World Premiere Slated Friday At The Music Center, Week Of Concerts Set

REVIEW MADE OF MOZART REQUIEM, SET THIS SUNDAY

David Glasmire To Be Featured On Trombone With Symphony Orchestra

ARTISTS LISTED

The Mozart Requiem to be presented at Brevard Music center on the first program of the "Festival Week of Music," August 3 at 4 p. m., has many legends attached to it.

It has been the subject of heated controversy in the musical world for many years. Among the many things that musicologists find fascinating in this solemn masterpiece is the solo usually played by the trombone.

The original score designated this solo for the baritone horn, and that is the way it will be heard at Brevard.

James Christian Pfohl and David S. Glasmire, trombonist with the Orchestra of the Faculty and Staff, were in complete agreement that this is the instrument that should be used.

The exquisite solo called "Tuba Mirum" creates a feeling of great

A world premiere, a noted young violinist and an outstanding tenor are on the concert program for music lovers at Brevard Music center, Friday and Saturday nights, August 1st and 2nd.

On Friday night's program, Joan Field, violinist, will be presented. Miss Field, one of America's illustrious violinists, makes her home in Florida. She has appeared many times in recital in New York's Carnegie and Town Halls and has been heard with major symphony orchestras throughout the land, including the New York Philharmonic, Detroit, St. Louis and Miami Symphonies. Among her distinguished teachers was the great Albert Spalding, who took her to Europe. While in Paris, she studied with Jacques Thibaud and Georges Enesco. Miss Field will appear with the Orchestra of the Faculty and Staff.

Also on Friday night, "Homer in Cuernavaca," a symphony for orchestra and two solo voices by Serge Saxe, will be heard for the first time since its composition under the direction of James Christian Pfohl, with the Orchestra of the Faculty and Staff and featuring Phyllis and Perry Daniels, soprano and baritone. The text for this work, chosen by Mr. Saxe, is a cycle of sonnets by Alfonso Reyes, outstanding poet, philosopher, and essayist of Mexico, who is considered the outstanding man of letters in the Spanish-speaking world today. He was an official candidate for the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1956. The sonnets are based on Homer's Iliad interpreted in the

Much Speculation Here Concerning Successor To Congressman Shuford

Meeting Slated In Bryson City Thursday. Local Delegates Uncommitted

There's much speculation in Brevard and Transylvania county as to the successor to Congressman George Shuford, who resigned on Sunday due to the condition of his health.

Transylvania's delegates on the 20-member committee which will name the congressional nominee on Thursday at Bryson City are uncommitted.

Thomas R. Eller, who has been named secretary of the committee, was also appointed as chairman of the sub-committee, setting up rules of procedure for the meeting.

Mr. Eller says he has not committed himself in any way to the candidates openly seeking the nomination from the 12th congressional district.

Transylvania's other delegate, Mrs. Fred McCall, Jr., told The Times Wednesday at noon that she has not decided for whom she is going to vote.

"It is a responsible job, and I plan to vote the way I think the women of Transylvania would want me to," Mrs. McCall said.

The two most talked about candidates in the 12th district seem to be Asheville's City Manager J. Weldon Weir, and Heinz Rollman, wealthy Waynesville industrialist, who waged a colorful, free-spend-ing unsuccessful campaign against Congressman Shuford last May.

Others named are Monroe M. Redden Jr., of Hendersonville, son of a former 12th District Congressman, and Dave M. Hall of Sylva in Jackson County, former state senator.

A compromise nominee possibly could arise from a number of others mentioned in connection with the office. Former State Sen. Frank

Appeals To Public

District Meeting Of Jaycees Successful, State Prexy Here

Jaycees from all over Western North Carolina converged on Brevard last Friday night to welcome state president Marvin W. Koonce, Jr., of Raleigh, to this section of the state.

A large group was on hand to greet the young Raleigh civic and business leader and hear the three-phase challenge that he offered to the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"We must let the general public know more of our activities if we are to achieve our main goal of civic improvement," Koonce stated.

Driver Training Class Begins At School August 7th

The next Driver Education class at Brevard high school will begin on August 7th for all youths of ages 14½ and older.

The classes are being taught by Marshall Teague and Coach Buffalo Humphries.

