Pisgah National Forest Is Overflowing With Visitors Each Week End

INQUIRIES ARE UP

With the opening of pre-sessions at several of Transylvania's summer camps and with the Pisgah National forest overflowing each week end with sightseers and picnickers, all indications point to a banner '58 tourist season in Brevard and Transylvania county.

Operators of most of the county's 15 organized summer camps report that they are filled for the summer. In all, more than 2,000 boys and girls from all parts of Eastern America are expected here.

Mrs. John Ford, the executive secretary of the chamber of commerce, says that more inquiries are being received than ever before. The office is open all day, and she welcomes the opportunity to serve residents and visitors.

More than 150 persons are now attending the first session of the American Red Cross Aquatic school at beautiful Camp Carolina, with Mitchell Kirkland directing. The school closes on Friday, and Carolina will begin its regular camping season on June 17th.

Pre-camp sessions are now being held at Camp Illahee and at Rockbrook camp. Gay Valley Camp and Camp Sky Top open on June 16th, and High Rocks and Camp Keystone open the following day.

Several conferences are slated this summer at Brevard college, and at the present time a large number is attending a meeting of the Spiritual Life group.

Increase Noted In Number Of Break-Ins In Town, County, Sheriff, Chief Quoted

Summer Residences Are Entered. Many Auto Wheels And Tires Taken

By STAFF WRITER

Brevard and Transylvania law enforcement officers are becoming alarmed at the sharp increase in the number of petty larcenies in the town and county.

However, this situation is not peculiar to this section, as there seems to be a general wave of break-ins across the state and in the nation. Statistics reveal that this is always true during periods of recessions.

Sheriff E. V. "Scott" Dillingham said it would be extremely difficult to estimate the number of tires and wheels that have been stolen off automobiles. Siphoning of gas is another "overpracticed" offense, he states.

In asking for public cooperation in nabbing offenders the sheriff cautions that persons buying tires and wheels that have been stolen are as liable as the thief himself. Prompt report of suspicious characters as well as incidences of theft will be appreciated by the sheriff.

A freak robbery occurred this week in the Gloucester section of Transylvania, when the bee gums of Rufus Woods were stolen. One of the gums was filled with live bees.

Several summer homes have been broken into recently, and Sheriff Dillingham urges the public not to buy articles that could have been stolen from these residences. These include furniture, radios, canned goods, etc.

Police Chief Paul Fisher reports that his department is now investigating.
