Approval Said Given To Site For Army Reserve Research Center In Brevard

BREVARD'S BAND GIVEN SUPERIOR RATING IN FINALS

County Musicians Highly Applauded At Festival In Greensboro

BY JOHN ANDERSON Editor

Brevard high school has a superior band. This is not just the thinking of this newspaper editor or the citizens of the community who dug down in their pockets and gave $689 to pay the band's expenses to the state finals last week end in Greensboro.

But it was also the decision of the out-of-state judges at the festival in which 69 North Carolina bands competed.

Brevard citizens can be justly proud of the 50-piece band here.

The showing of the local youth-boys and girls made was far superior to that of the much larger bands which also performed on the beautiful campus of the Women's college at Greensboro.

And the judges thought so, too, because they gave a superior rating only to Brevard that morning, and other groups performing included Hendersonville, High Point, Burlington, Charlotte, Cherryville.

IS LOCATED OFF FRENCH BROAD & JOHNSON STREETS

Three Units Qualify Town For Armory. Funds Being Appropriated

SHUFORD ADVISES

A four-acre site in Brevard has been approved for an Army research center, Congressman George Shuford advises today.

The tract of land, which is ideally situated on the south side of French Broad street and the east side of Johnson, is owned by Mrs. A. A. Towers, and it was recently inspected by a delegation from the U. S. Army, headed by Lt. Col. Lee James, of Asheville.

Having three reserve units, Brevard meets the qualifications for an armory, and some two years ago, congress appropriated $60,000 for this project if a site could be acquired.

More than 100 men are included in the three units here, which are: Batteries A and B of the 316th Field Artillery, and the 326th Chemical company.

Two fulltime men, Sgt. Jack L. Bowers and Specialist Dennis J. Davis, are connected with the local reserve units. The groups now meet each week in the Pickelsimer building on Caldwell street, which was formerly occupied by Du Pont.

Congressman Shuford reported that the new Army reserve center could be quite an asset to Brevard and that his office is pushing early construction of it.

He expressed appreciation for community support of the project.

TOWN TO OPEN POOL AND PARK

Recreational Facilities Being Repaired. Will Clean Grounds

The town board of aldermen announces today that the municipal pool and Franklin park will be open this summer.

The opening date is tentatively set for the first week in June and prior to that time, the various recreational facilities will be repaired and the grounds will be cleaned.

The board appreciated the fact that the Brevard Jaycees had offered to operate the park and pool this summer, but the aldermen were unable to enter into a long-range lease with projected expenditures.

With the expense of building a four-lane highway from the city limits into the heart of Brevard in cooperation with the state and with other increased costs starting them in the face, the aldermen reported that $1,500 was as much as they could allocate for this project at this time.

In making the new budget, they had hoped to include the $2,000 the Jaycees had requested if money was available.