Classes are from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m., and from 12 noon till 6 p. m., daily. The state requires 30 hours in the classroom and six hours behind the wheel.

The teachers point out that taking the course helps in bringing down the premium for liability insurance.

The car used is dual control equipped and is a free loan from McCrary Auto Co.

Any students desiring to enroll in the course are invited to do so.

"If we do not utilize the media of our local newspapers, radio and television stations to inform our citizens of our projects and endeavors, then we cannot expect the public to respond when we have these projects. If the people are informed, they will back you up in everything that you undertake."

The second challenge was issued when Koonce called for an increase in membership. He made it clear that no young man will join the Jaycees unless the local club has something to offer him.

"Actually," he stated, "no young man joins the Jaycees. He becomes one."

The third part of the challenge was a call for a planned program of

Aldermen, Commissioners Adopt Budgets For '58-'59

The town board of aldermen and the county board of commissioners this week adopted budgets for 1958-59 at special call meetings.

The budgets had been approved earlier this month and were open for public inspection for a period of 21 days.

Both the tax rates, $1.45 for the town and $1.55 for the county, will remain the same.

The budget estimate for the county for the coming year is $1,415,661.00, and the estimated valuation is 24 million.

The budget for the town of Brevard totals $204,029.79, and the valuation of the town is over five million dollars.

Both the town and the county ended the past year "in the black", with all bills paid.

Charles Taylor Named Historian Of State Office Of 4-H At Meeting

Charles Taylor, long active in 4-H work in the county, was elected to the state office of historian at 4-H week held last week at N. C. State college, Raleigh.

This was one of four elective offices in the state organization.

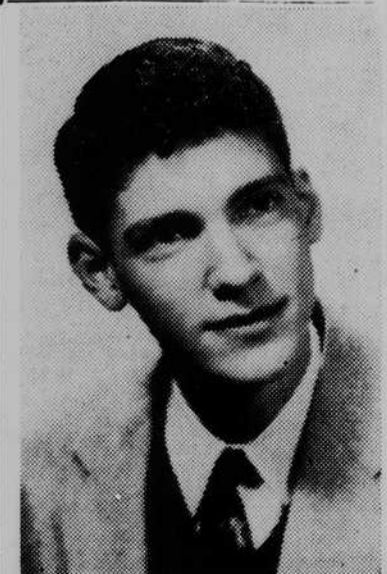

Taylor also teamed with Melvin Merrill to win second place in the Poultry Production for the state contest.

Winning first place in their Farmers Cooperative demonstration were Taylor and Floyd McCall.

Judy Mims won third place in the state health contest.

The Transylvania delegation was accompanied to 4-H week by Miss Anne Benson Priest, home agent, and Bill Garmon, assistant county agent. They both expressed pleasure over the showing that the Transylvania delegation showed, and

Event Is Planned In The Brevard High School Auditorium. Cast Given

The Brevard Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring their annual "Jaycee Jollies" at the Brevard high school auditorium this Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:00 o'clock. Tickets are available from all local Jaycees.

The theme of this year's production is patterned after several of the big network television shows, including the Bob Cummings show and the Perry Como show.

Practices have been held for several weeks in preparation for the initial performance on Friday night. Many local citizens and organizations have been very generous in giving their time and talent to help the Jaycees this year.

The first act of the Jollies, based on the Bob Cummings Show, concerns the events surrounding a visit by Grampa Collins to Hollywood. The local version of the usual models are on hand to add spice to the mixed-up situation that develops when Bob reprimands Gramps for taking his girl friends.

Bob's sister, Margaret, holds the key to the solution of Bob's problems, but she fails to do more than add to his misery as the curtain closes.

The cast includes Pat Fuleihan

ASC Chairman Urges Farmers Join Program

Transylvania county farmers who make full use of the 1958 Agricultural Conservation program to control erosion and to stockpile soil reserves will make a substantial contribution to the nation's future security and well-being.

Marvin W. Whitmire, chairman of the Transylvania county ASC committee, points out that soils have to be kept in condition to respond when the need arises. "Land that has been overworked and underfed is unable to respond when it is needed."

"Although there is no need now to increase the acreage of certain crops, there is a definite need to take advantage of this favorable food situation to continue stock-
