, executive secretary with the Asheville Agricultural Council.

At the luncheon Wednesday John D. Smith, from Balsam Grove community, explained the sponsor organization and how the cash prizes are set up in the Transylvania program. Bill Garmon, assistant county agent, presided and introduced special guests.

In both the communities visited the group was interested mainly in two things: How they were originally organized and how they have raised family income.

In Kentucky at the present time only three "Pilot" counties have organized community development, but more are being planned.

Farm Bureau Will Have Picnic Next Tuesday Evening

The annual Farm Bureau picnic will be held next Tuesday, June 18th, at 7:30 o'clock at the Brevard high school.

According to the president, Charles Osborne, an interesting program, with a humorous speaker for the occasion, is being arranged. He cordially invites all Farm Bureau members to attend.
