DISAPPOINTED . . . Football fans in Transylvania are naturally disappointed because the Blue Devils are not '57 Blue Ridge conference champions. Their overall record is better; their offensive power greater; and, their star players more outstanding. Brevard averaged some 26 points per game, while their opponents had only a touch-down average. This record is one of the best in North Carolina high school football this season, and local fans believe that Brevard could make a better showing against Murphy and down state. But as Baxter Morris said on WPNF on Tuesday morning, "That's the way that square ball bounces."

WIN TICKETS . . . Charles Bradburn and Mike Clark are the winners of tickets to the Co-Ed theatre in our football contest this week. Both boys had nine winners out of the 11 games listed, and Charles missed the actual score of the Brevard - Enka game by only six points. He receives four tickets, while Mike, who had a score prediction that was nine points off, will get three by stopping in at The Times office. Four other persons had nine winners and they receive honorable mention. Their score prediction was not as close as the two winners. They were as follows: L. C. Poor, 26-6; Diane Allen, 27-12; Mrs. Leon McCall, 26-13; and, Terry Owen, 33-13.

ENTER TODAY . . . Another big contest is planned this week. Before you put the paper down, try your luck. All you have to do is to guess the score of the Canton-Murphy game and to pick the winners of the other games listed. Bring your entry by The Times not later than 5:00 o'clock Friday afternoon. Remember, the first place winner gets four tickets to the Co-Ed theatre, while three will go to the second place winner.

Moody, Pickelsimer And Lowery Are Stars In Game Played At Canton

BY BAXTER MORRIS

Brevard's Blue Devils finished the regular '57 football season last Friday night by rolling over Enka's Jets to the tune of 19-0 at Canton.

Leading 7-0 after two periods of play, the Blue Devils opened up in the second half and completely baffled the Jets with a hard-charging line and several keen secondary watchdogs.

After receiving the opening kick-off, the Jets were forced to punt, and Brevard took over on its own 10-yard line.

After three plays and needing two yards for a first down, Brevard gambled and sent Phil Moody crashing through the line for five yards. From that point, the Blue Devils marched to the goal line to score, with Charles Winchester carrying over from the two. Cecil Lowery kicked the extra point.

Walter McCullough, Enka's deceptive quarterback, kept his team's hopes alive with beautiful handoffs to his halfbacks who carried to the Brevard 10-yard line. But this drive came to a screeching halt when Moody intercepted a pass.

As the half ended, Brevard was marching toward the Enka goal, but the clock ran out before the locals could score again.

Brevard made two serious threats in the opening moments of the third period, but the drives were halted by fumbles in Enka territory.

Late in the third period, Jerry Cabe, who played a beautiful game on defense, broke through to block a punt of Jerry Ensley, and Winchester recovered on the Enka 45. Pickelsimer tried a long pass that was incomplete and on the next play, Moody literally bulldozed his way through the middle of the En-

Conference Coaches Vote In Favor Of Canton Over Brevard

Five Ballots Necessary On Monday Night In Asheville. Suggestions Noted

Canton's Black Bears were victorious twice during the '57 football season over the local Blue Devils, once on the field by the score of 9-7, and again Monday night by a vote of 6-4 by the coaches in the Blue Ridge conference.

But the coaches had to ballot on five occasions before declaring Canton the conference champs.

The final vote came after Brevard's coach, "Buffalo" Humphries and Canton's Boyd Allen had left the room in order to permit the other coaches to weigh the pros and cons in the matter.

The first two votes of the night ended in 5-5 deadlocks. The third favored Canton 5-4 with one representative casting a blank ballot. However, Brevard challenged the legality of the vote and the constitution upheld Brevard on the technicality.

A fourth ballot again showed the
